Step 1: Assess Yourself

Create a list of:
- What you enjoy doing
- Your academic strengths
- Your passion
- What type of activities you are involved in
- Aspects of previous jobs that you have enjoyed

Utilize an online assessment tool: FOCUS 2 (http://www.ccsu.edu/csc/focus2.html) and meet with a Career Coach.

Step 2: Research

Once you have a great understanding of yourself and your characteristics, you then to research what majors will allow you to embellish on those skills. If possible, take a variety of classes. Research is a necessary step to discover all the options and avoid limiting yourself.

Attend the Major & Minor Fair, network with academic departments, faculty, family, and friends, research through the undergraduate catalog, visit www.candidcareer.com, and make an appointment with your Career Coach and academic adviser.

Step 3: Evaluate and Make a Decision by 30-45 Credits

Narrow down your options to your top 5. Create a list with your pros and cons of each major. During this step, you should also take into consideration your career goal and what major will lead you to that. Consider taking a class in multiple areas before making a final decision.

Attend the Major & Minor Fair, search “What Can I do with My major?” (http://www.ccsu.edu/csc/whatcanidowithamajorin/), get involved throughout campus, and complete your “What If” analysis.

Step 4: Declare your Major

Meet with your Academic Advisor to discuss the criteria for acceptance into the department and requirements to complete your degree. If after taking classes, you decide to reconsider your major, return to step 3.

Step 5: Career Planning

Once you have chosen a major, you want to ensure that you continue with your career planning efforts. This could include:
- Informational interviews with professionals
- Remaining engaged with the FOCUS 2 program
- Continuously meeting with a Career Coach
Job Search

STEP 1: Assess Yourself and Identify Career Options
Places to begin:

- Career Advising: Meet with a Career Coach, attend Career & Internship Fair, attend on-campus interview, and update/create your College Central profile.
- Search the Internet: Visit http://www.ccsu.edu/csc for suggested links and tips to increase your chance for success.
- Department of Labor: Visit your state jobs services office.

STEP 2: Develop Your Resume & Perfect Your Interviewing Skills

- View resume samples/tips in this handbook to revise your resume and meet with a Career Coach to get a 1:1 review of your document.
- Post your resume to College Central Network to be able to apply for certain positions.
- Your resume can get you the interview, but your interview gets you the job.
- Schedule an appointment with Career Advising to do a mock interview.
- Always dress professionally to an interview.
- Review the interviewing section of this handbook will help you prepare.

STEP 3: Apply for Positions and Keep Records

- Set Goals, such as: how many resumes you will send each week, number of networking connections to contact each day, and how much time you spend each week finding positions you will apply for.
- Create a job search journal or excel spreadsheet: Record all positions applied for, documents sent, and contact person.
- Treat all gatekeepers (receptionists, office assistants, and secretaries) with respect and remember information they gave you during any conversation.

STEP 4: Monitor, Improve, and Stay Motivated

- Evaluate your progress and improve your resume, interviewing, and networking skills.
- The demonstration of self-confidence, compatibility, high energy, and enthusiasm are key characteristics that hiring managers seek in new employees.
- Once you secured your new position, keep your resume up to date and remain in contact with your network.
- The job search process will continue as you apply for promotions and advance your career.

TIPS

- Ask for help when needed.
- Manage your image on/off line.
- Create a professional email address.
- Change your resume to fit the position you are applying for.
- Highlight key components of the job description and be sure your resume reflects those skills.
- Phone interviews: Find a quiet place, have your resume available, smiling will come through your voice on the phone.
- Remain confident and positive!
What is a Resume?

- A brief written summary of your experiences, academic preparation, skills, and accomplishments.
- Introduces you to potential employers.
- Usually reviewed for 30 seconds or less, must make a dynamic first impression.
- A marketing tool designed to create an image and get you an interview.

This handbook contains a sample of a resume. We encourage you to discuss with your Career Coach what would best represent your unique skills and qualifications. You may choose to blend categories from several of the available samples, but be sure to adjust the formatting so that the resume maintains a consistent appearance. The resume samples are also available online at www.ccsu.edu/csc.

TIPS

- Do not fold or staple your resume.
- Font size: between 11-12. Adjust based on length of resume.
- Use the same font size and type throughout the content of your document. Only your name and subtopics should be in a larger font.
- Use bolding, italics, capitalization, or underlining to highlight valuable information.
- Do not write your resume in the first person singular and omit personal pronouns (I, me, my, etc).
- Use brief phrases beginning with action verbs to describe job responsibilities.
- Highlight accomplishments and emphasize results you have achieved by including numbers, e.g., supervised 10 volunteers; developed campus club budget of $50,000.
- Use professional email address or university email if still a student.
- Tailor your resume for each position.
- Be honest.
- Proofread!
Networking

How to Network:

Join a Professional Organization
- Journals, newsletters, and websites with valuable, up-to-date information about your specific field.
- Reduced membership rates for college students.
- Attend conferences at reduced rates.

Conduct Informational Interviews
- Ask for approximately 20 minutes to find out more about a job you aspire to from someone who does it.
- Prepare your questions ahead of time.
- Send a thank you note.

Use Social and Professional Networking Sites
- Keep your online profiles clean and professional.
- Some recruiters use Facebook and Twitter for recruiting, or try LinkedIn for professional networking.
- Don’t be afraid to reach out to others online.

Join Campus and Community Clubs and Organizations
- Learn about industry trends.
- Network with other students and professionals.
- Attend events related to your career field.
- Trade tips with your peers.

Volunteer in Your Community
- You can build houses, help at a food pantry, or find volunteer work at the CCSU Community Engagement Office that will help you develop specific skills needed in your chosen field.
- Treat your commitment like it is a paid position.

Every Person You Meet
- Talk to friends and family, ask them to refer you to others they know who work in your field of interest.
- Talk to people when you are out and about, in the grocery store or at a family member’s athletic event.

Do’s and Don’ts to Networking

DOs
- Report back to anyone who gives you a lead.
- Be professional
- Contact members of your network even when you don’t need something, for example to keep them updated on your progress or send a non-denominational holiday card.
- Ask when giving someone’s name to another member of your network.
- Write down something about each person you meet on the back of their card to help you remember them.
- Send thank you notes

DON’TS
- Be afraid to ask for what you need
- Be discouraged if you are brushed off
- Stop networking once you find a job
- Attend an interview without questions to ask
- Pass up opportunities to network

Ms. Jane Smith
Vice President
XYZ Publishing
555 Fifth Avenue
New York, NY 10001

Dear Ms. Smith,

I am writing to express my interest in the XYZ position that you posted through XYZ University’s Center for Career Education. I will be receiving my Bachelor of Arts degree with specialization in English in May 2018. My academic background and recent internship experience have prepared me well for this position at XYZ. I am particularly enthusiastic about the job opening at XYZ as I am strongly interested in academic publishing.

Throughout my education and internship experience, I have acquired extensive training in extensive writing and editing experience. As an intern at Random House, I fact-checked manuscripts, proofread galleys, and worked closely with editors. For the past year, I have been the News Editor of the Columbia Spectator student newspaper after serving as Food Critic during the previous year. In these roles, I wrote numerous original articles and edited the writing of my staff. In addition, publishing a daily paper taught me how to work as part of a team to reach a common goal under deadline pressure.

Working as an Editorial Assistant will allow me to apply the literary knowledge and communication skills I developed through my college coursework. As an English major I read a broad range of literature and have written creative, critical, and theoretical papers on a wide variety of topics. I believe that the writing, research, and editorial skills I developed through my education in the classroom and in the field will enable me to make a strong contribution to XYZ.

The chance to contribute to XYZ, a university that I have grown a sincere interest in working for, is very exciting to me. I know that XYZ has recently experienced a period of tremendous growth, and I look forward to working for a wonderful campus and population of students. If you have any questions, please contact me at (860)832-1615 or Careers@ccsu.edu. Thank you for your time and consideration. I look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Russ A. May

Tips

- Try to address to a specific person, if that is not possible, ‘Dear Hiring Manager,’ is acceptable.
- Use resume paper for your cover letter.
- Cover letters should be written for each job you apply for. Research the organization and make connections between your skills and the company’s needs.
- Keep it to one page by using concise language and an active voice. Make it memorable.
- Contact section should match what you have on your resume.
- Don’t simply repeat what you have said in your resume.
- Proofread!!

Tips

- 3-5 references: Be sure to ask permission before adding them to your list.
- Include: reference title, work address, contact information.
- Find the right references: those who can attest to your qualifications and abilities as they relate to the job that you are applying for.
- Bring your references to your interview.
- Contact section should match what you have on your resume.
- When you secure a position, send a thank you note to your references and include where you were hired.
Interviewing Skills

The interview process is the most critical aspect of obtaining a position. No matter how good one looks on paper, a positive first impression is still crucial!

Before

1. Know Yourself:
   - What are your skills, accomplishments, experience, goals?
   - Identify 5-10 work/school experiences that demonstrate who you are.
   - Complete FOCUS.

2. Know the Employer:
   - Research key information
   - Review the responsibilities you are applying for
   - Utilize JOBSs to review the company profile and visit prospective company websites

3. Practice
   - Meet with a Career Coach for a mock interview
   - Prep! Be aware of questions that may be asked
   - Know the skills you possess for specific position

4. Make a Good Impression:
   - Always dress professionally
   - Be well groomed
   - Simple jewelry, perfume, cologne
   - Bring a portfolio with a pad and pen

During

1. Be Prompt and Prepared
   - Arrive 10-15 minutes early
   - Turn OFF your electronics
   - Firm handshake and smile
   - Bring extra copies of your resume and references

2. Answering the Questions
   - Answer thoroughly, yet concisely
   - Speak slowly and clearly
   - Be honest
   - Smile, be enthusiastic, and ask meaningful questions

3. Closing
   - Be prepared with your closing statement to reiterate your interest
   - Ask questions!
   - Initial interview is NOT the time to ask about salary
   - Thank the interviewer(s) and ask for a business card

After

- Send thank you note - formal response. Use a card/note paper
- Begin evaluating if this job is right for YOU
- Prepare for potential salary negotiations by researching salary information. The NACE salary calculator is an excellent resource.
Professional Dress: Women

DRESS THE PART

LONG HAIR
Long hair is fine, when it is styled correctly. An employer should never wonder if you own a comb or if you know how to use one!

LOOP DE LOOP
Earrings can give an outfit the extra pop, but in this case it is more of a blast, blowing away your opportunity to have a potential employer focus on you and not your earrings.

UNDERGARMENTS
Undergarments should be, just that, under your garments. Employers do not want to see your under clothing peeking through your outfit.

TANK TOP
It may be hot outside, but this tank is only going to burn out your job search. Cover up your assets, front and back.

VISIBLE INK
Every tattoo has a story, but most employers don’t want to hear it. In many cases you don’t know what the tattoo says about you to the employer.

EXCESS’ORIES
Rule of thumb or wrist is to keep it simple and neat. One accessory is the limit.

‘HOLE’Y MOLEY
Although pants with built in air conditioning may be tempting, these pants are screaming to employers, “I took one and my career to the E.R. for emergency resuscitation.”

BTW: When in a skirt a “mini” is too much, around the knee is just right.

CAT FIGHT
Leopard print is a interview no-no especially in a sandal, along with seeing your toes and where they meet. To put your best foot forward it should be in a sock/stocking and a closed toe dress shoe.

NEAT & CLEAN
Your hair should not stand up or out. You will stand out by having a well manicured appearance, combed hair and a smile.

KEEP IT SIMPLE
Jewelry is optional and if you decide to add some glam to your look, the simpler the better. Employers don’t want you to flaunt your bling.

JACKET
A quick way to step up an outfit is to put on a jacket or cardigan. The blouse/short and pants say appropriate, the 3rd piece says professional.

LONG SLEEVE
A long sleeve does a couple of things. It gives you a clean and polished look and hides any creativity asked on your arm.

POLISHED NAILS
Finger nail polish should say 1 thing to an employer 10 times, I am the right person for the job. Stick clear of bright, bold colors. French tips or a neutral color say manicured and professional.

PRESSED PANTS
Preparation is key! Before you put those pants on have them pressed. Throwing them in the dryer doesn’t count!

POLISHED SHOES
The one thing that can ruin the impression of professionalism in a jiffy is foot wear. Stick with dress shoes that are polished and clean.
Professional Dress: Men

DRESS THE PART FOR MEN

NEAT & CLEAN
Your hair should not stand up or out. You will stand out by having a well-manicured appearance, combed hair and a smile.

LONG SLEEVE
A long sleeve does a of couple things. It gives you a clean and polished look and hides any creativity inked on your arm.

TUCKED SHIRT
Although casual is quick and easy, take the time to tuck in that shirt and straighten your button line, so that your shirt, tie and pants are all in alignment.

PRESSED PANTS
Preparation is key! Before you put those pants on have them pressed. Throwing them in the dryer doesn’t count!

LONG HAIR
Long hair is fine, when it is styled correctly. An employer should never wonder if you own a comb or if you know how to use one!

IRONIC TEE
The irony is that this T-shirt is the reason you did NOT get the job, but it does get a laugh... behind your back after you leave.

VISIBLE INK
Every tattoo has a story, but most employers don’t want to hear it. In many cases you don’t know what the tattoo says about you to the employer.

EXCESSORIES
Rule of thumb or wrist is to keep it simple and neat. One accessory is the limit

SHORTS
The only thing shorter than this clothing option are your prospects of getting the job. Showing your “knees” to an employer is the quickest way to “cap” your career success.

“SOCK IT” TO ME
Ankles? No Thanks! To put your best foot forward it should be in a sock and a dress shoe.

BTW, blue & black socks are not the same. So turn on the light before you put them on.

Interview Strategies

After the Interview:

If you do not hear from the employer:
- If you were told by the interviewer that you would hear in a certain time frame and you do not hear from them, it is acceptable to follow-up about the status of your application.
- If you were not told by the interviewer when you would hear from them, politely inquire either by phone or email about the status of your application after TEN business days. Be brief, but be sure to include your full name, date of interview and the title of position you were interviewed for.
- Keep a record of when you spoke with someone, their name and the information they gave you. Do not pester the interviewer.

When another candidate was selected for the position:
- You may want to send a follow-up letter thanking them for the opportunity to interview and if a similar position should open in the future, you would like to have the opportunity to interview again. Always take the high road.

While waiting to hear, do not ignore other job interviews:
- Keep in mind the hiring process may take weeks and sometimes even months.
- While hopefully this will not happen, it is possible that you will not hear anything at all from an employer you interviewed with.
- While getting hired for this position may be a primary focus for you, keep in mind that the recruiter may be busy with other commitments regarding their hiring efforts.
- Remember to relax and take care of yourself! Staying motivated will only make your job search experience more positive and enjoyable.
Prospecting Letter

Dear Mr. Smith,

I have read about your company on Southern Connecticut State University’s JOBSs website, and I would like to inquire about employment opportunities in your management training program. Specifically, I would like to work in business administration as well as live in the New Haven area after graduation.

Not only will I complete a degree in business administration in May, but I also have two years of experience. My communication, organizational and problem solving skills are complimented by a strong work ethic. Whether establishing rapport with clients or speaking to a group, my communication skills receive positive feedback.

On your home page you communicate a strong focus on ethics and serving the community. These are values I possess as well and ones that will make me a natural fit and asset to your company. I will call you the week of April 23 to discuss employment opportunities. In the meantime, please contact me at marylinmonroe@mail.com or (012) 345-6789 to further discuss my qualifications.

Sincerely,

Marylin Monroe

Thank You Letter

Dear Mr. Career,

Thank you very much for interviewing me yesterday for the finance position with ABC Company. I enjoyed meeting you and learning more about your company and the Finance Department.

Meeting with the other staff members was especially enjoyable as was seeing that the kinds of projects they are working on are in line with the type of work I have done in the past. My education, skills, and experience fit nicely with the job requirements, and I am certain that I could make a significant contribution to your company over time.

You provide the kind of opportunity I am seeking, and I want to reiterate my strong interest in the position and in working with you and your staff. Please call me at 203.841.9854 if I can provide you with any additional information.

Again, thank you for the interview and your consideration. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Taylor Smith

Thank You Letter

Dear Mr. Smith,

Dr. Sample White, professor of business administration at Southern Connecticut State University, suggested that I contact you. He thought that as an alum, you would be an excellent person to assist me with a career decision.

As a business administration major, I am exploring which career path to pursue. Marketing, management, finance, and administration all interest me at this point, but I want to go into my campus interviews next semester with a clear sense of direction. I would like to get your advice on the long-term career implications of each path as well as a better understanding of the day-to-day activities.

I will call you next week to see if I can arrange a brief meeting at your convenience. Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Marylin Monroe

Rejecting Offer Letter

Dear Mr. Smith,

Thank you very much for offering me the finance position with ABC Company. It was a difficult decision, but I have accepted a position with another company.

I sincerely appreciate you taking the time to interview me and to share information on the opportunity and your company.

Again, thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Marylin Monroe

Thank You Letter (After Career Fair)

Mr. Mark Appleby
Acme Company
100 Corporate Drive
Stamford, CT 33333

April 9, 20xx

Dear Mr. Appleby:

Thank you for taking the time to speak with me at the SCSU Career Fair today regarding potential positions at Acme Company. I certainly appreciate your time and attention in the midst of so many students seeking jobs. You were extremely thorough in explaining Acme’s customer service and marketing trainee program. Now that I have a better idea of what the position entails, I am even more convinced that I would be an asset to your team and to Acme.

I will be graduating in May with a Bachelor Degree in Business Administration, and have completed two internships in the marketing field. In addition, I have worked my way through college which demonstrates a solid work ethic and determination, two qualities you said were important to success at Acme.

I look forward to an opportunity to speak to you further about the trainee program. Please contact me at your earliest convenience for an interview at 203-555-3926.

Thank you again for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

Professionalism – It is a new level of responsibility as you transition from student to professional. Professionalism is the method you select for interactions with others, displaying your character with a sense of pride, and the standards on which you base your work ethic.

- It is a state of mind.
- It is not what you do, but how you do it.
- It is how you conduct yourself and act on a daily basis.
- It is knowing that you are important and in control of your destiny.
- It is a continual demonstration of respect and trust.
- It is important to always exhibit ethical behavior.

Professionalism includes:
- Your physical appearance with attention to the following details; hair, nails, make-up, and body exposure.
- Dress appropriately, look the part you want to become and acknowledge your style, type and fit of clothing, cleanliness and overall appearance.
- Your attitude conveys many messages via your eyes, facial expressions, body language and disposition.
- Selection of language which would include tone, word usage, and the pitch of your voice will help solidify your overall positive demeanor.
- Do not overlook the value of appropriate cell phone tones, voice messages, computer screen backgrounds, and written correspondence including email.

The main idea behind social networking is to help you create connections with people. If an employer located you on a social networking site you would want your profile to be professional. Social networking sites, if used appropriately, can be beneficial in making connections with prospective employers. Keep in mind it’s not only about what is posted online but when it is posted. The times you are posting messages on your page or friends’ pages can be seen by an employer. Are you posting during work hours when you should be...working? Or at 2 AM? (Nothing good happens on the Internet after midnight)

LinkedIn is geared towards more professional networking. The main idea behind LinkedIn is to help you create connections with people who will either recommend you for a job or help you find one.

When utilizing Facebook, remember to remove questionable content from your profile. Examine your connections and remove tags of yourself from unfavorable content.

If you use Twitter, make sure your bio includes a brief description of your qualifications and what you are looking for. Only tweet in a professional tone or create a separate account for more private content.

Regardless of whether you are tweeting, using LinkedIn, or even in the bathroom or hallway, it is important to maintain your professional image. The foundation you embody must be strong with intent and filled with passion. You are defining not only who you are, but what you expect to achieve.
Beginning Your New Job: 20 Tips

Congratulations, you have just been hired! Now what? Below are some tips to help you as you begin your new job.

1. Choose a mentor. Mentors do not all have to be upper level professionals, someone just one or two levels above you can also serve as a great resource. When choosing a mentor:
   a. Think about your needs and what you’d like your mentor to do for you.
   b. Develop a list of several potential mentors.
   c. Decide how you will approach the prospective mentor(s).
   d. Be prepared to explain why you selected them as a mentor.
2. Always have a positive attitude.
3. Work a full day – be on-time or early, stay a little bit later and be flexible.
4. Understand fully what your company does and where your position fits into the company.
5. Know the company’s culture; be prepared to meet expectations by giving 100%.
6. Be a self-starter and take the initiative on projects; arrive on time to meetings.
7. Asking questions and receiving feedback expands your knowledge of the workplace.
8. Know and respect the email policy of the company you are working at.
9. Do not post any comments (either positive or negative) on any social networking sites about your job or employer.
10. Be patient with yourself, it takes a while for you to learn everything that you need to know.
11. Personalize your work area, but not too personal.
12. Don’t speak ill of current or former boss.
13. Spoken and unspoken office policies are important. How do individuals who have been successful at the organization dress and represent themselves, what personality traits do they have in common?
14. Mistakes will happen; keep them to a minimum, own them, learn from them and move on!
15. Visibility, accountability and responsibility are keys to success!
16. Keep in mind the Five Principles of Ethics: do no harm, make things better, respect others, be fair and be compassionate.
17. Communicate with others and be flexible.
18. Do a self-assessment of yourself. What are your strengths, weaknesses and goals?
20. Set goals and achieve them!

Remember your first year on the job isn’t about changing the world or the corporation landscape at the organization. It is about learning from your job and the organization’s culture as a means of laying the foundation for future success as you build your professional image.
