Any comments regarding the Affirmative Action Plan should be directed to Rosa Rodríguez, Chief Diversity Officer and Title IX Officer of the Office of Diversity and Equity. Ms. Rodríguez is the person designated with the responsibility and authority to administer and monitor our affirmative action program. Employees must submit their comments no later than June 1, 2017, so that the comments can be incorporated into the University's submission of its 2016-2017 Affirmative Action Plan.

The signed copy of the Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity Policy Statement is on file in the Office of Diversity and Equity, Davidson Hall, Room 102. Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact the office at 860-832-1652.
Affirmative Action/Equal Employment Opportunity
Policy Statement

It is the intellectual and moral responsibility, but more importantly, the policy of the leadership of Central Connecticut State University (CCSU) to advance social justice and equity by exercising affirmative action to remove all discriminatory barriers to equal employment opportunity and upward mobility. Accordingly, the University, through this plan of affirmative action, will, with conviction and effort, undertake positively to overcome the present effects of past practices, policies or barriers to equal employment opportunity and to achieve the full and fair participation of women, African-Americans, Hispanics, and any other protected groups (including persons with disabilities) found to be underutilized in the workforce or adversely affected by system policies or practices.

Thus, CCSU will consistently review its personnel policies and procedures to ensure that barriers that unnecessarily exclude protected classes and practices that have an illegal discriminatory impact are identified and eliminated. The University will explore alternative approaches if any personnel practice is found to have a negative impact on protected classes and establish procedures for any extra efforts that may be necessary to achieve labor market parity.

Equal opportunity is employment of individuals without consideration of: age; ancestry; color; gender identity and expression; Intellectual disability; learning disability; mental disability or history thereof; physical disability; marital status, national origin; race; religious creed; sex, including pregnancy, sexual harassment and sexual assault; sexual orientation; criminal record (in-state employment) and genetic information unless the provisions of Sections 46a-60 (b) or 46a-81 (b) of the Connecticut General Statutes are controlling or there is a bona fide occupational qualification excluding persons in one of the above protected groups. Equal employment opportunity is the purpose and goal of affirmative action under Sections 46a-68-31 through 46a-68-74. The University will consistently review all practices and procedures to ensure full compliance with the spirit and letter of Section 46a-68j-21 through 46a-68j-43 of the Administrative Regulations of State Agencies regarding Contract Compliance.

Attached hereto and incorporated herein, are listed federal and state constitutional provisions, laws, regulations, guidelines and executive orders prohibiting or outlawing discrimination and identifying classes of persons protected based on above listed categories.

The role of affirmative action in each step of the employment process with regard to employment applications, job qualifications, job specifications, recruitment practices, hiring, promoting, compensation, personnel policies, job structuring, orientation training, counseling, discrimination complaint process, evaluation, layoffs and termination, or other terms or conditions of employment, is detailed in the following pages and incorporated by reference herein. Clearly affirmative action and equal employment opportunity are immediate and necessary agency objectives for Central Connecticut State University. Additionally, we shall administer all terms, conditions and benefits of employment in an equitable manner. We also recognize the continued under-representation of persons with disabilities and older persons in the workplace, and will pursue and implement measures to overcome the present effects of past discrimination, if any to achieve the full and fair utilization of such persons in the workforce.
This policy of non-discrimination will not be limited to employment practices but will extend, as well, to services and programs provided by the University. It is the policy of Central Connecticut State University that unlawful discrimination be prohibited. Consequently, it shall be a violation of University policy for any member of the University community to discriminate against any individual with respect to any terms, conditions, or privileges relating to employment (including interns) or attendance at the University based on protected class status. Annually, members of the University community will be notified of the Nondiscrimination in Education and Employment policy and about their rights to file an internal and/or external complaint.

All executive, administrative, and supervisory personnel are expected to discharge their affirmative action responsibilities, in word and deed, consistent with this agency's objective of establishing and implementing affirmative action and equal employment opportunity.

The Affirmative Action Officer responsible for overseeing affirmative action and equal employment opportunity is Rosa Rodriguez, Chief Diversity Officer, at Central Connecticut State University, Office of Diversity and Equity, Davidson Hall, Room 102, 1615 Stanley Street, New Britain, CT 06050; Telephone Number: 860.832.0178.

SEXUAL HARASSMENT IS ILLEGAL!

It's prohibited by the CT Discriminatory Employment Practices Act and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and Title IX of the Education Amendment of 1972. The CCSU Sexual Harassment Policy prohibits discrimination in services or benefits based on gender.

Sexual Harassment means "any unwelcome sexual advances or requests for sexual favors or any conduct of a sexual nature."

Examples of Sexual Harassment include:

- Unwelcome sexual advances
- Unwanted hugs, touches, kisses
- Retaliation for complaining about sexual harassment
- Suggestive or lewd remarks
- Requests for sexual favors
- Derogatory or pornographic posters, cartoons, drawings, or e-mail messages.

CCSU policies and Reporting Copies of the University's Sexual Harassment policy and complaint procedure are available from any of these offices or the University's website.

THE LAW

Private Employers, State and Local Governments, Educational Institutions, Employment Agencies and Labor Organizations

Applicants to and employees of most private employers, state and local governments, educational institutions, employment agencies and labor organizations are protected under Federal law from discrimination on the following bases:

RACE, COLOR, RELIGION, SEX, NATIONAL ORIGIN
Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, prohibits applicants and employees from discrimination in hiring, promotion, discharge, pay, fringe benefits, job training, classification, referral, and other aspects of employment, on the basis of race, color, religion, sex (including pregnancy), or national origin. Religious discrimination includes failing to reasonably accommodate an employee's religious practices where the accommodation does not impose undue hardship.

DISABILITY
Title I and Title V of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, as amended, prohibits qualified individuals from discrimination on the basis of disability in hiring, promotion, discharge, pay, fringe benefits, job training, classification, referral, and other aspects of employment. Disability discrimination includes not making reasonable accommodations to the known physical or mental limitations of an otherwise qualified individual with a disability who is an applicant or employee, barring undue hardship.

AGE
The Age Discrimination in Employment Act of 1967, as amended, protects applicants and employees 40 years of age or older from discrimination based on age in hiring, promotion, discharge, pay, fringe benefits, job training, classification, referral, and other aspects of employment.

SEX (WAGES)
In addition to sex discrimination prohibited by Title VIII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, the Equal Pay Act of 1963, as amended, prohibits sex discrimination in the payment of wages to women and men performing substantially equal work, in jobs that require equal skill, effort, and responsibility, under similar working conditions, in the same establishment.

GENETICS
Title II of the Genetic Information Nondiscrimination Act of 2008 protects applicants and employees from discrimination based on genetic information in hiring, promotion, discharge, pay, fringe benefits, job training, classification, referral, and other aspects of employment. Genetic information includes information about genetic tests of applicants or employees, their family members, the manifestation of diseases or disorders in family members (family medical history), and requests for or receipt of genetic services by applicants or employees, or their family members.

RETALIATION
All of these Federal laws prohibit covered entities from retaliating against a person who files a charge of discrimination, participates in a discrimination proceeding, or otherwise opposes an unlawful employment practice.

WHAT TO DO IF YOU BELIEVE DISCRIMINATION HAS OCCURRED
There are strict time limits for filing charges of employment discrimination. To preserve the ability of EEOC to act on your behalf and to protect your rights to file a private lawsuit, you must contact EEOC immediately:

The U.S. Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), 1-800-669-4000 (toll free), or 1-800-669-6820 (toll free TTY number for individuals with hearing impairments). EEOC field office information is available at www.eeoc.gov

Employers Holding Federal Contracts or Subcontracts
Applicants to and employees of companies with a Federal government contract or subcontract are protected under Federal law from discrimination on the following bases:

Executive Order 12254, as amended, prohibits employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, religion, sex or national origin, and requires affirmative action to ensure equal opportunity in all aspects of employment.

INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES
Section 503 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, protects qualified individuals from discrimination on the basis of disability in hiring, promotion, discharge, pay, fringe benefits, job training, classification, referral, and other aspects of employment. Disability discrimination includes not making reasonable accommodations to the known physical or mental limitations of an otherwise qualified individual with a disability who is an applicant or employee, barring undue hardship. Section 503 also requires that Federal contractors take affirmative action to employ and advance in employment qualified individuals with disabilities at all levels of employment, including the executive level.

DISABLED, RECENTLY SEPARATED, OTHER PROTECTED, AND ARMED FORCES SERVICE-RELATED MEDAL VETERANS
The Vietnam Era Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1974, as amended, protects veterans (within three years of discharge or release from active duty), other protected veterans (veterans who served during a war or in a campaign for which a campaign badge has been authorized), and Armed Forces service medal veterans (veterans who, while on active duty, participated in a U.S. military operation for which an Armed Forces service medal was awarded).

RETALIATION
Retaliation is prohibited against a person who files a complaint of discrimination, participates in an OFCCP proceeding, or otherwise opposes discrimination under these Federal laws.

Any person who believes that a contractor has violated its nondiscrimination or affirmative action obligations under the authorities above should contact immediately:

The Office of Federal Contract Compliance Programs (OFCCP), U.S. Department of Labor, 200 Constitution Avenue, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20210, 1-800-997-6651 (toll free) or (202) 693-1337 (TTY). OFCCP may also be contacted by email at OFCCP.PublicInfo@DOL.gov, or by calling an OFCCP regional or district office, listed in most telephone directories under U.S. Government, Department of Labor.

Programs or Activities Receiving Federal Financial Assistance

RACE, COLOR, NATIONAL ORIGIN, SEX
In addition to the protections of Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, prohibits employment discrimination on the basis of race, color, or national origin in any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance. Employment discrimination is covered by Title VII as the primary objective of the Federal assistance in provision of equal opportunity, or where employment discrimination causes or may cause discrimination in providing services. Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972 prohibits employment discrimination on the basis of sex in educational programs or activities which receive Federal financial assistance.

INDIVIDUALS WITH DISABILITIES
Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, as amended, prohibits employment discrimination on the basis of disability in any program or activity which receives Federal financial assistance. Discrimination is prohibited in all aspects of employment against persons with disabilities who, with or without reasonable accommodations, can perform the essential functions of the job.

If you believe you have been discriminated against in a program of any institution which receives Federal financial assistance, you should immediately contact the Federal agency providing such assistance.

Re: Mandatory Diversity and Title IX Trainings on August 25, 2016

Dear New Faculty Member:

The Office of Diversity and Equity (ODE) would like to welcome you to CCSU. As part of our responsibilities, the ODE is responsible for conducting and coordinating mandated trainings on diversity, Title IX (sexual harassment prevention), and other civil rights topics.

As state employees, we are all required to participate in several mandatory training programs. ODE provides both the one-time diversity training and the annual Title IX training for the University. As part of your first week, we are offering an opportunity on Thursday, August 25, 2016 from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. that will fulfill the diversity and annual Title IX training for the 2016/2017 academic year. To register for this session, please email Nicholas.diagostino@ccsu.edu. We will provide coffee and light food in the morning and lunch for this session. The training descriptions are below:

Diversity Training: The ODE offers 3-hour State Mandated Diversity Training Sessions annually for CCSU staff, faculty and students. The training consists of two components. The first segment focuses on ODE responsibilities, policies, and procedures. The second component will focus on a particular identity (i.e., race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, etc.) as it relates to college students, campus life and/or classroom environments. CCSU is committed to creating a campus culture where all members of our community are valued and affirmed. These sessions support this initiative and enhance our sense of community.

Title IX Training: Both federal and state laws clearly prohibit sexual harassment, sexual assault and interpersonal violence in the workplace and education settings – and yet it happens. On campuses large and small, women and men find themselves the unwilling target of unwelcomed sexual conduct that creates a hostile environment. It is critical that all students, employees, including managers, understand both the full range of behaviors that define sexual harassment, sexual assault and interpersonal violence, and the proactive steps they can take to prevent it. All CCSU employees are expected to complete training regarding sexual harassment, sexual assault and interpersonal violence prevention.

Should you have any questions, please feel free to contact us at 860-832-1652.

Sincerely,

Rosa Rodriguez
Chief Diversity and Title IX Officer
Dear Faculty and Staff,

The Office of Student Disabilities (SDS) is pleased to announce some new procedures for students with disabilities taking exams at the SDS testing center. For a complete description of our policies, please go to: http://www.ccsu.edu/sds/examPolicy.html.

When you have students who need an exam at the testing center:
1. Students start the process by contacting SDS personally.
2. Students must fill out a Test Request Form at least 3-7 business days prior to the exam.
3. This initiates an e-mail to the faculty member. Faculty fill out information about the exam and send that information plus the exam to SDS. This can be done by fax, campus mail, in person, or through e-mail.
4. Faculty indicate how they would like the exam returned to them.
5. All students are proctored during the exam.

Thank you!

For any questions about students with disabilities, please do not hesitate to contact our office.

Dear Jody:

Our records indicate that you have not completed the State of Connecticut Mandated Diversity Training*. As part of our employment here at CCSU, we are required to complete several trainings organized by the Office of Diversity and Equity. The required trainings include Diversity Training (one time), Sexual Harassment Training for Supervisors (one time) and Title IX Training (annually).

As part of our efforts to comply with the Diversity Training mandate, the Office of Diversity and Equity has scheduled the following diversity training sessions:

- Wednesday, March 1, 2017 from 1 to 4:30 PM
- Monday, April 3, 2017 from 9 AM to Noon

These sessions will offer participants an interactive experience and the opportunity to ask key questions related the diversity, discrimination, affirmative action, accommodations and other key issues faced by faculty and staff in this arena.

The registration link to sign up for the session can be found here: Spring 2017 Diversity Training Registration Form.

Thank you,

Nick

Dear Students and Colleagues,

While we look with growing concern at the impact of President Trump’s executive order regarding immigration, I am glad that I can report that none of our students or faculty who are currently traveling or studying abroad are likely to be directly affected—they are not citizens of the seven countries proscribed by the order.

But I am concerned for those students, faculty, and staff among us whose travels abroad—for personal or professional reasons—will be impacted by the presidential order. I invite those of you who might be affected by the travel ban to contact my office (860-832-3000 or President@ccsu.edu). We will continue to monitor the situation so that we can work directly with you to address your concerns as best we can and to offer our support.

Finally, because, as many have pointed out, this executive order impacts mainly Muslims, I want to say on behalf of the University that we stand in compassionate solidarity with our Muslim students and colleagues.

Sincerely,

Zulma Toro

FACULTY LIASION TO SSD

Why Accommodations?

• Provide "equal access through accommodations" (U. of Washington, n. d.).
• They have the ability to succeed.
• But, services are underutilized.

Laws

IDEA: Individuals with Disabilities Education Act

• National federal special education law.
• Provides Individualized Education Programs to students who are eligible.
• Requires states to state regulations and MUST include all of the provisions within IDEA.
• There may be additional laws pertaining to individual states.

IDEA 2004

• New definitions of Transition Services.
• Schools must help students transition to post-school activities.
• Focus on outcomes — meaning that they want to make sure that the student is able to be successful.

American with Disabilities Act (ADA) of 1990

• IDEA only applies from elementary through high school aged students.
• ADA Applies to all public and private colleges and universities (not religious).
• Purpose: to prevent discrimination against individuals with disabilities the "right to participate in or benefit from services, programs, or activities that they provide."

The Rehabilitation Act of 1973

• Applies to all colleges and universities that accept any type of federal financial assistance for any program or service.
• Purpose: to prevent discrimination against individuals with disabilities.
Section 504 - Rehabilitation Act
College and Universities

- You cannot deny services or discriminate against an otherwise qualified person who has a disability.
- Colleges/universities must demonstrate compliance if receiving aid from the government.

How do these laws impact us?
College and Universities

- We MUST remove any barriers to learning for the student.
- Or provide reasonable modifications to rules, policies, or practices.

College vs. High School Differences

- We are NOT mandated to seek out those students who MIGHT have a disability and test them.
- Students must ASK for what accommodations they feel they need and then provide the appropriate paperwork.
- Students MUST advocate for themselves.
- These accommodations MUST be renewed and reviewed each semester.

Definition "disability" for college and universities

- Person who:
  - Has a physical or mental impairment.
  - Substantially limits 1 or more major life activities.
  - Has a record of the impairment.
  - Or is regarded as having an impairment.
  - Is qualified to be admitted to the program either with or without the accommodation.
  - Has a disability that SUBSTANTIALLY limits a major life activity.
  - The program would not have to endure substantial changes, adjustments, or modifications.

ADA's Rules of Construction

- Substantial limitation – compared to most people,
- Presumptive Disabilities – no disabilities are automatically included, but there are a number that few would argue about.
- How are the Major Life Activities performed?
- Mitigating measures.

The LIST!

| Deaf | Multiple Sclerosis |
| Blind | HIV |
| Intellectual Disability | Major Depressive Disorder |
| Missing limbs | Bipolar Disorder |
| Wheelchair | PTSD |
| Autism | Traumatic Brain Injury |
| Cerebral Palsy | Obsessive Compulsive Disorder |
| Diabetes | Schizophrenia |
| Epilepsy | |
Responsibility on our end
What can colleges and institutions do?

- Once the student has sufficiently documented a disability:
  - We must provide reasonable accommodations or modifications.
  - They should not be given unfair advantage.
  - Require significant alteration to the program.
  - Result in the lowering of academic or technical standards.
  - Cause the college to incur financial hardship.
  - The accommodations must be provided in a timely manner.

What can I do to help?
Unusual design

- Disability Statement.
- Where are campus resources?
- Define course requirements thoroughly.
- Provided printed materials early.
- Provide important information in both oral and written formats.
- Read aloud.
- Provide students copies of your outlines/ppts.

What can I do?

- Keep instructions brief and uncomplicated. Repeat.
- Allow time for questions.
- Captioned videos.
- Study guides/review sheets.
- Multiple methods for course assessment.
- Stress ideas rather than mechanics.

Problems

- Contact us.

ScENARIO

You've been dating someone new for a few months. Your partner says they can't wait to get you into bed. Do you have consent?
RELATIONSHIP STATUS OF INCOMING TRANSFER - SUMMER 2016

RED FLAG CAMPAIGN
- Keynote speakers
- Classroom presentations

SIGNS OF A HEALTHY RELATIONSHIP
- Mutual respect
- Open communication
- Trust and honesty
- Fair and equal decision-making
- Solitude: respects someone's personal space and privacy
- Boundaries: recognizes a person's right to end a relationship

ABUSIVE RELATIONSHIP — RED FLAGS
- Does your partner feel like you're watching them?
- Are you constantly explaining your partner's behavior, especially when he or she is treated poorly?
- Do you blame yourself for everything your partner says or does, and deny you or your partner's anger?
- Does your partner get you angry, but then tell you that or about the abuse?
- Does your partner threaten to kill or hurt you or others?
- Does your partner break up with you if you try to leave them?
- Does your partner feel jealous of your friends or family?
- Are you afraid to break up because you think your partner will do something to harm you?
- Are your friends or family concerned about your safety?

HOW CAN WE HELP?
- Say something. Lead a listening ear.
- Guide your friend to services.
- Focus on his/her strengths.
- Become informed.
WHAT ARE YOUR NEXT STEPS?

- Parents and students: Talk to each other
- Students: Complete the online training
- Students: Ask someone you respect and trust, any questions you might have

Stand Up CWSb: Healthy Relationships Seminar
Sunday, August 14, 2016

Nice to meet you!

How would you describe yourself as a group?
How do you think other students would describe you as a group?

What is your favorite color?
A. Blue
B. Red
C. Yellow
D. Green
E. Pink
F. Purple

Are you currently in a relationship?
A. Yes
B. No
C. It’s complicated

My friends and I talk about relationships...
A. Never
B. Rarely
C. Sometimes
D. Often
E. All the time
I know someone who has been in an abusive relationship.
A. Yes
B. No

Group Activity
In small groups please make two lists:
- What is really important to you in a relationship?
- What are relationship "deal breakers" for you?

Signs of a healthy relationship
- Communication: shares thoughts and ideas
- Trust: honest and accountable to each other
- Connection: feels there are other people to rely on besides partner
- Decision: has equal decision-making power
- Safety: is peaceful, is emotionally supportive
- Boundaries: respects personal space and privacy, recognizes a person's right to end the relationship

What percentage of college relationships are abusive?
A. 10%
B. 50%
C. 20%
D. 2%
E. 32%

Only men can be abusers.
A. True
B. False

Relationship Abuse
A pattern of abusive behavior in any relationship that is used by one partner to gain or maintain power and control over another intimate partner. It may be physical, sexual, emotional, economic, or psychological actions or threats of actions that influence another person.
Power and Control

Cycle of Violence

If you observed abusive behavior in a friend or teammates relationship....

Why might a person choose to (go) say something or do something about the behavior? Why might a person choose to say something or do something about the behavior?

How Can We Support a Friend?

- Say something. Lend a listening ear.
- Guide your friend to services.
- Focus on his/her strengths.
- Become informed.

INTERVENTION STUDY

NYC SUBWAY INTERVENTION
Scenario 1

You are a security guard. You see a couple having an argument. You notice the guy is shouting and asking his girlfriend. The guy isn’t doing much of anything, and nothing is the woman but you see her yelling at the same group of people. Nobody else is doing anything.

Task of Thought:
This is an ugly situation... the guy is pretty rough with the woman... I wonder what’s going on... should I say something... but nobody else is stopping... is why I think... If say something he might come after me... what if he has a weapon? Someone, if he trusts her the trust he stays with him, she is not going out... is it any of my business... but if I don’t do something... I’m saying it’s okay for someone to be harmed... what should I do...?

Options
A. Nothing, it’s none of my business.
B. Say something, the guy the “Hey, what are you doing?” and stick around to make sure the situation isn’t turned out.
C. Get a group of people to come in the boy friend, while others try to get the woman away from him.
D. Work in a security guard - at some point... and tell the girls that we were given the order to be in that area.
E. When the boy comes down, either on the scene or looks for the guy and tell him that what a witness was not ok, and he needs to get something.
F. At the earliest possible opportunity, discuss the situation with some of his other friends.

Scenario 2

As you enter a residential hall on campus, you see a couple who appear to be very drunk stumbling down the hallway. A few minutes later, you hear a struggle and the woman screaming “Leave me alone!”

Task of Thought:
Are they just a couple of drunks being loud and obnoxious... Or, is this be a potentially criminal situation, many times it is a situation where people look drunk... and... how would I feel if this was my sister? Wouldn’t I want someone to stop him to be in a position to defend immediately. If it happens, the guy might attack and attack me... should I take the chance... what should I do...? Would she have if I don’t... what should I do?

Options
A. Ignore the commotion. Don’t know what is going on and it’s not any of my business.
B. Contact dorm security, a resident advisor, and/or the resident director. Inform them of the situation, and urge them to do something.
C. Go on the door where I heard the screams and ask if the woman is okay.
D. Recruit another person, then go to the door and knock. Should happen if the scream come from and should “What’s going on in there?”
E. Call the campus police?

Tips for Intervening
- Approach everyone as a friend
- Do not be antagonistic
- Do not use violence
- Be honest and direct when possible
- Recruit help if necessary
- Keep yourself safe
- If things get out of hand or become too serious, contact the police

Title IX Topics

Pregnant and Parenting Students

- City University of New York 2013
- The National Women's Law Center filed a pregnancy discrimination complaint on behalf of a 27-year-old student.
- The complaint alleges that professors told the student that she would not be allowed to make up tests or assignments resulting from any pregnancy-related absences, including labor and delivery.
- Also, the administrator recommended that the student drop the class since she was due before the end of the semester.

Pregnant and Parenting Students

- Absences due to pregnancy or a related condition must be excused for as long as the doctor says it is necessary.
- Students can be penalized for pregnancy or related conditions.
- Students must be allowed to make up work missed while they were absent due to pregnancy or related conditions.
- Schools cannot terminate or reduce athletic, merit, or needs-based scholarships based on pregnancy.

Gender Identity or Expression

The Genderbread Person

- Genderbread Person: A person's gender identity or expression is not associated with their sex assigned at birth. They can choose to be male, female, both, neither, or any combination of these. They can also choose to be genderqueer, non-binary, or another gender identity. They can also choose to not identify with any gender.
Gender Identity and Expression

May 13, 2016 Dear Colleague Letter

- Schools must treat students consistent with their gender identity.
- Students must be allowed to participate in sex-segregated activities and access sex-segregated facilities consistent with their gender identity.
- Schools must take reasonable steps to protect students' privacy related to their transgender status.

Misconduct can also be investigated where it occurs during unpaid breaks (e.g., University sponsored social events and at “company” parties (picnics, retirement and holiday parties, etc.)

Reporting Discrimination & Harassment

▶ Encourage reporting as soon as possible
▶ Administrators and supervisors must report incidents of discrimination/harassment
▶ Students and non-supervisory employees are strongly encouraged to report incidents of discrimination and/or harassment (different standard for Title IX)
▶ All employees must report incidents of sexual misconduct, stalking or intimate partner violence and/or gender discrimination to the Title IX Officer

Mandatory Reporting – BOR Sexual Misconduct Policy

▶ All employees (including student workers, graduate assistants and interns and any other person at CCSU campus members may reasonably see as an agent of the University) are required to report incidents of sexual misconduct regardless of the alleged victim’s age to the University’s Title IX Officer*
▶ Board policy requires that a report be made to the CT Department of Children and Families whenever a person under the age of eighteen (18) years of age may have been sexually assaulted.

  - Behavior that a reasonable person would consider offensive
  - In the eye of the beholder, impact - not intent!
- Preponderance of the evidence standard
  - More likely than not

Retaliation

No retaliation, reprisal or intimidation in conjunction with a complaint of discrimination/harassment shall be tolerated by the University.

University Perspective

Harassment & Discrimination

- It's illegal — Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, state law and Title IX of the Education Enhancement Act.
- It won’t be tolerated.
- It creates personal financial liability, loss of reputation, possible loss of employment and possibly criminal charges.

Sexual Misconduct:
Sexual Harassment

Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, sexually motivated physical conduct, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature.
Quid Pro Quo: "This For That"

- Subjected to unwelcome requests for sexual favors or conduct
- Submission to the conduct is a condition of employment, education, benefits, etc.
- The harasser generally has some type of supervisory or power relationship over the person being harassed

Hostile Environment

- Unwelcome verbal or physical conduct directed at another
- Because of that individual's protected class (e.g., gender, sex)
- That unreasonably interferes with the person's work or academic performance
- Sufficiently severe, pervasive, or persistent
- Purpose or effect creating a hostile work or educational environment
- Any other interactive conduct

Forms of Harassment

- Language/partners with of a prejudicial nature
- Offensive graphic jokes
- Teasing
- Name calling
- Use of offensive words
- Threatening
- Unlawful or inappropriate Internet use
- "Accidental" collisions or brushing up against
- Physical Assault

Sexual Misconduct: Sexual Exploitation

Sexual exploitation occurs when a person takes non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another for anyone's advantage or benefit other than the person being exploited, and that behavior does not otherwise constitute one of the preceding sexual misconduct offenses.

Sexual Assault

Sexual assault may include a sexual act directed against another person when that person is not capable of giving consent, which shall mean the voluntary agreement by a person in the possession and exercise of sufficient mental capacity to make a deliberate choice to do something proposed by another.
The Mythology

- "Classic" rape myths
  - Offenders attack strangers, wear ski masks, hide in ambulances, taunt victims
  - The adoption of new language: "date rape"
- New myths:
  - Viewed as less harmful and less serious offenses
  - Seen as a miscommunication between two people

What percentage of college women experience attempted or completed sexual assault while attending college?

A. 8%
B. 20%
C. 25%
D. 60%

Statistics

Approximately 20% of college women will experience attempted or completed sexual assault while attending college.

Prevalence at CCSU

- Approximately 6% of college women will experience attempted or completed sexual assault while attending college.
- Approximately 2% of undergraduate men experienced attempted or completed sexual assault.
- Approximately 6% of graduate students experienced attempted or completed sexual assault.

The majority of incidents occurred off-campus

Stalking

One person’s repetitive and willful following or lying in wait behavior towards another person that causes that other person to reasonably fear for his or her physical safety.

Most Stalkers Target Celebrities.

A. True
B. False

All Stalkers have mental health issues.

A. True
B. False
If a person ignores stalking behavior it will go away.

A. True
B. False

Behavior of Stalkers

- Follow you and show up wherever you are.
- Send unwanted gifts, letters, cards, or e-mails.
- Damage your home, car, or other property.
- Monitor your phone calls or computer use.
- Use technology, like hidden cameras or global positioning systems (GPS), to track where you go.
- Drive by or hang out at your home, school, or work.
- Find out about you by using public records or online search services. Hire investigators, going through your garbage, or contacting friends, family, neighbors, or co-workers.

Why do students disclose to faculty/staff?

- They believe that they will be believed.
- They feel safe and supported by the staff member and want comfort.
- They are having difficulty with classes or other aspects of their life and really need assistance.
- They feel like they need to explain a behavior.
- To warn a staff member about another student.
- They are suddenly triggered.

Case Study Activity

Divide into groups of 3. Please read your case study card and discuss the questions below. Prepare to report back to the larger group.

1. You received a call from a former student asking to meet for coffee. What are you feeling? What are you thinking? What are you going to do?
2. What are things you would not want to say or do in response to this student?
3. What is your responsibility as a CCUS employee?
4. What questions does this raise for you?
You have support.

Sexual Misconduct Can Be Prevented

The majority of men and women in our community do not perpetuate violence.

What is prevention?

- Primary Prevention:
  Focus is on stopping violence before it occurs.
  - Social norm change
  - Bystander intervention

- Risk Reduction:
  Focus is on the potential victim. It typically focuses on "in the moment" strategies:
  - Self Defense
  - Blue Lights

Norms that Shape Environment

- Objectification
- Place value on claiming and maintaining
- Tolerance of aggression and victim blame
- "the man box"
- Notions of individual and family privacy

Kitty Genovese

The scream no one answered
Discussion:

- Why do people choose not to intervene in a given situation?
- Why do people choose to intervene in a given situation?
- Have you ever intervened in a situation that could have led to harm for another person?

Bystander Intervention Scenario

It is Thursday night and you stayed late at work finishing a project. As you walk to your car you pass one of the residence halls. You see a group of students walking together in front of you. One of the students spots a woman walking alone. He makes some loud comments about her body and starts to hassle her.

#Blacklivesmatter versus #alilivesmatter: Diversiy, Equal Opportunity and Affirmative Action Matter Today
A Conversation on Race and Oppression

Presented By:
Derek Hull
Nicholas D'Agostino

Objectives
Participants will:
- Gain a clearer understanding of race, racism, sexism and privilege
- Engage in self-reflection, interpersonal and group activities to enhance proficiency of discussing race and gender in the workplace
- Gain an understanding of the roles they play in perpetrating and/or ending racism and sexism in their workplace
- While focusing on race, participants will gain a greater understanding of oppression and the systems that oppress people based on various identities e.g., gender, disability, race, sexual orientation

Ground Rules
- Take 100% responsibility for your learning
- Engage in both/ & thinking
- Lean into discomfort
- Critique the good
- Own your reactions
- No blame/shame (others or yourself)
- Step up/step back
- Be honest & authentic

What is race?
Is a social construct created to separate human beings based on physical differences such as skin color, facial features, hair texture etc., as well as ancestral points of origin

Racial Identity
Black/African American: A person having origins in any of the Black racial groups of Africa
White: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Europe, the Middle East, or North Africa
Native American, Alaskan Native: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of North & South America (including Central America) & who maintains tribal affiliation or community attachment

Racial Identity
Native Hawaiian or Other Pacific Islander: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of Hawaii, Guam, Samoa, or other Pacific islands
Asian: A person having origins in any of the original peoples of the Far East, Southeast Asia, or the Indian subcontinent
*Hispanic/Latino/a, people who identify their origin as Hispanic. Latino may be of any race although Latino/Hispanic is a racialized identity in the US
My Identity - My Race Activity

1. My racial identity is ____________________________
2. One thing that makes me proud to be a part of this racial identity is ____________________________
3. One thing that has been difficult for me due to my racial identity is ____________________________
4. What are some assumptions you think people outside of your racial identity have about your racial identity?

My racial identity is...

1. Black African American
2. White/Caucasian
3. Native American/Alaskan Native
4. Asian
5. Hispanic/Latino/a
6. Two or more races

---

I am comfortable talking about race with people who share my racial identity

1. Agree
2. Somewhat agree
3. Somewhat disagree
4. Disagree

I am comfortable talking about race with people who DO NOT share my racial identity

1. Agree
2. Somewhat agree
3. Somewhat disagree
4. Disagree

What would you do?

While teaching a section on racism, an educator displayed the following image and asked students what they thought of the image. A student stated that the image is the same. Some students were asked if they thought the image was the same, and some students were asked what their thoughts about this question were.

What is racism?

Commonly defined as “prejudice + power,” racism is prejudice or discrimination against someone based on their race. Underlying is the belief that certain racial groups are superior to others. Racism can be manifested through beliefs, attitudes, and actions. Racism comes in several forms, including:

1. Individual or internalized racism
2. Interpersonal racism
3. Institutional racism
4. Structural racism

Adapted from the YUSA
Individual or internalized racism

This is racism that exists within individuals. It is when one holds negative ideas about his/her own culture, even if unknowingly. Xenophobic feelings or one's internalized sense of oppression/privilege are two examples of individual or internalized racism.

Interpersonal racism

This is the racism that occurs between individuals. It is the holding of negative attitudes towards a different race or culture. Interpersonal racism often follows a victim/perpetrator model.

Institutional racism

Recognizing that racism need not be individualist or intentional, institutional racism refers to institutional and cultural practices that perpetuate racial inequality. Benefits are structured to advantage powerful groups at the expense of others. Jim Crow laws and redlining practices are two examples of institutional racism.

Structural racism

Structural racism refers to the ways in which the joint operation of institutions (i.e., inter-institutional arrangements and interactions) produce racialized outcomes, even in the absence of racist intent. Indicators of structural racism include power inequalities, unequal access to opportunities, and differing policy outcomes by race. Because these effects are reinforced across multiple institutions, the root causes of structural racism are difficult to isolate. Structural racism is cumulative, pervasive, and durable.

Race in the United States

US Population (Census 2014)
- White: 62.1%
- Black/African American: 13.2%
- Hispanic: 17.4%
- Asian, Hawaiian, American Indian, Alaskan Native: 6.8%
- Two or more races: 2.5%

Race in Employment

People of Color in the US workforce
- 11.8% Black/African American
- 4% of Fortune 500 CEOs are African American, Hispanic or Asian - Forbest
- Less than 1% of Fortune 500 companies have Black CEOs - DiversifyInc.com

National Unemployment rate 8.1% US DOL
- White: 7.4%
- Black/African American: 13.8%
- Hispanic: 10.3%
- Native American: 12.3%
Other groups often targeted by oppression:
- Women
- Persons with disabilities e.g., psychiatric disabilities
- LGBT persons
- People of varying religions e.g., Jewish, Muslim, Sikh, Atheist
- Migrant workers
- Foreign born persons

Everday Racism - Microaggressions

Micro-ag-ress-ion.
NOUN
1. A statement, action, or incident regarded as an instance of indirect, subtle, or unintentional discrimination against members of a marginalized group such as a racial or ethnic minority.

I have experienced microaggressions based on my race?
1. Yes
2. No

The USA should not continue to accept Islamic refugees.

Helpful tips for cross-cultural dialogues

1. Practice the real work
2. Recognize that you will likely make mistakes
   a. Own those mistakes and apologize
3. Come from a place that shows that it is not always about you
4. Seek first to understand and then to be understood
5. Recognize what identifies you bring into a space
6. Name it:
   a. the way you feel
   b. the way you're perceiving them to be feeling
Helpful tips for cross-cultural dialogues

7. Ask the right questions
   a. How can I be more helpful?
   b. What can we do together?
8. Listen without defending
9. An immediate solution is not always needed
10. Listen as opposed to minimizing, challenging and/or devaluing

Scenario

Jane works in your department shares with you that she finds the "off color" jokes told by other coworkers offensive. She has recently overheard them telling racial jokes which included referring to Mexicans as "wetbacks" and the use of the N-word. She mentioned it to your chair but was told to ignore the behavior saying "they don't mean anything by it."

What would you do?

Role Play 1

Person A: Hey (insert name), have you noticed that Nick seems to ignore me during meetings? I get the sense that he doesn't like me. I'm starting to wonder if it's because I'm (insert your identity)
Person B: Provide a response to person A Person A: Explain how that response made you feel

Discuss your experience

Role Play 2

A group of you are having a conversation about recent incidents involving police brutality and the killing of African American men.

Person A: This has nothing to do with race. Police have to make judgment calls, plus white people are shot by police too, but we never hear about that.
Person B: Provide a response?

Discuss: What can you do during this conversation to to be ally?

Maintaining your bottom line

What impact do racial and gender biases and micro-aggressions have on you and your organization's employees and customers?
How about on productivity and delivery of services?
What do you do when you see these things happening in your workplace? What is your role in these instances?
Whose responsibility is it to address bias and micro-aggressions in the workplace?

Things to consider...

1. Who makes decisions at your company? Are people's voices missing?
2. Who conducts recruitment and selection at your company?
3. What do your policies, procedures and practices say about your organization in terms of race, gender and other groups/identities?
4. How do I contribute to the marginalization of others?
Conclusion

1. Parking lot review
2. Questions?

Thank you.

CCSU Nondiscrimination Policy
Harassment and discrimination are prohibited based on:
- Age
- Marital Status
- National Origin
- Race
- Religious Creed
- Sex (sex or gender identity or expression)
- Sexual Orientation
- Disability (physical or mental handicap)
- Marital Status
- Sex (sex or gender identity or expression)
- Sexual Orientation

Title IX is a...
- Federal law that prohibits discrimination based on the sex (gender) of employees and students of educational institutions that receive federal financial assistance
- Prohibition of sex discrimination includes prohibition of sexual harassment and sexual violence
Discrimination
Differential/Disparate Treatment
- Treat someone differently
- Based on individual’s protected class status
- Interferes with or limits the ability of a person to participate in, or benefit from, the services, activities or privileges provided by the University
- Otherwise adversely affect the person’s employment or educational experience and/or creating a hostile learning or working environment

Hostile Environment
- Unwelcome verbal or physical conduct directed at another
- Because of that individual’s protected class (e.g., gender/sex)
- That unreasonably interferes with the person’s work or academic performance
- Sufficiently severe, pervasive or persistent
- Purpose or of creating a hostile work or educational environment

Examples of Harassing Behavior
- Language/posters with of a prejudicial nature
- Offensive graphic jokes
- Taunting
- Name calling
- Use of offensive words
- Threatening
- Unlawful or inappropriate Internet use
- "Accidental" collisions or brushing up against
- Physical assault including sexual assault

Discrimination
Disparate Impact
- A process, procedure or action that results in adverse impact towards members of a protected class.
- An action may not appear to be discriminatory on its face, but rather is one of discrimination based on its application or effect.

Disparate Impact – Case Law
Griggs v. Duke Power Company
- Issue: Using a high school diploma as a requirement for some clerical or blue collar work
- Data: 32% White men versus 12% Black men with HS diploma (disparate impact)
- Employer (defendant) was unable to defend link between the position and educational requirement.

Standards Utilized
Reasonable Person Standard
- Behavior that a reasonable person would consider offensive
- In the eye of the beholder: Impact - not intent!
- Preponderance of the Evidence
Scenario:

Chao and Mai, Vietnamese refugees who resettled in the local area, have been employed at the University as maintenance workers for several years. About a month ago, shortly after a new supervisor took over the department, Chao and Mai were told that they should no longer speak their native language to each other at work, even while on breaks. Since that time Chao and Mai have been reprimanded for returning late from lunch and their supervisor has been watching them throughout their shift.

Is this a policy violation?
1. Yes
2. No
3. Unsure

What is the protected class status?
1. Sex
2. Race
3. National Origin
4. Religion
5. Color

Can an employer require employees to only speak English?
1. Yes
2. No
3. Depends

Scenario:

- While teaching a section on African Art you display the following image and ask students what they think of the image. A student states that the image "looks like a monkey." Some students in the class laugh at the expense and some Black students look upset.
- What are your thoughts about this comment?
- How might you respond to this situation?

Hate Crimes

Intimidation based on bigotry when a person, with specific intent, intimidates or harasses another person based on real or perceived race, religion, ethnicity, disability, orientation, or gender identity. Covered under this is physical contact, damages or defacing of property, threats by word or act, or there is a reasonable cause to believe that such an act will occur.
Workplace/Educational Environment Includes:

Any place a student/employee must be as part of their education/employment:
- buildings
- training
- study abroad
- transportation
- off-campus meetings

Misconduct can also be investigated when it occurs during unpaid breaks (lunch), University sponsored social events and at "company" parties (picnics, retirement and holiday parties, etc.)

Retaliation

No retaliation, reprisal or intimidation in conjunction with a complaint of discrimination/harassment shall be tolerated by the University.

Reporting Discrimination & Harassment

- Encourage reporting as soon as possible
- Administrators and supervisors must report incidents of discrimination/harassment
- Students and non-supervisory employees are strongly encouraged to report incidents of discrimination and/or harassment (different standard for Title IX)
- New as 2014. All employees must report incidents of sexual misconduct, stalking or intimate partner violence and/or gender discrimination to the Title IX Officer

Mandatory Reporting – BOR Sexual Misconduct Policy

- New Change—All employees (including student workers, graduate assistants and interns) and any other person a CCSU campus member may reasonably see as an agent of the University) are required to report incidents of sexual misconduct regardless of the alleged victim's age to the University’s Title IX Officer.*
- Board policy requires that a report must be made to the CT Department of Children and Families whenever a person under the age of eighteen (18) years of age may have been sexually assaulted.

*Title IX Officer - Rosa Rodriguez

Rights of Those Who Report

- To be treated seriously and with dignity
- Provided support services materials that include: on- and off-campus resources; information regarding reporting options (including campus police); information regarding their rights
- Provided with options for changing academic, housing, transportation and working arrangements
- Prompt handling of such matters

Rights of Alleged Victim & Accused:

- To be treated fairly and with respect
- To have a support person during any meeting or proceeding related to the allegation of sexual misconduct
- As long as this person's involvement doesn't delay any meeting related to this conduct and does not directly address the hearing body, question witnesses or otherwise actively participate in the hearing process or other meeting pertaining to a report of sexual misconduct.
- To receive notice at the same time of the outcome
- To request a review of any decision regarding the sexual misconduct matter in which they are involved
What you can do

If you are the target of unwanted sexual attention or behavior:
- Respond to the problem
- Document—times, places, specifics of each incident and names of witnesses
- Report
- Don't remain silent

What you can do

If you are a bystander...
- Help the victim make his/her feelings known
- Follow the University policy and procedure
- Support your co-workers or classmates—encourage reporting!

University Perspective
Harassment & Discrimination

- It's illegal—Title VII of the Civil Rights Act, state law and Title IX of the Education Enhancement Act.
- It won't be tolerated.
- It creates personal financial liability, loss of reputation, possible loss of employment and possibly criminal charges.

Complaint Procedures and Options*

- Internal Process: 90 day time frame
  - Complaint Procedure—See packet
- External Process:
  - CHRO (180 day timeframe)
  - EEOC (180 day timeframe)
- OCR Process: 180 day timeframe

* 602 procedures are posted on the Solicitor's Office site.

Sex (Body)

- SEX refers to the body
- Chromosomes, internal and external reproductive organs
- Much diversity exists even at this level (Intersex)
  - Chromosomal (XX, XY, XXX, XYX, XO)
  - Reproductive differences

Gender Identity (Mind)

- One's Inner Psychological Sense of Being a Man or a Woman
- May (or May Not) Be in Concert with One's Sexual Body
- Exists as continuum of thoughts, feelings, and (socially constructed) behavior, clothing, mannerisms
- Non-traditional Gender Expression or Gender Variance is Often (Mistakenly) Assumed to Be a Result of Same Sex Orientation

Transgender

- A global term that encompasses a wide continuum of people who do not fit neatly in traditional gender boxes
- Includes:
  - Gender Variance in role, dress (expression), behavior
  - Cross-dressing
  - Androgynous Gender Expression
  - Gender Queer
  - Transsexuality

Sexual Orientation

- Is defined as one's emotional, romantic and erotic attractions, toward another for the most part AND over a period of time
  - It is about feelings rather than behavior
  - May Be Held Over Time
- Exists on a Continuum
- Crosses all dimensions of diversity (race, ethnicity, religion, class, ability, etc.)
True Colors, Inc

True Colors is one of the many programs of the United Way located in the city of Washington, D.C. The program provides support to individuals and families in the Washington, D.C. metropolitan area. The program's primary goal is to help individuals overcome the challenges of poverty and improve their quality of life.

Our Programs Include:

1. Legal Aid: We provide legal aid to individuals who cannot afford it. Our lawyers help clients with a variety of legal issues, including immigration, housing, and family law.
2. Housing: We provide affordable housing options to individuals and families in need. Our services include rent stabilization, eviction prevention, and affordable housing counseling.
3. Health: We offer health-related services to individuals and families, including health insurance assistance, health education, and health screenings.
4. Education: We provide educational services to children and families in need. Our services include scholarships, after-school programs, and educational counseling.

The Washington DC Kitchen: This organization provides food for those in need. Their mission is to provide nutritious meals to individuals and families who cannot afford to purchase food. They also offer cooking classes and nutrition education to help people make healthier choices.

Contact us for more information about our programs or to request assistance. We look forward to helping you improve your quality of life.

Challenging Bias: A Workshop on Immediate Interventions
Presented by Nick D'Agostino, Associate in Diversity and Equity
Ngh Thao, Assistant Professor of Psychological Science

Objectives
- To gain a foundational understanding of the impacts of biased or prejudicial nature in the classroom environment
- To discuss strategies on how to intervene when bias, prejudice or microaggressions happen in the classroom environment
- To gain an understanding of our role in interrupting biased incidents and the impact interruption or failure to interrupt has on the class climate
- To gain practical experience in addressing biased comments in the moment

Ground Rules and Expectations
- Take 100% responsibility for your learning
- Engage in both/3 thinking
- Lean into discomfort
- Critique the good
- Own your reactions
- No blame/shame (others or yourself)
- Step up/step back
- Be honest and authentic

What happens when an off-color or offensive comment is made in a class?
- What is our responsibility?
- What happens to the class climate?
- Why does this matter?

I am comfortable addressing biased comments and microaggressions in the classroom.
1. Agree
2. Somewhat agree
3. Somewhat disagree
4. Disagree

What would you do?

- While teaching a section on African Art, you display the following image and ask students what they think of the image. A student states that the image "looks like a monster." Some students in the class laugh at the response and some black students look upset.

  What are your thoughts about this comment?
  How might you respond to this situation?

What would you do?

- During a class focusing on whiteness and white racial identity, students were asked to think about what being white means to them, then they had to share those statements with the class as a whole. Afterwards, a few students expressed feeling uncomfortable with the activity. One student said "I don't understand why I am paying money to feel bad about myself" and another said "the statements used for whites are all negative.

  What are your thoughts about this comment?
  How would you respond to this?

Strategies in the Moment

- Ask questions:
  - Ask for clarification
  - What do you mean by that? Can you tell me more about why you make that comment?
  - Can someone explain to me what is so funny?
  - Is your intended expression:
    - Ouch
    - I think we are better than that here at CCJU.
    - That statement didn't sit right for me.
  - Educate the class:
    - I find expressions like that to be offensive and they do not have a place in this class. Sometimes words/meanings mean things that are not what you mean to say.

Deer in the Headlights

An interactive, in-the-moment activity to assist us in developing our responses to these situations that may arise.

What to do if a student says you've engaged in biased comments/behaviors?

Strategies to Establish Class Culture

- Set the tone:
  - Have a class climate/culture statement in your syllabus that you discuss the first day
  - Create an environment where students feel empowered to speak up towards one another

- Lead by example:
  - Don’t engage in comments that disparage students or groups of people

Strategies to Establish Class Culture

- Practice what you preach:
  - Address microaggressions, verbal slights, and other comments that fall outside the scope of the course content immediately

- Incorporate inclusive curriculum into the classroom:
  - Consider and carefully integrate examples, books, and research that highlight the rich diversity of your field

President’s Message

Dear University Community Members:

At the newly appointed President of Central Connecticut State University (CCSU), I want you to know that I am committed to creating a safe and supportive community. A key component of our efforts is to provide policies that clearly spell out our response to reported incidents affecting our students, faculty, staff, and visitors.

These policies provide information for those whose rights have been violated and present guidance for the campus community on the expectations we have for communication, responsibility, and respect. The established procedures ensure that any CCSU community member who is subjected to discrimination or harassment is treated with care and provided accurate and complete information. I encourage all to read the policies and procedures so that we can all support those who may need our help.

Acts of harassment and discrimination threaten personal safety and violate the standards of conduct expected of community members. To help ensure that the University remains welcoming and safe for all, we will continue to offer education and awareness programs for the campus community, and we will pursue all civil and administrative remedies for complaints of discrimination, harassment, and violence.

At CCSU, we must continue to work to be a place of support and compassion.

Sincerely,

Zulma R. Toro
President
Office of Diversity and Equity (ODE)

Mission Statement

- Provide leadership for the University in its commitment to an environment that fosters respect for the dignity, rights, and aspirations of each member of the University community.
- Coordinate the University's efforts to promote, develop, and support a culturally diverse community.
- Guide the University community in the implementation of Affirmative Action and diversity strategies.

The ODE is located in Davidson Hall, RM 102. The office reports directly to the President and is responsible for promoting diversity and fairness. Responsibilities include the administration of:

1. Policies and Procedures
   - Non-discrimination in Education and Employment Policy
   - Sexual Misconduct Policy
   - Procedures for filing related complaints
2. Federal and State Laws
   - Affirmative action and equal employment opportunity laws
   - Section 504 of the 1973 Rehabilitation Act and Americans with Disabilities Act
   - Civil Rights laws including, Title IX, Title VII
3. Investigations of internally filed complaints
4. Monitoring of the employment process including recruitment, hiring, promotion, and training
5. Development and implementation of the annual Affirmative Action Plan
6. Provision of the ADA reasonable accommodations for employees
7. Conduct training on Title IX including the prevention of sexual harassment for staff and students and diversity. Coordinate CCSU’s violence awareness campaigns

State law requires that all employees participate in diversity training and that all those employees supervise responsibility participate in the sexual harassment prevention training. Based on state law, the university requires that all employees complete Title IX training on an annual basis. Contact the ODE for training opportunities.

Did you know?

National origin discrimination includes discrimination because a person (or his or her ancestors) comes from a particular place. The place is usually a country or a former country, for example, Colombia or Germany. In some cases, the place has never been a country, but is closely associated with a group of people who share a common language, culture, ancestry, and/or other similar social characteristics, for example, Kurds.

BOR/CSCU Sexual Misconduct, Sexual Assault and Intimate Partner Violence Policy
Central Connecticut State University will not tolerate sexual misconduct against students, staff, faculty, or visitors, whether it occurs in the form of intimate partner violence, sexual assault, sexual exploitation or sexual harassment, as defined in the BOR policy. In an ongoing effort to prevent sexual misconduct and intimate partner violence on the CCCU campus, the University provides education and prevention programs for the CCCU community and pursues all criminal and administrative remedies for complaints of sexual misconduct.

CSCU is a community dependent upon trust and respect for its constituent members: students, faculty, staff and those visiting or under temporary contract. As noted in CSCU’s Violence Free Campus Policy, members of the University community have the right to a safe and welcoming campus environment. Acts of sexual misconduct and intimate partner violence threaten personal safety and violate the standards of conduct expected of community members.

Individuals and Entities Affected by this Policy
This policy applies to anyone on the property of Central Connecticut State University, as well as anyone present at CSCU-sponsored programs or events. This policy extends to off-campus violations of both students and employees in limited circumstances as noted below:

- Students: Off-campus misconduct may be subject to the jurisdiction of the University and addressed through its disciplinary procedures if one of the following conditions is met: (i) a student engages in prohibited conduct at an on-campus University event, at an on-campus sponsored event, or at an event sponsored by a recognized student organization; or (ii) a student engages in prohibited conduct under such circumstances that

Nondiscrimination in Education and Employment Policy
Central Connecticut State University (CCSU) is committed to a policy of nondiscrimination in education and employment. No person shall be discriminated against in terms and conditions of employment, personal practices, or access to or participation in programs, services, and activities with regard to: age; ancestry; color; gender identity and expression; intellectual disability; learning disability; mental disability; physical disability; marital status; national origin; race; religious creed; sex, including pregnancy; transgender status; sexual harassment and sexual assault; sexual orientation; or any other status protected by federal or state law. Discrimination in employment based on pregnancy is prohibited. In addition, CCSU does not discriminate for or against persons having a disability or any other status protected by federal, state, or local laws. CCSU will not refuse to hire solely because of a prior criminal conviction, unless that refusal is permitted by Connecticut law.

Harassment on the basis of any of the above protected classes is prohibited. Harassment may occur in a variety of relationships, including faculty and student, supervisor and employee, student and student; staff and student; employee and employee, and other relationships with persons having business at, or visiting the educational or working environment.

This policy is directed at verbal or physical conduct that constitutes discrimination/harassment under state and federal law and is not directed at the content of speech. In cases in which verbal statements and other forms of expression are involved, CCSU will give due consideration to an individual's constitutionally protected right to free speech and academic freedom.

Retaliation is illegal. No individual who opposes an allegedly discriminatory act or practice shall suffer retaliation as a result of such participation. Complaints of retaliation may be filed within a reasonable time of the alleged retaliatory act with the Chief Diversity Officer or any manager not directly involved in the alleged retaliation, who will then notify the Office of Diversity and Equity (ODE).
reasons ground exist for believing that the accused student poses a threat to the life, health, or safety of any member of the University community or to the property of the University.

- Employees: The decision of whether to investigate and discipline employees for off-campus misconduct will be made by the appropriate University administrator on a case-by-case basis in accordance with collective bargaining agreements, CSU University policies, and state regulations.

Sexually explicit calendars, cartoons, and jokes of a sexual nature are all examples of items that may create a hostile work or learning environment.

Statement of Policy

The Board of Regents for Higher Education (BOR) in conjunction with the Connecticut State Colleges and Universities (CSCU) is committed to ensuring that each member of every BOR governing college and university community has the opportunity to participate fully in the process of education and development. The BOR and CSCU strive to maintain a safe and welcoming environment free from acts of sexual misconduct and intimate partner violence. It is the intent of the BOR and each of its colleges or universities to provide safety, privacy, and support to victims of sexual misconduct and intimate partner violence.

The BOR strongly encourages victims to report any instance of sexual misconduct, including sexual harassment, sexual assault, sexual exploitation, stalking, and intimate partner violence, as an effective means of taking action by reporting such acts to the appropriate officials and pursuing criminal or disciplinary remedies, or both. The only way that action can be taken against anyone who violates another in such a manner is through reporting. Each and every BOR governing college and university shall provide those who report sexual misconduct with any support necessary, including referral to agencies that provide medical attention, counseling, legal services, advocacy, referrals, and general information regarding sexual misconduct. Each and every BOR governing college and university will preserve the confidentiality of those who report sexual misconduct to the fullest extent possible and allowed by law. All BOR and CSCU employees, victim support persons, and community victim advocates being consulted will make any limits of confidentiality clear before any disclosure of facts takes place. Other than confidential resources as defined above, in addition to employees who qualify as Campus Security Authorities under the Jeanne Clery Act, all BOR and CSCU employees are required to immediately communicate to the designated recipient any disclosure of or report of sexual misconduct received from a student as well as communicate any disclosure or report of sexual misconduct the employee received from another employee when misconduct is related to the business of the institution.

Affirmative consent must be given by all parties before engaging in sexual activity. Affirmative consent means an active, clear and voluntary agreement by a person to engage in sexual activity with another person. Sexual misconduct, as defined herein, is a violation of BOR policies and, in addition, may subject an accused student or employee to criminal penalties. The BOR and each of its governing colleges and universities are committed to providing an environment free of personal offensive. Sexual relationships of any kind between staff, faculty and students are discouraged pursuant to BOR policy.

The Board of Regents for Higher Education hereby directs the Connecticut State Colleges and Universities to implement the policy stated above pursuant to the following provisions:

Texting, Usage and Standards

Consent must be affirmatively given freely, willingly, and knowingly by each participant to desired sexual involvement. Consent is a mutually affirmatively, conscious decision—indicated clearly by words or actions—to engage in mutually accepted sexual contact. Consent may be revoked at any time during the sexual activity by any person engaged in the activity.

Affirmative consent may never be assumed because there is no physical resistance or other negative response. A person who initially consents to sexual activity shall not be deemed not to have affirmatively consented to any activity which occurs after that consent is withdrawn. It is the responsibility of each person to assure that he or she has the affirmative consent of all persons engaged in the sexual activity to engage in the sexual activity and that affirmative consent is sustained throughout the sexual activity. It shall not be a valid excuse to an alleged lack of affirmative consent that the student or employee responding to the alleged violation believed that the student reporting or disclosing the alleged violation consented to the activity (i) because the responding student or employee was intoxicated or reckless or failed to take reasonable steps to ascertain whether the student or employee reporting or disclosing the alleged violation was capable of consent, because the student or employee was unconscious, asleep, unable to communicate due to a mental or physical condition, or incapacitated due to the influence of drugs, alcohol or medication. The existence of a past or current dating or sexual relationship between the persons involved in the alleged violation shall not be determinative of a finding of affirmative consent.

Report of sexual misconduct is the receipt of a communication of an incident of sexual misconduct accompanied by a request for an investigation or adjudication by the institution.

Disclosure is the receipt of any communication of an incident of sexual misconduct that is not accompanied by a request for an investigation or adjudication by the institution.

Sexual misconduct includes engaging in any of the following behaviors:

(a) Sexual harassment, which can include any unwelcome sexual advance or request for sexual favors, or any conduct of a sexual nature when submission to such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or condition of an individual's education or employment; submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as a basis for academic or employment decisions affecting the individual; or such conduct has the purpose or effect of substantially interfering with an individual's academic or work performance or creating an intimidating, hostile or offensive educational or employment environment. Examples of conduct which may constitute sexual harassment include but are not limited to:

- Sexual flirtation, touching, advances or propositions
- Verbal abuse of a sexual nature
- Pressure to engage in sexual activity
- Graphic or suggestive comments about an individual's dress or appearance
- Use of sexually degrading words to describe an individual
- Display of sexually suggestive objects, pictures or photographs
- Sexual jokes
- Stereotyping comments based upon gender
- Threats, demands or suggestions that retention of one's educational status is contingent upon submission or to acquiescence in sexual advances.

Retaliation is prohibited and occurs when a person is subjected to an adverse employment or educational action because he or she made a complaint under this policy or assisted or participated in any manner in an investigation.

(b) Sexual assault shall include but is not limited to a sexual act directed against another person. Without the consent (as defined herein) of the other person or when that person is not capable of giving such consent.

Sexual assault is further defined in sections 53a-70, 53a-70a, 53a-70b, 53a-71, 53a-72a, 53a-72b and 53a-73a of the Connecticut General Statutes.

(c) Sexual exploitation occurs when a person takes non-consensual or abusive sexual advantage of another for anyone's advantage or benefit other than the person being exploited, and that behavior does not otherwise constitute one of the preceding sexual misconduct offenses. Examples of behavior that could rise to the level of sexual exploitation include:

- Prostituting another person;
- Non-consensual visual (e.g., video, photograph) or audio-recording of sexual activity;
- Non-consensual distribution of photos, other images, or information of an individual's sexual activity, intimate body parts, or nakedness, with the intent to or having the effect of embarrassing an individual who is the subject of such images or information;
- Going beyond the bounds of consent (for example, an individual who allows friends to hide in the closet to watch him or her having consensual sex);
- Engaging in non-consensual voyeurism;
- Knowingly transmitting an STI, such as HIV to another without disclosing your STI status;
- Exposing one's genitals in non-consensual circumstances, or inducing another to expose his or her genitals; or
- Possessing, distributing, viewing or forcing others to view illegal pornography.

Sexual exploitation is further defined as a crime in Connecticut State Law.

(d) Intimate partner, domestic and/or dating violence means any physical or sexual harm against an individual by a current or former spouse or partner of that person in a dating or cohabitating relationship with such individual that results from any action by such spouse or partner that may be classified as a sexual assault under section 53a-70, 53a-70a, 53a-70b, 53a-71, 53a-72a, 53a-72b or 53a-73a of the general statutes, stalking under section 53a-181c, 53a-181d or 53a-181e of the general statutes, or domestic or family violence as designated under section 46b-58 of the general statutes. This includes any physical or sexual harm against an individual by a current or former spouse or partner in a dating relationship that results from (1) sexual assault; (2) sexual assault in a spousal or cohabiting relationship; (3) domestic violence; (4) sexual harassment; (5) sexual exploitation, as such terms are defined in this policy.

Offenses that are designated as "domestic violence" are against family or household members or persons in dating or cohabitating relationships and include assaults, sexual assaults, stalking, and violations of protective or restraining orders issued by a court. Intimate partner violence may also include physical abuse, threat of abuse, and emotional abuse.

- Physical abuse includes, but is not limited to, slapping, pulling hair or punching.
- Threat of abuse includes, but is not limited to, threatening to hit, harm or use a weapon on another (whether victim or acquaintance, friend or family member of the victim) or other forms of verbal threat.
- Emotional abuse includes, but is not limited to, damage to one's property, driving recklessly to scare someone, name calling,

Confidential resources are defined as follows: For the Universities, entities with statutory privilege, which include campus based counseling center, health center and pastoral counseling staff members whose official responsibilities include providing mental health counseling to members of the University community as well as on-campus counseling and psychological services, health services providers, member(s) of the clergy, and the local Sexual Assault Crisis Center and Domestic Violence Center. For the Colleges, confidential resources are limited to entities with statutory privilege, such as off campus counseling and psychological services, health services providers, member(s) of the clergy, and the local Sexual Assault Crisis Center and Domestic Violence Center. The personnel of these personnel and agencies are bound by state statutes and professional ethics from disclosing information about reports without written releases.

Information provided to confidential resources by a victim of a sexual misconduct or the person reported to have been the victim of sexual misconduct cannot be disclosed legally to any other person without consent, except under very limited circumstances, such as an imminent threat of danger to self or others or if the reported victim or minor. Therefore, for those who wish to obtain the fullest legal protections and disclose in full confidentiality, he/she must speak with a confidential resource. Each BOF governed college and university will provide a list of such confidential resources in the College or University's geographic region to victims of sexual misconduct as well as publish these resources on line and in various publications.

Where it is deemed necessary for the institution to take steps to protect the safety of the reported victim and/or other members of the campus community, the institution will seek to act in a manner so as not to compromise the privacy or confidentiality of the reported victim of sexual misconduct to the extent reasonably possible.
Mandated Reporting by College and University Employees
Other than confidential resources as defined above, in addition to employees who qualify as Campus Security Authorities under the Jeanne Clery Act, all employees are required to immediately communicate to the institution's designated recipient (e.g., Title IX Coordinator) any disclosure or report of sexual misconduct received from a student regardless of the age of the reported victim. All employees are also required to communicate to the institution's designated recipient (e.g., Title IX Coordinator) any disclosure or report of sexual misconduct received from an employee that impacts employment with the institution or is otherwise related to the business of the institution.

Upon receiving a disclosure or a report of sexual misconduct, employees are expected to supportively, compassionately and professionally offer academic and other accommodations and to provide a referral for support and other services.

Further, in accordance with Connecticut State law, with the exception of student employees, any paid administrator, faculty, staff, athletic director, athletic coach or athletic trainer who, in the ordinary course of their employment, has a reasonable cause to suspect or believe that a person under the age of 18 years has been abused or neglected, has been placed in an imminent harm or has had a non-accidental injury required by law and Board policy to report the incident within twelve hours to their immediate supervisor and to the Department of Children and Families.

Rights of Those Who Report
Those who report any type of sexual misconduct to any BoR governed college or university employee will be informed in a timely manner of all their rights and options, including the necessary steps and potential outcomes of each option. When choosing a reporting resource the following information should be considered:

- All reports of sexual misconduct will be treated seriously and with dignity by the institution.

and, if requested, professional assistance in accessing and using any appropriate campus resources, or local advocacy, counseling, health, and mental health services. All CSCU campuses shall develop and distribute contact information for this purpose as well as provide such information online.

Right to Notify Law Enforcement & Seek Protective and Other Orders
Those who report being subjected to sexual misconduct shall be provided written information about their right to:

- Notify law enforcement and receive assistance from campus authorities in making the notification, and
- Obtain a protective order, apply for temporary restraining order or seek enforcement of an existing order. Such orders include:
  - Standing criminal protective orders;
  - Protective orders issued in cases of stalking, harassment, sexual assault, or risk of injury to or impeding the moral of a child;
  - Temporary restraining orders or protective orders prohibiting the harassment of a witness;
  - Family violence protective orders.

Employee Conduct Procedures
Employees who are reported to have engaged in sexual misconduct are subject to discipline in accordance with the procedures applicable to the employee's classification of employment.

Student Conduct Procedures
The Student Code of Conduct provides the procedures for the investigation, definitions of terms, and resolution of complaints regarding student conduct, including those involving sexual misconduct, as defined herein.

The Title IX Coordinator can assist in explaining the student conduct process. The Student Code of Conduct provides an equal, fair, and timely process (including administrative resolution or a formal adjudication) for reported victims and accused students.

Reported victims of sexual misconduct shall have the opportunity to request that an investigation or disciplinary proceedings begin promptly; that such disciplinary proceedings shall be conducted by an official trained annually in issues relating to sexual misconduct and shall use the preponderance of evidence (more likely than not) standard in making a determination concerning the alleged sexual misconduct.

Both the reported victim of sexual misconduct and the accused student are entitled to be accompanied to any meeting or proceeding relating to the allegation of sexual misconduct by an advisor or support person of their choice, provided the involvement of such advisor or support person does not result in the postponement or delay of such meeting or proceeding. Both the reported victim and the accused student shall have the opportunity to present evidence and witnesses on their behalf during any disciplinary proceeding.

Both the reported victim and accused student are entitled to be provided at the same time written notice of the results of any disciplinary proceeding, notice their right to appeal within one (1) business day after the conclusion of such proceeding, which notice shall include the following: the name of the accused student, the violation committed, if any, and any sanction imposed upon the accused student. Sanctions may range from a warning to expulsion, depending upon the behavior and its severity of the violation(s). The reported victim shall have the same right to request a review of the decision of any disciplinary proceeding in the same manner and on the same basis as shall the accused student; however, in such cases, if a review by any reported victim is granted, among the other actions that may be taken, the sanction of the disciplinary proceeding may also be increased. The reported victim and the accused student are entitled to be simultaneously provided written notice of any change in the results of any disciplinary proceeding prior to the time when the results become final as well as to be notified when such results become final.

In accordance with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), the accused student and the reported victim have the right to keep their identities confidential.

Dissemination of this Policy

Upon adoption by the Board all CCSU Institutions shall, upon receipt, immediately post and maintain this policy at all times in an easily accessible manner on each institution's website. This policy shall thereafter be annually provided to all Title IX Coordinators, campus law enforcement officers and security personnel, and all other campus personnel. Further, this policy shall be presented at student orientation and at student awareness and prevention trainings, and made broadly available at each campus. The policy shall be expanded upon by each institution to provide resources and contact information specific to their institution and geographic area as set forth above.

Procedures and Timetables for Processing of Complaints

In accordance with Section 468-6B-65 of the Affirmative Action Regulations of Connecticut State Agencies, the following procedures provide an internal process for the handling of complaints involving claims of discrimination or harassment, including sexual misconduct/violence.

This procedure is designed to further implement Connecticut State University (CCSU) policies relating to nondiscrimination in Education and Employment, Sexual Harassment and Sexual Misconduct by providing a process through which individuals alleging violations of these policies may pursue a complaint. This includes allegations of retaliation, discrimination, harassment, sexual orientation, ancestry, color, disability, gender identity or expression, genetics, national origin, marital status, race, sex (including pregnancy, transgender status, sexual harassment and misconduct), religious creed, sexual orientation, marital status, or any other status protected by federal or state laws.

When responding to an internal complaint, disclosure of information relating to the internal complaint and the identity of the complainant will be handled with appropriate sensitivity and in accordance with applicable laws.

A. Process for Filing Internal Complaints of Alleged Discrimination or Sexual Harassment and Misconduct

1. Who may file:

Any employee, applicant for employment, student, applicant for admission or any other person, including visitors.

2. When to file:

Complainant(s) are encouraged to file as soon as possible but must file no later than ninety (90) calendar days following the complainant's first knowledge of the alleged discriminatory act.
Once filed, the internal complaint must be resolved within ninety (90) calendar days.

3. Where to File:

The Office of Diversity and Equity handles internal complaints alleging violations of the Non-Discrimination Opportunity in Education and Employment, Sexual Harassment and/or EOC/CSU Sexual Misconduct, Sexual Assault and Intimate Partner Violence policies. The Chief Diversity Officer (CDO) or her designate reviews and, if necessary, conducts an investigation into each complaint that, if proven, would constitute a violation of CSU policies. Complaints against students are filed with the Office of Student Conduct. See CSU Student Code of Conduct and Statement of Disciplinary Procedures.

Reports against the President, Chief Diversity Officer or Office of Diversity and Equity Employees

If a discrimination complaint is made against the President, Chief Diversity Officer or an Office of Diversity and Equity employee alleging that these employees directly or personally engaged in discriminatory, the complaint shall be referred to the Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities (CHRO) for review and, if appropriate, investigation by the Department of Administrative Services, except if any such complaint has been filed with the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission or the Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities, the CHRO or Department of Administrative Services may rely upon the process of the applicable commission in lieu of such investigation.

A. Process for Filing Complaints

At the time an individual makes a higher complaint, the CDO or designee will provide the individual with the University's respective policies on non-discrimination, sexual harassment and/or EOC/CSU Sexual Misconduct, Sexual Assault and Intimate Partner Violence Policy and the procedures and timelines for processing internal complaints.

No Basis to Proceed.

At any point during the processing of the complaint, the CDO or designee may determine that there is no basis to proceed under the Non-Discrimination in Education and Employment Policy, Sexual Harassment Policy and/or Sexual Misconduct Policy. The CDO or designee shall refer the complaint as appropriate. The CDO or designee shall notify the complainant and, if necessary, the respondent of the outcome as appropriate, in accordance with applicable state and federal laws.

Investigatory Process

The Office of Diversity and Equity shall provide the respondent with a written summary of the complaint, including a description of the allegations of discrimination, within ten (10) business days of the filing of the complaint. If the complaint is in writing, the Office of Diversity and Equity shall provide the respondent with a copy of the written complaint or summary of the complaint. Disclosure of information shall be in accordance with applicable state and federal laws.

The CDO or designee shall weigh all evidence pertaining to the internal complaint, make findings of fact, recommendations, and, with the consent of the parties and appropriate executive officer, propose settlements to the University President. Without investigation, the CDO or designee may also mediate issues between the parties where the allegations, if proven, would not constitute a violation of CSU policies.

A complaint is one that is presented in good faith and with the intention of bringing to the University's attention an alleged violation of the policies of the University.

2. Unsustainable Complaints. If the CDO or designee determines that the evidence is insufficient to support the allegations, he or she shall dismiss the complaint.

Supportable Complaints. If the CDO concludes that the allegations are supported by the evidence, he or she will report his or her findings and recommendations to the appropriate administrator.

5. Disciplinary Action

If the CDO or designee believes that disciplinary action against the respondent may be warranted at this or a subsequent stage, a recommendation will be made to the Chief Human Resource Office (for employees) or the Office of Student Conduct (for students).

B. Process for Filing an Appeal

Within fifteen (15) calendar days of the issuance of the Chief Diversity Officer's determination, the complainant or respondent may file an appeal of the determination. The appeal and all supporting documentation shall be submitted in writing to the University President, with copies to the CDO and other parties to the complaint.

If an appeal of the CDO's determination is filed, the University President or designee shall conduct a review of said appeal and issue a written decision within thirty (30) calendar days of the appeal. The University President shall notify all parties in writing of his/her decision.

AAUP members have the option of appealing the decision using a review panel as outlined in the AAUP Complaint Procedure.
Policy Regarding Reporting Suspected Abuse or Neglect of a Child

The Board of Regents for Higher Education (BOR) of the Connecticut State Colleges and Universities (CSCU) accept that institutions of higher education foster educational opportunities for people under the age of 18 years. The BOR, in acknowledging the special care required for children, strives to the utmost to protect children on its campuses or in any form of abuse or neglect.

Pursuant to state law, each of the exemption from student employees, any paid administrator, faculty, staff, athletic director, athletic coach, or athletic trainer is permitted the duty to report any witness to or suspected abuse or neglect of a child on a CSCU campus to the immediate supervisor in addition to DCF. The supervisor must report the incident to the director or president. The director or president will then must inform the campus President and the System Office. The report shall be made to the Department of Children and Families (DCF) within the Department of Human Resources or other designated.

If the director or vice president reasonably believes that a reportable incident has occurred, and if the suspect perpetrator is a BOR or CSCU employee, the principal immediately contact their Child Human Resources Officer who shall assign an objective person to investigate the report. An employee under investigation may be placed on administrative leave pending the results of the investigation.

Employees who report suspicions of abuse or neglect are protected from any disciplinary action unless the report is determined to have been maliciously made. An employee who fails to report, but is later determined to have had previous knowledge of the abuse, may be subject to discipline.

A report is required if there is reasonable cause to suspect that a person under the age of 18 is in imminent harm, has had no accidental injuries or has been abused or neglected. Reasonable cause to believe or suspect child abuse or neglect is sufficient to make a report.

All staff designated as mandatory reporters are required to take the DCF Mandated Reporter Training, either online or in person, and Mandated Reporter Training will be included in New Employee Orientation. Compliance with training will be monitored by each CSCU campus's Department of Human Resources. A copy of this policy shall be disseminated annually to all employees.

Reasonable steps will be taken to preserve privacy while promptly investigating and responding to the report. While the institution will strive to maintain the confidentiality of the information reported, which information may be subject to privacy requirements of the Family Education Rights Privacy Act (FERPA), the institution will also fulfill its duty to protect the CSCU community and to assure that the appropriate disciplinary processes are implemented.

BOR approved 1/17/14 and Revised 1/31/15 requires annual distribution of employees.

Consensual Relationship Policy

Central Connecticut State University (CCSU) stand for excellence in teaching and learning in an environment of inclusion, trust, and respect among all members of the university community. All employees with managerial, supervisory, or evaluative responsibilities for students or other employees carry a special responsibility to adhere to the highest ethical and professional standards and to avoid any actions that may appear to undermine this atmosphere of trust and respect and thereby hinder the University's educational missions.

Because of the inherent imbalance of power and need for trust, all employees with evaluative or supervisory authority over students and employees should be aware that dating or sexual relationships that might be appropriate in other circumstances have inherent dangers when students, or between an employee and a student.

Consensual relationships can create real conflicts of interest and appearances of impropriety that can impair the integrity of academic and employment decisions. There are also special risks in any sexual or romantic relationships between individuals in inherently unequal positions of power, such as students and teachers or supervisors and employees. In addition, although these relationships may be consensual, they may easily be later characterized as non-consensual given the inherent power differential between the parties, and such relationships could potentially lead to sexual harassment charges.

Prohibited

Between employee and student: Consensual romantic, dating, or sexual relationships between any employees and any student over whom that employee exercises direct or otherwise significant academic, supervisory, or evaluative authority or influence are prohibited at Central Connecticut State University. The evaluative relationship can take a variety of forms, such as teacher to student, Ann Amblard, Assistant Professor, Department of Psychology, Coordinator, 21, 2019; Revised June 6, 2014; Revised June 15, 2016; Revised June 12, 2017.

The Jeanne Clery Disclosure of Campus Security Policy and Campus Crime Statistics Act (20 USC § 1092(f)) is the landmark federal law, originally known as the Campus Security Act, that requires colleges and universities across the United States to disclose information about crime on and around their campuses. The law is tied to an institution’s participation in federal student financial aid programs and it applies to most institutions of higher education both public and private. The Act is enforced by the United States Department of Education.

Did you know?

Electronic harassment can include text messages, posts to social media sites such as, Facebook, email and other electronic methods used to harass someone.
What is Sexual Assault?

Sexual assault is a crime and it will not be tolerated at Central Connecticut State University. It includes, but is not limited to, a sexual act directed against another person without the consent (as defined in the Board of Regents' Sexual Misconduct Policy) of the other person or when that person is not capable of giving such consent. Any person can be a victim or a perpetrator.

Examples: rape, attempted rape, and/or intentional touching a person's body for sexual gratification without their consent.

What is Consent?

Consent is active, both parties say "yes." It is ongoing and can be withdrawn at any time without fear or explanation. Consent is a must for every form of sexual activity every time. You have the right to withdraw consent even if you have consented to sexual activity with the person in the past. Consent is...

- agreeing to sexual behavior willingly;
- obtaining consent is the responsibility of the person initiating the sexual activity;
- not valid if forced, intoxicated or coerced;
- not valid when judgment is impaired by the use of alcohol or drugs or if the person is sleeping or unconscious.

State law is very clear that having sexual intercourse with someone who cannot consent is RAPE.

If someone tells you about a sexual assault...

Remember

1. Listen and don't form opinions
2. Don't judge the severity of the situation based on their response to it
3. Empower them to make their own decisions
4. Trust their word and help them
5. Tell them you believe them
6. Let them know they are not alone

What is Intimate Partner, Domestic and/or Dating Violence?

Intimate partner, domestic, and dating violence includes acts of violence or threats of violence that occur between individuals who are family or household members, or persons in a current or former dating or cohabitating relationship. Intimate partner violence may include physical abuse, emotional abuse and threats of abuse.

Examples: assaults, rape, domestic or family violence involving physical force, stalking, threats that contains obscene material, electronic communications that contain serious threats of physical violence, and violation of a protective or restraining order issued by a court.
What is Stalking?

Stalking is being defined as repetitive and unwanted contact of another person. A contact may also be reasonable apprehension of imminent physical harm or affect one's ability to perform daily functions. It is when someone repeatedly contacts you, bothers you, or makes you feel threatened by you when you do not want them to do so.

Examples include:
- Unwanted communications (email, text, instant messaging, and other electronic messages)
- Following and/or making you feel uncomfortable
- Damaging personal property
- Showing up where you go, or sending unwanted gifts.

If it doesn't feel right or safe, it probably isn't.

Office of Student Conduct (OSC)

The OSC enforces social responsibility and maintains discipline in a fair and impartial manner. The staff is available to answer any questions or concerns about University behavioral standards and the OSC Student Code of Conduct and Statement of Disciplinary Procedures.

- Investigates allegations involving students
- Reviews discipline cases
- Provides referrals to ODSI and community programs

CCSU Police

The CCSU Police Department will give its full assistance in response to a report of sexual assault. The police department will:

- Obtain medical assistance
- Conduct an initial investigation
- Establish a safety plan
- Obtain a court order to prevent the victim/survivor
- Connect the victim/survivor with support services

If the alleged assault occurs off-campus, CCSU police can assist in connecting the police department of the town in which it took place.

How Can I Help Stop Sexual Assault/Violence?

Sexual assault and interpersonal violence are complex and may be issues on college campuses today. In order to address this reality, all members of the campus community and relevant outside groups must work together. Public safety is everyone's responsibility. Consider the following ways you can work to stop sexual violence and interpersonal violence:

- Speak up. Take a stand in situations that could escalate.
- Talk openly with your friends about these issues.
- Encourage student leaders, coaches, professors, and others to provide information about sexual assault to students.
- Use the resources listed in this brochure to inform yourself and help plan activities and programs for campus clubs and organizations.
- Don't be afraid to get involved.
- Take care of yourself and your friends.

Student Rights

CCSU has protocols and procedures in place to respond to reports of sexual violence. When a report involves students, all involved have equal rights throughout the disciplinary process, including the right to:

- Select an advisor or support person of their choosing and to bring that person to any meetings or proceedings
- Present a statement, evidence and witnesses on their behalf
- Receive information, in a timely manner, that will be used at the hearing by other parties
- Have a pre-hearing meeting
- Be informed, in writing, of the outcome of the disciplinary proceedings and any sanctions imposed
- Appeal the outcome of the disciplinary proceedings

These rights were established by University policies and state and federal legislation that prohibit sex discrimination. For information on Title IX, see www.ods.ccsu.edu.

Helpful Tips

If you are the victim of sexual or interpersonal violence:

- Go to a safe place
- Preserve evidence
- Call someone you trust such as the Office of Victim Advocacy (860-832-3791), a staff or faculty member, your hall director, resident assistant (RA), or campus advocate at the local Sexual Assault Crisis Services
- Call CCSU Police at 860-832-3075 or dial 911
- Seek medical care and/or counseling

Your Rights

- Be treated with respect and dignity
- Not be judged based on your race, color, age, sex, sexual orientation, or any other characteristic
- Not be called to testify about your sexual or violent orientation, and any sexual or violent behavior of the attacker or relationship to you
- You may refuse to answer questions about the sexual assault, your sexual orientation, and how you were involved
- You have confidential conversations with a CCSU licensed counselor in Student Wellness Services
- Decide if you want to make a police report
- Have an advocate accompany you to medical, law enforcement and legal proceedings
- Request that someone you can trust engage with you in the examination room
- Ask questions and get answers regarding tests, examinations, medications, treatment or police reports

Background Information and Prevalence of Interpersonal Violence

- About 23% of college-aged women and 11% of college-aged men report experiencing stalking in their lifetime
- About 20% of college-aged women and 5% of college-aged men report experiencing sexual violence in their lifetime

Are you a Victim/Survivor of Sexual or Interpersonal Violence?
You Have Options: The Choice is Yours.

- Go to a safe place.
- Consider calling someone you trust—The CCSU Office of Victim Advocacy or a confidential off-campus provider are there for you.
- Seek medical care and/or counseling on campus, or through local resources.
- Preserve evidence.
- Call CCSU Police at 860-832-2375 or 911 (24 hours/7 days).

CCSU is committed to ending sexual assault, interpersonal violence and stalking. These acts may be a violation of the law and the CCSU Student Code of Conduct. It is essential that when they are reported to CCSU officials, they are treated seriously and consistent with campus policies and procedures, and State laws.

We believe that everyone has the right to an environment free of violence and fear. Our goal is to strengthen and improve the delivery of services, encourage the reporting of offenses, and to hold responsible persons accountable while protecting the rights of all involved parties.

Rights of Victims/Survivors
- Be treated with respect and dignity.
- Not be judged based on your race, age, class, gender, sexual orientation, the offender’s relationship to you and any other protected class.
- You can refuse to answer questions about the sexual assault, your sexual orientation, and your sexual, medical (including HIV status), and mental health histories.
- Have confidential conversations with a CCSU licensed counselor in Student Wellness Services.
- Decide if you want to make a police report.
- Have an advocate accompany you to medical, law enforcement and legal proceedings.
- Request that someone you are comfortable with stay with you in the examination room.
- Ask questions and get answers regarding any tests, examinations, medications, treatments or police reports.

How Can We Help Stop Violence?
The campus community and outside agencies must work together. Public safety is everyone’s responsibility. By increasing our knowledge and accepting our ability to make a difference at CCSU, we can begin to reduce the risk. Consider the following ways to stop violence:

- Don’t be afraid to get involved.
- Take care of yourself and your friends.
- Talk openly with friends about these issues.
- Speak up. Take a stand in situations that could escalate to abuse and violence.

Filing a Criminal Complaint and Orders for Protection

You may choose to file a report with the police within the jurisdiction where the incident occurred. For on-campus incidents call the CCSU Police at 860-832-2375 or 911 (24/7). If you don’t know which law enforcement agency to contact, CCSU can assist you.

You have the right to obtain a protective order, apply for a temporary restraining order or seek enforcement of an existing order against the perpetrator. If the perpetrator is not affiliated with CCSU, at your request, CCSU can still take actions for your protection and comfort on campus. The CCSU Police or the Office of Victim Advocacy can provide guidance on the process of requesting one of these orders.

You have the right to be on the CCSU campus. Regardless of whether or not you choose to file a formal complaint, CCSU’s Office of Victim Advocacy can assist in requesting reasonable accommodations including changing academic, living, campus transportation or working situations. Each person’s situation may be different. We will support you in determining what is best for you.

You may want to talk to someone where you feel most comfortable. These offices are not confidential. Consider asking about their limits of their confidentiality before you sit down to talk.

Using a Preferred 1st Name on Campus:
CCSU now offers a preferred 1st name option for student information. This option can help Transgender & gender non-conforming students navigate academic and campus life prior to or without initiating a legal name change process.

Once fully activated, a preferred name will replace your legal name as it appears on course rosters, banner advising transcripts, Blackboard, the CollegiateLink, your CCSU ID card, and the CCSU email directory display names, and email address. Activating the P/N option is easy and private! Submit a webform online on the Registrar’s office webpage. Contact LGBT@ccsu.edu for more info.
Dear Colleagues:

I am pleased and honored to welcome you back to campus as we begin this new era in our University's distinctive history.

I look forward to meeting many of you this Thursday during the reception at 3:00 pm in Alumni Hall.

I also hope to have the opportunity to speak with you during the semester to learn more about you, your teaching, your creative and scholarly work, and about what you believe we can do to make a CCSU education one of the finest in the state, region, and nation. I truly believe this is a transformational moment in the life of this great University, and I am excited to begin our work together.

Sincerely yours,

Subject: Have you seen the red flags on campus? A message from Rosa Rodriguez, Chief Diversity and Title IX Officer

Please send this to all employees on Wednesday, September 14, 2016 on behalf of the Chief Diversity Officer.

Dear Colleagues:

All across our campus you will find clusters of small, red flags which are symbolic to CCSU’s Red Flag Campaign aimed at stopping dating and interpersonal violence on our campus. This Campaign helps students identify “red flags” for dating violence in their friends’ relationships and encourages them to intervene. College students are at extremely high risk of either acting as perpetrator or being a victim of dating physical or sexual violence during their college years. Who is likely to witness this type of abuse? The answer is their friends.

The Red Flag Campaign features a series of eight posters that illustrate “red flags” that might be present in a relationship in which dating violence is occurring. The purpose is to encourage students to speak up when they see red flags for dating violence in their friends’ relationships. Friends and family members are the most likely group of people to seek resources and information to help victims of dating/domestic violence. For college students surrounded by their peer group, this may be the most important intervention they have.

There are many red flags that indicate dating violence is occurring in relationships. Name-calling, excessive jealousy, blaming, isolation, stalking, and physical and/or sexual abuse are all indicators of violence. Many times these behaviors are subtle and/or kept hidden away from friends or family. But over time, these behaviors become increasingly dangerous and noticeable. What if we all took ownership of our community and got enough momentum going that one less person had to go through this?

We are reaching out to highlight ways you can support the campaign:

1. Talk about the campaign. The more we are comfortable talking about dating violence the better we are prepared to address it when we see it.
2. Encourage your classes (and consider giving extra credit) to attend the keynote presentations and other scheduled events:
   a. Wednesday, September 21, 2016 at 4:30 PM in Alumni Hall -- Leslie Morgan Stelner -- Crazy Love Discussion
   b. Monday, October 3, 2016 at 1:40 PM in Alumni Hall -- Impact of Domestic - A Professional Panel Discussion
3. Invite a representative from the Office of Diversity and Equity or Red Flag Campaign team to your classroom or student group for a 15 minute presentation (Email Sarah Dodd at sarahdodd@ccsu.edu to schedule a presentation).
4. Request a poster (Email Nicholas D’Agostino at nicholas.dagostino@ccsu.edu).

Special thanks to all of those who made this campaign happen: Diversity and Equity, The Office of Victim Advocacy, Administrative Affairs, Residence Life, Student Affairs, Student Wellness Services Athletics, Psychology Department, Criminology and Criminal Justice Department, Committee on the Concerns of Women, Student Government Association, Women’s Center, Student Activities and Leadership Development, Marketing and Communication, Greek Life, CCSU Sexual Assault Resource Team.

Rosa Rodríguez
Subject: Stand Up CCSU

Dear Colleagues:

The Office of Diversity and Equity is a proud supporter of the 2016 Stand Up CCSU Campaign – a sexual assault prevention initiative developed by CCSU students, with feedback from CCSU faculty, to bring awareness to the issue of sexual assault on our campus and to engage their peers in a dialogue around bystander intervention.

There are a variety of ways for you to get involved in the campaign.

Classroom or Student Group Presentations:

A 10 – 15 minute classroom presentation co-facilitated by a trained student Community Organizer and Sarah Dodd, Victim Advocacy and Violence Prevention Specialist. The presentation focuses on campus resources, myths and facts about sexual assault, and a brief discussion on bystander intervention. Contact Sarah Dodd at sarahdodd@ccsu.edu to schedule.

Provide Extra-Credit/Incentive to attend an event

Stand Up CCSU is sponsoring four major events. You are encouraged to provide incentives to students to attend the events below. For more information or for assistance in signing in students at events please contact sarahdodd@ccsu.edu

The Hunting Ground: Film and Discussion
March 9, 2016; 6:00 pm; Memorial Hall Constitution Room,
At this event we will screen a documentary that focuses on the response of college campuses to reports of sexual assault. A Q & A with Rosa Rodriguez, CCSU’s Title IX Coordinator, will follow.

The Mask You Live In: Film and Discussion with Dr. Jason Sikorski
March 11, 2016; 2:30 pm; Philbrick Room (Student Center)
At this event we will screen The Mask You Live In, a documentary that follows boys and young men as they struggle to stay true to themselves while negotiating America’s narrow definition of masculinity. A discussion facilitated by Dr. Jason Sikorski will follow.

Stand Up Day: March 31
12:00 pm – 4:00 pm; on-going outside of Student Center
Throughout the afternoon on March 31 trained community organizers will have information on bystander intervention and activities available for students who would like to practice their intervention skills.

Stand Up CCSU PSA Screening
April 13th, 5:30 pm; Memorial Hall Constitution Room
Throughout the fall 2015 and spring 2016 semester students in the Communication Department have been developing PSA’s for the Stand Up campaign. Join us as we screen the final products.
Hang a Stand Up CCSU poster in your Office

CCSU students have developed their own poster campaign. Volunteer to hang a Stand Up CCSU poster in your office or work station by contacting sarahdedd@ccsu.edu.

Thank you all for your continued efforts in sexual assault prevention on our campus.

Best wishes,

Rosa Rodriguez

The Red Flag Campaign – Fall Semester 2016

Final Report

Description:
The Red Flag Campaign (RFC) uses an evidence-based, bystander intervention strategy to address sexual assault, dating violence and stalking on college campuses. At CCSU the campaign includes the distribution of red flags on campus, a poster series, classroom presentations and several key note speakers.

Red Flag Committee
A campus wide committee worked together to implement the campaign. Chaired by Nicholas D’Agostino (Office of Diversity and Equity) and Kathy Bantley (Criminology and Criminal Justice) the committee was comprised of students, faculty and staff from Student Government, Residence Life, Health Services, Women’s Center, University Police, Office of Diversity and Equity, Psychological Sciences, Criminology and Criminal Justice and the YWCA of New Britain.

Goals
The goals of the RFC included:
- To build bystander intervention skills in the student population
- To improve student understanding of the different forms dating violence can take
- To bring awareness to the issue of dating violence in the college community

Initiatives

Classroom Presentations
- Facilitated presentations in over 23 classrooms across various disciplines reaching approximately 800 students (a slight decrease (5%) from previous campaign.

Posters & Banners
- Posters – Layering of three different CCSU created posters to add effect and visibility of intimate partner violence. Traditional RFC posters also utilized.

Tabling
- Student Center Tabling (once or twice a week during campaign (approximately 200 students received educational information)
- Hillside Cafeteria (approximately 75 students received education information)
- Meet the Greek Event (approximately 75 students received educational information)
- Presentation to Athletic Department (approximately 50 people received information)
- Homecoming football game (approximately 200 students received educational information)
- Tabling – Volleyball game

Keynote Speakers
Leslie Morgan Steiner, “Crazy Love” 500 (approx.) students in attendance including NCAA athletes

Other Campaign Activities:

CCSU Red Flag Campaign 2016 – Final Report
- Criminal Justice Panel; Legal Consequences of Domestic Violence (75 attended)
- Student Center
  - Dressed statue of Kalser in Red Flag outfit
  - Banner in Devil's Den, television screens, and memorial hall (new red lights for evening on memorial hall)
- Door tags in Residence Halls
- E-mail to campus from Rosa Rodríguez, Title IX Coordinator
- Promotion at Title IX Training on October 11, 2017
- Scavenger Hunt – While only 4 people participated, the hunt itself was a success and can be replicated for future campaigns.
- Product Drive for Prudence Crandall – donations brought in over 300 items for this product drive to support our local shelter.
- Gave away approximately 500 red flag campaign t-shirts to students, faculty, staff and family visitors

Total Direct Contact (Training/Events): Approximately 1,700 (10% increase from 2014)

RFC Survey

Description: Student workers from the Office of Victim Advocacy randomly asked students in the CCSU Student Center to fill out a brief survey.

Total # of participants: 78

Results:
- 85% of students who did see physical red flags on campus reviewed a Red Flag poster
- 76% of students stated that the Red Flag Campaign increased their knowledge about relationship violence
- 86% of students stated that if a friend was affected by relationship violence they would say something

Overall Outcomes
- Maintained student contact. The RFC 2016 expanded education efforts and directly reached more students and staff with educational content than past campaigns
- Events lead to learning. Students report learning about bystander intervention, social norm change and different aspects of abusive behavior through educational events
- New faculty allies. Faculty from atypical disciplines such as computer science and geography engaged in the campaign, allowing RFC to reach students who might not otherwise focus in the classroom on issues like interpersonal violence.

At 22, Leslie Morgan Steiner seemed to have it all: a Harvard diploma, a glamorous job at Seventeen magazine, a funky New York City apartment. Plus a handsome, funny, street-smart boyfriend who adored her. But behind a façade of success, this golden girl hid a dark secret. She'd made a mistake shared by millions: she fell in love with the wrong person.

At first Leslie and Conor seemed as perfect together as their fairytale wedding. Then came the fights she tried to ignore: he pushed her down the stairs of the house they bought together, poured coffee grinds over her hair as she dressed for a critical job interview, choked her during an argument, and threatened her with a gun. Several times, he came close to making good on his promise to kill her. With each attack, Leslie lost another piece of herself.

Gripping and utterly compelling, New York Times bestseller Crazy Love takes you inside the violent, devastating world of abusive love. Why did Leslie stay? She thought she loved him. Find out for yourself if she had fallen truly in love – or into a psychological trap.

Today, Leslie Morgan Steiner is an expert on violence against women and other women's issues. Her TED Talk about surviving domestic violence, titled "From the Ivy League to a Gun at My Head," has been viewed by over three million people. She serves as a celebrity board member for the One Love Foundation, in honor of slain University of Virginia senior Yeardley Love; the National Domestic Violence Hotline; Liz Claiborne's MADE council; and a former spokeswoman for The Harriet Tubman Center in Minneapolis, the country's oldest shelter for abused women and children.

She is a regular national television and radio guest, appearing on National Public Radio, NBC's Today Show, The Diane Rehm Show, MSNBC, Fox News, and other programs. She holds a BA in English from Harvard College. Her first job was as an editor at Seventeen Magazine; she financed her MBA in Marketing from Wharton by writing for Seventeen, Mademoiselle, New England Monthly and Money Magazine. She is a member of The UC Hastings School of Law "Wise Women" council.

She is also the editor of the anthology Mommy Wars and a former columnist for washingtonpost.com. She currently writes the Two Cents on Modern Motherhood column for ModernMom.com. The ethics of global surrogacy is the subject of her November 2013 book, The Baby Chase, as well as a September 2014 TEDTalk.

She lives with her three children in Washington, DC.
Stand UP CCSU – Spring Semester 2017

Stand Up CCSU is a student-led bystander intervention campaign that focuses on the prevention of sexual assault, intimate partner violence and stalking.

Summary of Initiatives

Peer Education Program
Stand Up CCSU is primarily led by students. In the fall of 2016 recruitment began for the Stand Up CCSU Community Organizer program. After an application and interview process, twelve students were ultimately selected to be a part of the program. These students were provided a full day of training on sexual and interpersonal violence and prevention strategies. They then facilitated classroom presentations, developed a poster campaign and planned outreach events.

Twenty-Four (24) Bystander Intervention Classroom Presentations
At the beginning of the spring 2017 semester a sub-committee of community organizers developed a twenty minute presentation for classrooms with assistance from their advisor. They then reached out to faculty across campus. The community organizers co-facilitated presentations in 24 classrooms, directly reaching approximately 800 students. Their presentation focused on sexual assault myths, bystander intervention and resources on campus. They reached students from a variety of disciplines including math, English, business, manufacturing, criminal justice, sociology, psychology and geology.

Outreach Events

The Hunting Ground: Film Screening and Guided Discussion
Description: Viewing of the award winning film, The Hunting Ground followed by a guided discussion facilitated by the Stand Up Community Organizers.
Number of Participants: 25

Courage through Controversy: Standing up to Rape Culture
Kamillah Willingham
Description: This keynote address explored rape myths that cloud our understanding of sexual violence, the importance of compassion for others and ourselves as we challenge rape culture and the future of the movement to end gender-based violence.
Number of participants: 350 (approx.)

Stand Up Day
Description: At this outdoors event, the Stand Up Community Organizers provided interactive activities for CCSU students to practice and think deeper about bystander intervention.
Number of participants: 400 (approx.)

Free Zumba Class and Clothing Drive for the YWCA Sexual Assault Crisis Services (SACS)
Description: Participants at this event were able to attend a free Zumba class if they brought a donation item for the YWCA of New Britain SACS. Prior to the class, representatives of the YWCA SACS gave a brief presentation on their services.
Number of participants: 30

Poster Campaign
The community organizers began developing the poster campaign during their initial training. After much reflection they developed a campaign that featured each of the community organizers in a poster with a message that either challenged a rape myth or sent a message of support to survivors. As a group they designed the concept, took the photographs and created an implementation plan. Additionally, the organizers invited the President of the university to be featured in a poster. Thirteen unique posters were developed and distributed throughout campus.

Social Media
Photos, events, poster campaign promotion and links were shared on an on-going basis on Facebook, Twitter and Instagram.
Red Flag Campaign

Content from this presentation comes from the Red Flag Campaign, a project of the Virginia Sexual and Domestic Violence Action Alliance (Action Alliance) www.thesexualviolence.org

The Red Flag Campaign is designed to address dating violence and promote the prevention of dating violence on college campuses.

Dating Violence

occurs in 1 out of every 5 college relationships.

Dating violence is a pattern of abuse behavior in a relationship that is used by one partner to gain or maintain power and control over another. It may be physical, emotional, sexual, psychological, or economic.

What are some examples of Red Flags that might indicate an abusive relationship?

When a person...

- Jealousy
  - Gets angry when his/her partner spends time with other people
  - Calls his/her partner over and over
  - Emotional abuse and victim blame
  - Uses derogatory language to describe partner
  - Constantly finds fault with his/her partner
  - Makes partner feel bad about himself/herself
  - Isolation
  - Makes all the decisions in the relationship
  - Makes his/her partner pay for spending time with other people
  - Persuades his/her partner to give up activities he/she enjoys

- Control
  - Ignores his/her partner's wishes or needs
  - Manipulates or forces partner to do something against his/her will
  - Physical and sexual abuse
  - Cuts or pushes partner
  - Throws or breaks objects
  - Forces his/her partner to have sex or do sexual things
  - Stalking
  - Harasses someone to the point of fear
  - Repeatedly follows someone
  - Sends frequent unwanted messages to someone directly or through friends
Why might a person choose to not say something or do something about the behavior?

Why might a person choose to say something or do something about the behavior?

You're sitting in the Student Center with Joe and Emily who have been dating on and off for about a year. Joe excuses himself to get some coffee. You then notice Emily open Joe’s backpack and take out his phone. She tells you that she has to check his texts, emails and social media to make sure he's not cheating on her. She admits to doing this often because she’s worried about Joe talking with other girls. She then asks that you don't tell Joe.

What could you do if Joe was your friend?

What could you do if Emily was your friend?

You're walking back from class with your friend Kayla whose cell phone is incessantly ringing. You ask her if everything is alright and she states that her ex-boyfriend John has been texting and calling all day. Her phone continued to go off and she appears to be frustrated. Kayla tells you that John needs to know everything she's doing all the time and it's getting annoying especially since she ended the relationship three weeks ago. She also tells you that he comes to campus everyday and barge her to talk about things but she refuses.

How do you respond to Kayla's concerns about John's behavior?

What are some important components of healthy relationships?

On Campus

- Communication: shares thoughts and ideas
- Trust is honest and accountable to his/her partner
- Connection: feels there are other people to rely on besides partner
- Balance: has equal decision-making power
- Safety: is peaceful, is emotionally supportive
- Boundaries: respects someone's personal limits and privacy, recognizes a person's right to end a relationship

NEW PROTOCOL SUBMISSION FORM

SECTION I: GENERAL INFORMATION

1. Study Title: Harassment and Discrimination at CCSU: Employee Survey

2. Today's Date: January 09, 2017

3. Proposed start date of data collection: March 1, 2017

4. Do you expect data collection to continue longer than one calendar year? □ Yes □ No

5. Nature of Study (please check one):
   □ Faculty Research
   □ Dissertation
   □ Master's Thesis/Project
   □ Undergraduate Course/Project (please specify course)
   □ Graduate Course/Project (please specify course)

6. Investigator Information (If there are multiple student investigators, please add extra rows to the table to include this information. Other co-investigators can be listed under #8. If the PI does not provide a complete and valid mailing address, only an electronic copy of the approval/exemption letter will be sent.)

   Principal Investigator: Sarah Dodd
   Institutional Affiliation: Administrative Faculty
   Department: Office of Diversity and Equity
   PI Mailing Address (For approval hard copy):
   Office of Victim Advocacy, Carroll Hall, Rm 248
   1615 Stanley St., PO Box 4010
   New Britain, CT 06050

   Email: Sarah.dodd@ccsu.edu
   Phone: 1-860-832-3795

7. Faculty Advisor Information (If you are a student, please complete the following information about your faculty advisor. Faculty advisors are to review and forward submissions, as well as any subsequent revisions, to HSC on their advisee's behalf)

   Faculty Advisor: __________________________
   Department: __________________________
   FA Mailing Address (For approval hard copy): __________________________
   Email: __________________________

8. Co-Investigator(s) name(s) and department(s): (If applicable)
   Dr. Susan Koski (Department of Criminology and Criminal Justice), Dr. Matthew Healy (Department of Psychological Sciences)

SECTION II: RESEARCH OVERVIEW

1. Please provide a 250 - 500 word summary of your research project. Be sure to include your hypothesis and/or research question, the goals of the proposed study, and the overall study design. Please describe the sequence and timing of all study procedures, especially those that involve human participants and/or data obtained from human participants.

   In the last five years, institutions of higher education have increased their focus on sexual harassment, particularly as it pertains to students. New required trainings, protocols and reporting mechanism have been implemented. However, there is less information available regarding sexual harassment and employees in higher education. The goal of this study is to better understand the experience of CCUS employees, both as targets of and witness to sexual harassment, so as to strengthen policy, protocol and prevention initiatives that are currently in place. Several different research questions have been identified:
   - Are particular sub-groups of CCSU employees experiencing and/or witnessing different levels of sexual harassment in the workplace?
   - What factors impact whether or not an employee reports sexual harassment to CCSU?

   Data will be collected through both an on-line survey and, specifically for employees who do not have regular access to a computer, a paper survey. The timeline of the study procedures is as follows:

- March 2017 – On-line survey is activated and available. Faculty and staff receive first outreach e-mail inviting them to participate in the on-line survey. PI reaches out to Administrative Affairs to schedule opportunities for police, custodians, maintenance and any other employees without regular access to computers to participate with a paper survey.
- April 2017 – On-line survey remains active. A reminder e-mail is sent to employees that they can access the on-line survey. Paper surveys are administered at scheduled times.
- May 2017 – A final reminder e-mail is sent to employees that they can take the on-line survey. The on-line survey is deactivated. Data analysis begins.

2. Does your study involve analysis of existing samples or records?

☐ Yes ☑ No
If yes, whether or not these samples or records are publicly available, please explain how you are authorized to use these records and how you will protect the identities of the people who are described in these records. If the records are publicly available, please include this information in your explanation.

3. Describe the data collection materials you intend to use for this study. Be sure to include what these materials intend to measure.

Please attach as an appendix a copy of all measures, survey instruments, interview guides/questions, and questionnaires you plan to use for your study.

The survey instrument is attached. It will be administered in both an on-line and hard copy, paper format. Part one of the survey includes a variety of demographic questions. Part two asks questions about the participant’s experience as a target of general harassment and their perception of inclusion and diversity at CSU. Part three asks questions about the participant’s experience as a target of sexual harassment and as a witness to sexual harassment in the workplace.

This instrument is intended to measure the prevalence of sexual harassment at CSU. The survey will also provide initial, exploratory information regarding harassment and discrimination. This information will be used to guide the direction of future studies.

4. If you think your study may be exempt, please answer the following question. Otherwise, you may leave this question blank.

Please consult the listing of exemption categories found online at www.csu.ca/hsr into which of the categories do you believe your project falls? (Insert the specific exemption category number here.)

SECTION III: SPONSORS, AFFILIATES, AND COLLABORATORS

1. Is this research funded (through a grant award or other method)?

☐ Yes ☑ No
If yes, please name funding source:

SECTION IV: HUMAN PARTICIPANTS

1. Please describe your sample, including the expected number of human participants, and the anticipated demographics of your sample (e.g. gender, ethnicity, age range, income, education level, and language spoken):
The anticipated number of participants is 400. Participants will all be current employees at CCSU who are at least 18 years old. The sample will include both men and women and a range of ethnicities, age ranges and incomes.

2. Please describe your recruitment procedure, including who will recruit participants, when and where recruitment will take place, and how potential participants will be identified:

Potential participants will be identified due to their status as a CCSU employee. To recruit participants, the Principal Investigator will e-mail all employees an invitation to participate and a link to an online survey. Participants will be informed in the body of the e-mail and in the informed consent page of the survey that it is their choice whetheralue not to participate. Two reminder e-mails will be sent during the recruitment period.

Additionally, accommodations in recruitment will be made for employees who do not have regular access to computers on site. The Principal Investigator will work with the Chief Administrative Officer at CCSU to schedule several sessions where staff in units that do not have regular computer access (e.g., police, custodians, maintenance) can participate in a paper survey. Supervisors in these units will provide their staff a postcard with information on the survey and times that they may attend a session.

Please attach as an appendix to this HSC form copies of all recruitment materials including oral scripts, email notices, web postings, flyers, etc. that you plan to use to advertise your study. If you are recruiting at off-campus sites, written permission from the collaborating institution may be required. Flyers posted at CCSU must display your HSC approval code (which will be given to you upon HSC approval).

2a. Do you plan to recruit participants online?

☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please list the sites from which you plan to recruit participants and please indicate if these sites are public forums or not public forums. Please note that some websites require webmaster approval of all posted survey links. Be sure to note the specific posting requirements for each site.

3. Do you plan to recruit CCSU students through a class that you or one of your faculty collaborators instruct?

☐ Yes ☐ No

If yes, please explain why this population is necessary to the study and indicate what precautions will be taken to minimize potential undue influence or coercion.

If no, specifically is the PI's relationship to the participants? For example, is the PI a supervisor, peer, teacher, or

4. Please check all categories that apply in the table below regarding participants from special populations who you anticipate may be selected for participation in your study:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Category</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Minor</td>
<td>Physically/Psychologically/Physically Impaired</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Prisoners/Inmates</td>
<td>Economically/Socially Disadvantaged</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Pregnant Women/Neonates</td>
<td>Members of the Armed Forces</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Individuals Living with AIDS/HIV</td>
<td>Other (specify)</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

5. Please check all potential risks and in conveniences your human participants may experience as a result of their participation in your research:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Risk</th>
<th>Example</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Minimal Risk</td>
<td>Psychological or physical trauma or pain</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Deception</td>
<td>Embarrassment, disappointment, other disagreeable reactions</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Stress or emotional arousal</td>
<td>Alteration of self-concept (e.g., via knowledge of test scores)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Loss of privacy</td>
<td>Personal material (interviews, opinions, test scores)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Threat to employability</td>
<td>Loss of legal rights</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Other (specify)</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>

5a. Explain all potential risks checked above and indicate what steps will be taken to minimize these risks (such as procedures to minimize changes in self-concept, having M.D. or other appropriately trained individual in attendance, post-deception debriefing, etc.):

The subject of discrimination and sexual harassment may be emotionally upsetting for some individuals. This study does ask questions about a participant's experience with sexual harassment and other forms of harassment which could cause stress or elicit strong emotions. The following steps will be taken to minimize this risk:

For On-Line Participants:
- The body of the e-mail invitation will clearly state that the study asks questions about participant's experience with sexual harassment. This will help participants determine whether they are emotionally able to take the survey at that time, before even opening the survey.
- In the informed consent form and after taking the survey, participants will be directed to a link for the CCSU Employee Assistance Program and encouraged to contact this resource if they feel distressed during or after taking the survey.

For Hand-Copy/Paper Participants:
- Employees who choose to participate in the survey will have reviewed a post card with information on the survey, including that the survey asks questions about a participant's experience with sexual harassment. If they do not feel able to take the survey, for any reason, will be able to opt out.
- All participants will be required to use a privacy partition so as to minimize any potential stress regarding whether or not other participants can see their survey answers. Privacy partitions will be provided by the Principal Investigator.
- All employees that attend a session, whether they complete a survey or not, will be provided brochures for CCSU's confidential Employee Assistance Program. Employees will be encouraged to contact the Employee Assistance Program if they feel distressed during or after completing the survey.
- When participants of the study have completed the study, or if they change their mind in any point during the study, they will be able to leave the room.
6. Can the information you plan to collect be linked to participants directly or indirectly by potentially identifying content?  □ Yes  ☑ No
If yes, please detail what steps you will take to minimize any possible risks to participant confidentiality or anonymity, and what steps you will take to maintain and/or destroy information/data after study completion:

7. Please describe the anticipated benefits of your study to individual participants and to society. If your individual participants may directly or indirectly benefit from your study, please state so here.

The individuals themselves may not receive direct benefit from participating in the survey. However, some participants may feel personal satisfaction in assisting the university in improving the prevention of and response to sexual harassment. The campus community as a whole will benefit from the study. Data collected from the survey will help administrators and practitioners who develop policy, protocol and prevention programs to improve these efforts at scale.

8. Will any compensation or incentive be offered to participants to engage in this study?  □ Yes  ☑ No
If so, please describe:

8a. If course credit is being offered, you MUST offer an alternative way for students to earn credit that does not require research participation. Please describe this alternative:

SECTION V: INFORMED CONSENT

As the designated investigator, you are responsible for taking reasonable steps to ensure that the participants in this study are fully informed about and understand the study. Please keep in mind the population included in your study, and consider developmental level and/or abilities to comprehend the information you provide to enable participants to make an informed decision to consent.

1. Capacity to Consent: Do you anticipate enrolling any non-English speakers, minors or participants with decisional impairment?

☐ Yes  ☑ No

"Decisional impairment refers to a limitation or incapacity that is not part of normal growth and development such as a cognitive or emotional disorder.

2. Parent/Guardian Permission and Assent: If enrolling children and proposed activities fall outside of normal classroom practice, state how parents/guardians will provide permission, whether the child's assent will be obtained, and if assent will be written or oral. Provide a copy of the script to be used if oral assent will be obtained.

Studies that involve only normal classroom activity do not need to obtain parent/guardian permission nor students' assent, however, you may wish to send an information letter to parents/guardians about your proposed study.

3. Please classify your proposed consenting process: (Please attach as an appendix to the HSC form a copy of each consent form or script you plan to use.) For sample consent forms, please consult our website at www.ccct.edu/hsc.

☐ Participants will be given a traditional consent form to read, sign and return to the researcher(s).
☐ Participants will be given an information sheet to read.
☑ Participants will be briefed orally by a research associate and given an information sheet.
☐ Participants will be briefed orally only.
☑ Participants will be given an online survey consent statement to read and acknowledge.
☐ None: The proposed interventions involve normal classroom activity.

SECTION VI: INVESTIGATOR CERTIFICATIONS

1. Federally Required Ethics Education: I certify that I have completed a generally accepted research ethics education program. Please include a copy of your certificate of completion with your submission.

☑ I have completed the NIH Human Subjects Tutorial. Date of completion: March 16, 2015.

☐ I have met this requirement through other means. Date of completion:

2. Drug-Free Certification: As a condition of approval of this research, I certify that I will not engage in unlawful manufacturing, distribution, dispensing, possession or use of a controlled substance in conducting any activity associated with this research. (45 CFR 620, subpart B, Appendix C)

Investigator check here to certify: Add date and type initials here: 12/12/2016

3. Scientific Misconduct Statement: I certify that I am aware that Central Connecticut State University does not tolerate scientific misconduct. The following PHS definition (NPRM) is accepted by the University: ‘Misconduct' or 'misconduct in science' as used herein is defined as (1) plagiarism, deception or other practices that seriously deviate from those that are commonly accepted within the scientific community for proposing, conducting, reporting research; or (2) material failure to comply with federal requirements that uniquely relate to the conduct of research.

Investigator check here to certify: Add date and type initials here: 12/12/2016
Campus Climate Survey: Sexual Assault and Intimate Partner Violence in CCAU

Methodology
- Participants were recruited from across CCAU
- 24-month survey period
- Survey was self-administered online
- Participation was voluntary
- Questionnaires included personal and demographic information
- Follow-up reminders were sent periodically

Total Completed Surveys: 1,011
Response rate: 94%

Demographics
I think administrators are genuinely concerned about my welfare.

I feel safe on this campus.

CCSU officials (administrators, campus police) should do more to protect students from harm.
CCSU officials handle incidents in a fair and responsible manner.

There is a good support system on campus for students going through difficult times.

If someone were to report a sexual assault to a campus authority...

- 93% of students believe it is very likely or moderately likely that CCSU would take the report seriously.
- 93% of students believe it is very likely or moderately likely that CCSU would support the person making the report.
- 83% of students believe it is very likely or moderately likely that CCSU would take corrective action against the offender.

If someone were to report a sexual assault to a campus authority...

- 77% of students believe that it is very likely or moderately likely that students would support the person making the report.
- 43% of students believe that it is very likely or moderately likely that the alleged offender(s) or their associates would retaliate against the person making the report.
Training

- 40% of the sample had received training in policies and procedures regarding incidents of sexual assault.
- 38% of students received training in the prevention of sexual assault.
- Only 23.86% of students thought the training was helpful.

If a friend or loved one was sexually assaulted, I know where to go to get help.

I understand CCSU's formal procedures to address complaints of sexual assault.

I have confidence that CCSU administers the formal procedures to address complaints of sexual assault fairly.
Prevalence of Sexual Assault

Prevalence

- Approximately 74% of students experienced attempted or completed sexual assault.
- Of the participants that experienced sexual violence, 41% answered "yes" to more than one type of unwanted sexual contact.

SECTION VII - SUBMISSION INSTRUCTIONS AND CHECKLIST

Please facilitate the HSC review process by submitting this form together with all supplemental materials as a SINGLE Word or .pdf document. For clarity, please use page titles and page numbers on each separate page to make clear the separate components of the addendum (e.g., written recruitment materials, questionnaires, surveys, interview questions/guides, consent documentation and/or verbatim text, gatekeeper and/or external IRB letter).

Faculty investigators and advisors are to forward submissions to HSC@uccs.edu.

FACULTY ADVISORS PLEASE NOTE: The HSC requires faculty advisors to forward student submissions directly to the HSC to ensure student submissions are complete and free of typographical errors. Direct submission by the advisor provides confirmation of proposal review and support, which is required to begin the HSC review process. Submissions received by students will be returned for re-routing through their advisor.

SUBMISSION CHECKLIST:

☐ I have completed all relevant sections of the entire HSC New Protocol Submission Form.

☐ I have attached all required gatekeeper letters and/or external IRB information and documentation for all planned external collaborations. (If no external collaborations are planned, please leave this box blank.)

☐ I have attached as an appendix a copy of all measures, survey instruments, interview guides/questions, and questionnaires I plan to use for my study.

☐ I have attached copies of all recruitment materials including oral scripts, email notices, web postings, flyers, etc., that I plan to use to advertise my study.

☐ I have attached a copy of each consent form and/or oral script I plan to use to obtain informed consent from participants.

☐ I have attached all ethics certificates (or other ethics training completion certifications) for the primary investigator and each additional researcher involved in this study.

Just a reminder!

Good Afternoon,

Please let me know if you have any informational materials (or items) you would like me to include in the packets that will be handed out to new faculty at the New Faculty Orientation on August 23rd. I am using 65 as my baseline count right now.

I’d like to have all the information by August 19th if possible. I can send a student to your office for pickup when ready.

Thanks,
Susan

65 ODE Booklet

Hi Mark:

We would like to add content regarding our mandatory training programs on the ODE website, with the link or forms to submit. I’ve pasted and drafted a lot of content regarding each training. Any and all ideas to make this content user friendly and accessible would be great in terms of the web content design.

The Office of Diversity and Equity assists CCSU with its mandated training compliance. ODE offers multiple sessions to complete state mandated Diversity Training, Sexual Harassment Prevention Training and Title IX Training.

Diversity Training (Required one-time during your career with the CCSU)

The Office of Diversity and Equity offers 3-hour State Mandated Diversity Training* Sessions annually for CCSU staff, faculty and students. The training consists of two components. The first segment focuses on ODE responsibilities, policies, and procedures. The second component will focus on a particular identity (i.e. race, religion, sex, sexual orientation etc.) as it relates to college students, campus life and/or classroom environments.

CCSU is committed to creating a campus culture where all members of our community are valued and affirmed. These sessions do not only support this initiative but enhances our sense of community. Please check the time and date that works best for you.

*CONN. GEN. STAT § 46a-54 (16). - To require each state agency that employs one or more employees to (A) provide a minimum of three hours of diversity training and education (i) to all supervisory and nonsupervisory employees, not later than July 1, 2002, with priority for such training to supervisory employees, and (ii) to all newly hired supervisory and nonsupervisory employees, not later than six months after their assumption of a position with a state agency, with priority for such training to supervisory employees.

The ODE is offering the following sessions:

Diversity Training Fall 2016 - To register for one of the below sessions use the following link: Fall 2016 Diversity Training Registration

- Thursday, August 25, 2016; 9 AM to 2 PM (Mid-Campus Residence Hall) (this session will fulfill the initial Title IX and Diversity Requirement)

Title IX Training (including Sexual Harassment Prevention and Sexual Assault, Interpersonal Violence and Stalking Awareness)

Given the recent legislative changes regarding Title IX, Sexual Assault and Interpersonal Violence on college campus, the Office of Diversity and Equity is providing several training sessions on the topics. Currently all employees at the university are expected to take either the online or in person training regarding Sexual Assault and Interpersonal Violence Prevention.

Both federal and state laws clearly prohibit sexual harassment, sexual assault and interpersonal violence in the workplace and education settings – and yet it happens. On campuses large and small, women and men find themselves the unwilling target of unwelcomed sexual conduct that creates a hostile environment. It is critical that all students, employees, including managers, understand both the full range of behaviors that define sexual harassment, sexual assault and interpersonal violence and the pro-active steps they can take to prevent it.

As part of its mandate to eliminate discrimination, the Office of Diversity and Equity provides training for CCSU faculty, staff and students.
This session will help you:

- Understand Title IX and other laws that prohibit sexual harassment and gender-based violence
- Define sexual harassment, sexual assault, interpersonal violence & stalking
- Recognize specific behaviors that constitute sexual harassment, sexual assault, interpersonal violence & stalking
- Deal with a case in your office, area or department
- Recognize and handle retaliation
- Apply CCSU’s policy to sexual harassment and Title IX cases
- Understand and fulfill your responsibilities
- Use remedies and procedures available through the University

The ODE is offering the following sessions:

- Wednesday, September 14th; 1:30 – 4:30 (Camp Room)
- Monday, September 26th, 9:00 am – 12:00 pm (Camp Room)
- Tuesday, October 11th, 9:00 am – 12:00 pm (Clock Tower Room)
- Tuesday, October 25th, 1:00 pm – 4:00 pm (1849 Room)
- Monday, November 7th; 9:00 am – 12:00 pm (Clock Tower Room)
- Tuesday, October 29th, 1:00 pm – 12:00 pm (Clock Tower Room)
- Friday, December 9th, 9:00 am – 12:00 pm (Sprague Carlton)

Annual Title IX Refresher Training (including Sexual Harassment Prevention and Sexual Assault, Interpersonal Violence and Stalking Awareness):

The Title IX Refresher sessions are 45 minutes in length and can be completed either by in-person sessions or via an online module. The primary purpose of the refresher is to remind all of us of the various laws, policies and procedures related to sexual violence, sexual harassment, interpersonal violence and stalking. Each year there are updates, changes and announcements from the various entities that lead us in the prevention of sexual violence on our campus. Each year the refresher will provide updates on the BOR policies and procedures as well as best practices for college campuses that often come from the Office of Civil Rights for the U.S. Department of Education. These sessions will provide real life examples and allow participants to work through case examples and scenarios.

This session will help you:

- Understand Title IX updates and best practices
- Better understand Title IX and other laws that prohibit sexual harassment and gender-based violence
- Define sexual harassment, sexual assault, interpersonal violence & stalking
- Recognize specific behaviors that constitute sexual harassment, sexual assault, interpersonal violence & stalking
- Deal with a case in your office, area or department
- Recognize and handle retaliation
- Apply CCSU’s policy to sexual harassment and Title IX cases
- Understand and fulfill your responsibilities
- Use remedies and procedures available through the University
Hi Nick:

Below are the full Title IX training dates.

Sarah

Hi Rosa:

I have booked the Full Title IX Trainings for the fall semester in the Student Center. The dates are below.

I also spoke with Jean about possibly holding the weekly refreshers in Mid-Campus. I would be able to book directly through her. Does that location sound okay to you?

Thanks!

Sarah

Hi Nick,

Kate shared with me that you have some non-discrimination and Anti-Harassment Policies, Complaint Procedures & On-Campus & Community Resources booklets that highlight policies & procedures that are on the CCSU website.

Because it sounds as if some of the policies (particularly consensual relationships policies) are more up to date in the booklet than on the CCSU website, I want to request 60 copies for my student employees.

Is it possible that the booklets can be dropped off tomorrow when your staff member drops off the Report an Incident of Sexual Harassment or Misconduct at CCSU on Friday, Aug. 4?

Please advise. Thank you.

4. Guest Speaker – Karen Demeola – Implicit Bias

Karen Demeola:

Karen is the assistant dean of enrollment and students at UConn School of Law. She received her undergraduate degree in psychology from UConn and her J.D. from UConn Law. After graduation from law school, Karen was a civil rights litigator whose practice focused primarily on employment discrimination, police brutality and housing discrimination. Karen is admitted to practice in Connecticut and the Federal District Court, District of Connecticut. Karen has presented on numerous panels, conferences and symposia on diversifying law school populations; intersectionality; affirmative action and admissions; the Defense of Marriage Act; implicit bias; use of the narrative to increase cultural competency; and law student and attorney wellness. Karen served as an adjunct professor teaching Critical Identity Theory and is currently the President-Elect of the Connecticut Bar Association.

Defining Implicit Bias (Kirwaninstitute.ose.edu/research/understanding-implicit-bias/)

"Also known as implicit social cognition, implicit bias refers to the attitudes or stereotypes that affect our understanding, actions, and decisions in an unconscious manner. These biases, which encompass both favorable and unfavorable assessments, are activated involuntarily and without an individual's awareness or intentional control. Residing deep in the subconscious, these biases are different from known biases that individuals may choose to conceal for the purposes of social and/or political correctness. Rather, implicit biases are not accessible through introspection.

The implicit associations we harbor in our subconscious cause us to have feelings and attitudes about other people based on characteristics such as race, ethnicity, age, and appearance. These associations develop over the course of a lifetime beginning at a very early age through exposure to direct and indirect messages. In addition to early life experiences, the media and news programming are often-cited origins of implicit associations.
A Few Key Characteristics of Implicit Biases

- Implicit biases are pervasive. Everyone possesses them, even people with avowed commitments to impartiality such as judges.
- Implicit and explicit biases are related but distinct mental constructs. They are not mutually exclusive and may even reinforce each other.
- The implicit associations we hold do not necessarily align with our declared beliefs or even reflect stances we would explicitly endorse.
- We generally tend to hold implicit biases that favor our own ingroup, though research has shown that we can still hold implicit biases against our ingroup.
- Implicit biases are malleable. Our brains are incredibly complex, and the implicit associations that we have formed can be gradually unlearned through a variety of debiasing techniques."
Dear Colleagues:

All across our campus you will find clusters of small, red flags which are symbolic to CCSU’s Red Flag Campaign aimed at stopping dating and interpersonal violence on our campus. This Campaign helps students identify “red flags” for dating violence in their friends’ relationships and encourages them to intervene. College students are at extremely high risk of either acting as perpetrator or being a victim of dating physical or sexual violence during their college years. Who is likely to witness this type of abuse? The answer is their friends.

The Red Flag Campaign features a series of eight posters that illustrate “red flags” that might be present in a relationship in which dating violence is occurring. The purpose is to encourage students to speak up when they see red flags for dating violence in their friends’ relationships. Friends and family members are the most likely group of people to seek resources and information to help victims of dating/domestic violence. For college students surrounded by their peer group, this may be the most important intervention they have.

There are many red flags that indicate dating violence is occurring in relationships. Name-calling, excessive jealousy, blaming, isolation, stalking, and physical and/or sexual abuse are all indicators of violence. Many times these behaviors are subtle and/or kept hidden away from friends or family. But over time, these behaviors become increasingly dangerous and noticeable. What if we all took ownership of our community and got enough momentum going that one less person had to go through this?

We are reaching out to highlight ways you can support the campaign:

1. Talk about the campaign. The more we are comfortable talking about dating violence the better we are prepared to address it when we see it.
2. Encourage your classes (and consider giving extra credit) to attend the keynote presentations and other scheduled events:
   a. Wednesday, September 21, 2016 at 4:30 PM in Alumni Hall – Leslie Morgan Steiner – Crazy Love
   b. Monday, October 3, 2016 at 1:40 PM in Alumni Hall – Impact of Domestic – A Professional Panel Discussion
3. Invite a representative from the Office of Diversity and Equity or Red Flag Campaign team to your classroom or student group for a 15 minute presentation (Email Sarah Dodd at sarahdodd@ccsu.edu to schedule a presentation).
4. Request a poster (Email Nicholas D’Agostino at nicholas.dagostino@ccsu.edu).

Special thanks to all of those who made this campaign happen: Diversity and Equity, The Office of Victim Advocacy, Administrative Affairs, Residence Life, Student Affairs, Student Wellness Services Athletics, Psychology Department, Criminology and Criminal Justice Department, Committee on the Concerns of Women, Student Government Association, Women’s Center, Student Activities and Leadership Development, Marketing and Communication, Greek Life, CCSU Sexual Assault Resource Team.

Dear Colleague:

As part of our employment at CCSU, we are required to complete several mandated training programs. The Office of Diversity and Equity is responsible for ensuring employees complete Diversity (once while at CCSU) and Title IX (annually) trainings.

Just a reminder that on August 25, 2016 CCSU is offering Diversity and Title IX training from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the Mid-Campus residence hall. Please be aware that we have changed the location http://www.ccsu.edu/reslife/halls/midcampus.html. We will be providing light breakfast and also lunch as part of this training session.

This training will provide you an opportunity to meet new and returning faculty and staff, engage in dialogue around issues affecting college campuses around the country, and learn key information about the various resources and services provided on- and off- campus. To register, go to https://form.jotform.com/62146346204146. While you may have already submitted your registration via email, please consider filling out this form to better assist us in ensuring registration accuracy.

CCSU is proud to announce that the fall 2016 Red Flag Campaign will be taking place starting September 12, 2016 through October 16, 2016. Professor Kathleen Bantley from the Criminology and Criminal Justice Department and I have been appointed chairs for the Red Flag campaign. We want to inform you that Leslie Morgan Steiner, author of Crazy Love, will be speaking at CCSU as the keynote address on September 21, 2016 starting at 4:30 PM.

This event takes place during your Biopsychology course. If this event fits into your course's agenda and subject matter, please consider joining us in this conversation as we continue to raise awareness on interpersonal and dating violence. Here is a link to Leslie’s TED Talk Leslie Morgan Steiner Ted Talk. We believe Morgan Steiner will contribute greatly to the campaign and our campus's work towards raising awareness about intimate partner violence. I've included her bio below.

If interested in having your class attend, please use the following link to register for the event: https://form.jotform.com/62366938625164. If you wish for us to coordinate student attendance, please indicate this on the group registration form.

Leslie Morgan Steiner

At 22, Leslie Morgan Steiner seemed to have it all: a Harvard diploma, a glamorous job at Seventeen magazine, a funky New York City apartment. Plus a handsome, funny, street-smart boyfriend who adored her. But behind a façade of success, this golden girl hid a dark secret. She’d made a mistake shared by millions: she fell in love with the wrong person.

At first Leslie and Conor seemed as perfect together as their fairytale wedding. Then came the fights she tried to ignore: he pushed her down the stairs of the house they bought together, poured coffee grinds over her hair as she dressed for a critical job interview, choked her during an argument, and threatened her with a gun. Several times, he came close to making good on his promise to kill her. With each attack, Leslie lost another piece of herself.

Gripping and utterly compelling, New York Times bestseller Crazy Love takes you inside the violent, devastating world of abusive love. Why did Leslie stay? She thought she loved him. Find out for yourself if she had fallen truly in love — or into a psychological trap.

Today, Leslie Morgan Steiner is an expert on violence against women and other women’s issues. Her TED Talk about surviving domestic violence, titled “From the Ivy League to a Gun at My Head,” has been viewed by over three million people. She serves as a celebrity board member for the One Love Foundation, in honor of slain University of Virginia senior Yeardley Love; the National Domestic Violence Hotline; Liz Claiborne’s MADE council; and a former spokeswoman for The Harriet Tubman Center in Minneapolis, the country’s oldest shelter for abused women and children.

She is a regular national television and radio guest, appearing on National Public Radio, NBC’s Today Show, The Diane Rehm Show, MSNBC, Fox News, and other programs. She holds a BA in English from Harvard College. Her first job was as an editor at Seventeen Magazine; she financed her MBA in Marketing from Wharton by writing for Seventeen, Mademoiselle, New England Monthly and Money Magazine. She is a member of The UC Hastings School of Law “Wise Women” council.

She is also the editor of the anthology Mommy Wars and a former columnist for washingtonpost.com. She currently writes the Two Cents on Modern Motherhood column for ModernMom.com. The ethics of global surrogacy is the subject of her November 2013 book, The Baby Chase, as well as a September 2014 TEDTalk. She lives with her three children in Washington, DC.
Good Morning,

Attached is a revised agenda for Tuesday’s New Faculty Orientation. Please be sure to arrive at least 15 minutes before your scheduled speaking time.

I will be out of the office the remainder of today, however I will be here bright and early Monday morning in the event you have any questions.

Dear Colleagues:

First, I want to acknowledge an incredibly successful Red Flag keynote address last night by Leslie Morgan Steiner. We exceeded all expectations for this event and you all should be proud of the work we are able to accomplish as a team. Not only were we able to collaborate with many faculty who brought students or provided extra credit, athletics, residence life and other student organizations also brought participants to the event – the turnout was spectacular. One of the most telling signs that the event was successful was that participants stayed actively engaged through the end of the presentation. Their engagement with Leslie and thoughtful questions demonstrated that her presentation was captivating and we believe it’s message was heard.

I want to extend my sincere appreciation to those of you who were able to help out yesterday before, during and after the event. We couldn’t have done this event without your dedication. The room and stage looked great and the way we delivered t-shirts to nearly 80 students through trivia all enhanced the outcome of the event. Our student organizers added to last night’s success.

Rosa Rodriguez CCSU’s Chief Diversity and Title IX Officer wrote Kathy and I the following: “I want to commend you and the Red Flag Committee for all your hard work especially the outstanding event last night. It is always a challenge to get students to attend this type of events and last night’s attendance surpassed my expectations. Thank you for your work and commitment to making CCSU a safe and welcoming place to learn and work.”

Second, I want to extend my appreciation to be able to serve as a co-chair for this amazing campaign, but more so with all of you on this incredible project. Your dedication and energy around ending dating violence continues to make a difference on this campus and please know your efforts are recognized.

I am humbled to share in this work with you,
Nick

Dear Colleagues:

I am pleased to announce that the 2017 Stand Up CCSU Campaign will commence in the coming weeks and encourage you to engage with the campaign as you are able. This initiative, developed by CCSU students, with feedback from CCSU faculty, brings awareness to the issue of sexual assault on our campus and engages students in a dialogue around bystander intervention.

There are a variety of ways for you to get involved.

Classroom or Student Group Presentations:
A 10 – 15 minute classroom presentation co-facilitated by a trained student Community Organizer and Sarah Dodd, Victim Advocacy and Violence Prevention Specialist. The presentation focuses on campus resources, myths and facts about sexual assault, and a brief discussion on bystander intervention. Contact Sarah Dodd to schedule.

Provide Extra-Credit/Incentive to attend an event:
Stand Up CCSU is sponsoring four major events. You are encouraged to provide incentives to students to attend the events below. If you plan to incorporate an event in to any of your classes please contact Sarah Dodd.

Stand Up and Talk About It

The Hunting Ground: Film Screening and Guided Discussion
Tuesday, March 28
7:30 – 9:00 pm
Marcus White Living Room, 2nd Floor, Marcus White Hall

Join us for a viewing of the award winning film, The Hunting Ground, and for an open discussion facilitated by the Stand Up community organizers.

Stand Up and Listen

Courage through Controversy; Standing up to Rape Culture
Kamalih Willingham
Wednesday, April 5
4:30 – 6:00 pm
Alumni Hall, Student Center

This keynote address will explore rape myths that cloud our understanding of sexual violence, the importance of compassion for others and ourselves as we challenge rape culture, and the future of the movement to end gender-based violence.

Stand Up and Take Action

Stand Up Day
Monday, April 10
11:00 – 2:00 pm
Student Center Circle

The Stand Up Community Organizers welcome everyone to stop by, participate in an interactive activity and learn about how you can stand up against sexual violence.

Stand Up and Dance

_Free Zumba Class and Clothing Drive for the YWCA Sexual Assault Crisis Services_
Wednesday, April 19
7:30 – 9:00 pm
Kaiser Gym, CCSU Campus

Join the Stand Up CCSU Community Organizers for a FREE Zumba class. Participants are encouraged to bring a donation item for the YWCA of New Britain SACS. Currently, the YWCA needs comfortable clothes (such as sweatpants and t-shirts) for the hospital bags they provide to survivors. Join us in support of survivors and of the YWCA!

_Hang a Stand Up CCSU poster in your Office_

CCSU students have developed their own poster campaign. Volunteer to hang a Stand Up CCSU poster in your office or work station by contacting Sarah Dodd.

Thank you all for your continued efforts in sexual assault prevention on our campus.

Best wishes,

Defining Implicit Bias (Kirwaninstitute.ose.edu/research/understanding-implicit-bias/)

“Also known as implicit social cognition, implicit bias refers to the attitudes or stereotypes that affect our understanding, actions, and decisions in an unconscious manner. These biases, which encompass both favorable and unfavorable assessments, are activated involuntarily and without an individual’s awareness or intentional control. Residing deep in the subconscious, these biases are different from known biases that individuals may choose to conceal for the purposes of social and/or political correctness. Rather, implicit biases are not accessible through introspection.

The Implicit associations we harbor in our subconscious cause us to have feelings and attitudes about other people based on characteristics such as race, ethnicity, age, and appearance. These associations develop over the course of a lifetime beginning at a very early age through exposure to direct and indirect messages. In addition to early life experiences, the media and news programming are often-cited origins of implicit associations.

A Few Key Characteristics of Implicit Biases

- Implicit biases are pervasive. Everyone possesses them, even people with avowed commitments to impartiality such as judges.
- Implicit and explicit biases are related but distinct mental constructs. They are not mutually exclusive and may even reinforce each other.
- The implicit associations we hold do not necessarily align with our declared beliefs or even reflect stances we would explicitly endorse.
- We generally tend to hold implicit biases that favor our own ingroup, though research has shown that we can still hold implicit biases against our ingroup.
- Implicit biases are malleable. Our brains are incredibly complex, and the implicit associations that we have formed can be gradually unlearned through a variety of debiasing techniques."

Jason,

Listed below are the educational activities with which we have engaged our student-athletes and Staff.

Best, Paul

*Red Flag Campaign: 120 student athletes attended the Leslie Morgan Steiner talk on relationship violence in September

*Healthy Relationships one hour session with Sarah Dodd: the following teams have completed sessions thus far.
  Football
  Men’s Soccer
  Men’s Golf
  Men’s Basketball
  Men’s Track
  Men’s Cross Country
  Women’s Track
  Women’s Cross Country
  Swimming
  Cheer
  Dance
  Women’s Basketball

The remaining 3 teams (baseball, lacrosse and women’s golf will complete by the end of the semester)

*David Rivera from the Interval House will present in February/March to all new students more information on dating violence and warning signs as well as resources for help.

CAPA: Central Athletes Peer Ambassadors, comprised of 8-10 student athletes who underwent two years of training with Rosemary Padin of the Interval House to be peer educators and active bystanders to help fellow CCSU students and the community.

Title IX training for all of our staff with Sarah Dodd at our October department meeting.
Dear Members of the CCSU Community,

The last few days have been very emotional for many members of our campus community, and many of us have seen students and colleagues who are feeling deep uncertainty and fear for the future. I can think of no better time for us all to reaffirm our commitment made last year to be a Campus of Compassion. I know I speak for all the members of our Presidential Committee on Compassion when I say that we stand ready to support, protect, and embrace all members of our community, come what may. I invite everyone to read and take to heart the Charter for Compassion, posted below. We intend to do whatever we can to support the person-to-person practice of compassion on our campus in the months to come.

"The principle of compassion lies at the heart of all religious, ethical and spiritual traditions, calling us always to treat all others as we wish to be treated ourselves. Compassion impels us to work tirelessly to alleviate the suffering of our fellow creatures, to dethrone ourselves from the center of our world and put another there, and to honor the inviolable sanctity of every single human being, treating everybody, without exception, with absolute justice, equity and respect.

It is also necessary in both public and private life to refrain consistently and empathically from inflicting pain. To act or speak violently out of spite, chauvinism, or self-interest, to impoverish, exploit or deny basic rights to anybody, and to incite hatred by denigrating others— even our enemies—is a denial of our common humanity. We acknowledge that we have failed to live compassionately and that some have even increased the sum of human misery in the name of religion.

We therefore call upon all men and women to restore compassion to the center of morality and religion— to return to the ancient principle that any interpretation of scripture that breeds violence, hatred or disdain is illegitimate— to ensure that youth are given accurate and respectful information about other traditions, religions and cultures— to encourage a positive appreciation of cultural and religious diversity— to cultivate an informed empathy with the suffering of all human beings— even those regarded as enemies.

We urgently need to make compassion a clear, luminous and dynamic force in our polarized world. Rooted in a principled determination to transcend selfishness, compassion can break down political, dogmatic, ideological and religious boundaries. Born of our deep interdependence, compassion is essential to human relationships and to a fulfilled humanity. It is the path to enlightenment, and indispensable to the creation of a just economy and a peaceful global community."

RE: Classified Employee and/or Dependent Child Scholarship Awards for Spring 2017

The University Scholarship Distribution Committee announces the Classified Employee Scholarship Awards, available to classified employees as well as dependent children of classified employees, for the 2016-2017 academic year. The amount of funding for this academic year is $15,000.

Full-time classified employees with four (4) or more years of continuous employment with Central Connecticut State University are eligible to apply for this scholarship. First time applicants must provide a copy of their acceptance letter to Central Connecticut State University.

The following conditions apply to this scholarship program:
- Awards are for courses taken at CCSU only.
- Eligibility for the employee awards is limited to part-time matriculated (undergraduate or graduate) students.
- Eligibility for the dependent awards is limited to full-time and part-time matriculated (undergraduate or graduate) students.
- The award does not cover registration fees.
- Maximum age for a dependent child eligible for this award is twenty-four (24) years of age.

Applications are available in the Human Resources Department. A current school transcript is required with every Classified Employee Scholarship application. There are no exceptions. Failure to submit the appropriate school transcript will result in ineligibility for the scholarship award. Completed application packages are to be submitted to Mary Cavanaugh of the Human Resources Department and must be received by the application deadline. The deadline for submitting applications is Wednesday, December 28, 2016 (close of business). Please contact Human Resources at X21756 if you have any questions regarding this and/or need further information.

CCSU Center for Africana Studies Monthly Meeting
February 1, 2017

1. Minutes: The minutes of the previous meeting (December 2016) were reviewed and accepted.

2. Announcements: The Ebenezer D. Bassett Dinner and Lecture is tonight, 6:00 to 8:00 pm in the Connecticut Room. The speaker is Ms. Kamora Harrington.

The Juneteenth celebration is scheduled for June 10, 2017, at the New Britain Museum of American Art. The event will be held during the day instead of the evening to promote family participation. The photographic exhibit from the New Britain African American Oral History Project will be part of the celebration.

Dr. Shelly Jones is publishing an activity book on African American Women in Mathematics. The projects are geared toward students in grades 3 to 8. The book will launch in June and advance copies will be made available ahead of time. The Sojourner Truth Newsletter will highlight the publication.

3. Annual Conference: Dr. Ngazimbi & Dr. Odesina are the co-chairs for the 2017 conference. Dr. Toro has been invited to give opening remarks. The speakers are finalizing their presentations for the program. Posters are in development & should be ready next week. Publicity must begin soon, particularly off-campus, through flyers and social media. The conference can be promoted to New Britain and Hartford schools & announced on local radio, museum newsletter, the library, Trinity-on-Main, and churches.

4. Sojourner Truth Newsletter: The next issue is expected to publish in time for the conference. Volunteers are sought to proofread and edit the issue.

5. Black History Month events: This year’s Amistad lecture features Sir Hilary Beckles of the University of the West Indies, Jamaica. The lecture is followed by a dinner, and the public is invited. The Center has provided financial support but is not involved in event planning. Dr. Sogunro and Dr. Emeagwali of the Amistad Committee may wish to host a luncheon or dinner for Sir Hilary Beckles. The Africana Center will reach out to the Amistad Committee to incorporate the community.

Flyers were circulated for the Center’s Leadership Interns’ event entitled Embracing my Melanin. The program will feature arts and cultural, showcasing talented performers from CCSU and the community.

6. Other Business: Representatives from the Africana Center, Latin American Center, Committee on the Concerns of Women, and Women’s Center met with Dr. Toro on Monday. She was open to their expressed concerns and needs. The Center directors presented her with an info packet highlighting the Center’s work and emphasized the need for a full-time Coordinator and UA(s). Dr. Toro wants to make CCSU a model for universities supporting diverse student populations.

Leadership Intern Ms. Rosemarie Ayala-Soto was awarded a faculty-student research grant & national URCAP.

Four new Leadership Interns have been hired for the spring semester.

The Center needs new computers. Lyn Bonesio can be contacted for a refresh.

The Center has been receiving more maintenance attention, following mention of the issue last semester.

Mr. William Fothergill is applying to the state legislature to recognize and honor Ebenezer D. Bassett. Mr. Alphonse Wright has presented the request. The CCSU community, especially Dr. Toro, can support the nomination by writing to legislators, particularly the Senate Majority Leader and Speaker of the House.

The Center is hosting a dinner for Dr. Toro on April 5 in the Nutmeg Room. The room will seat 95 people. Volunteers will be sought to promote the event on campus and community.

The annual Happy Hour will be held on Friday, March 3, at 50 Elm in Hartford.

Funding was delayed for the New Britain NAACP Bassett Academy for middle-school youth, so the program will start in September. Mentor applications are being accepted.

The Conference Committee will meet Friday 02/03/17 at noon.

Executive Summary

The Office of Diversity and Equity at CCSU has reviewed and approved the university's Affirmative Action Plan (AAP). The plan is submitted annually for review and approval by the Commission on Human Rights and Opportunities (CHRO) and is a result of the institution's commitment to non-discrimination and affirmative action. The plan details the university's strategies and goals to achieve equal opportunity and compliance with federal and state laws. The plan includes a review of the university's workforce, demographics, and initiatives to promote diversity and inclusion. The Office of Diversity and Equity is committed to ensuring that the university's policies and practices are consistent with the principles of non-discrimination and affirmative action.

Affirmative Action Plan

The Affirmative Action Plan (AAP) is a comprehensive, data-driven plan designed to create opportunities for historically underrepresented groups and promote diversity and inclusion on campus. The AAP includes initiatives to increase recruitment, retention, and advancement of underrepresented groups in all aspects of the university's operations. The plan is reviewed and updated annually to reflect changes in the university's workforce and external environment.

The CCSU full-time workforce statistics table provides a breakdown of the university's workforce by gender and category. The table shows the number of male and female employees in each category, with a total count for each category. The data is used to assess the university's compliance with affirmative action goals and to identify areas for improvement.
ANALYSIS OF GOALS FOR 2015-2016

Hiring Goals

For this reporting period, CSUU established eighty-four (84) hiring goals and experienced sixty-eight (68) hires. Hiring occurred in the occupational categories of Executive Administrative, Associate Professor, and Assistant Professor, Coaching, Professional Non-Faculty, Clerical titles, Administrative Assistant, Secretary 2, Service Maintenance All Titles (excluding custodians), and Custodians.

Since goal achievement cannot take place in categories where hiring did not occur, seventeen (17) goals attributable to the categories of Professor (ens (1) goal), Technical Paraprofessional (Six (6) goals), Skilled Crafts (three (3) goals); and, Protective Services (seven (7) goals) could not be achieved.

Therefore, only sixty-seven (67) of the eighty-four (84) established goals were identified as achievable goals. Of the sixty-eight (68) hires that occurred during this reporting period, nineteen (19) or twenty-eight percent (28%) of all hires met established reachable hiring goals.

Additionally, in its commitment to diversity the University hires twenty-six (26) members of underrepresented groups* that did not meet established goals:

- Six (6) diverse hires in the Associate Professor category: Five (5) White females.
- Five (5) hires in the Assistant Professor category: Three (3) White females; One (1) Black female, and One (1) Other female.
- Three (3) diverse hires in the Coaching category: Two (2) White females and One (1) Black male.
- Nine (9) diverse hires in the Professional/Non-Faculty category: Seven (7) White females and Two (2) Hispanic males.
- Two (2) diverse hires in the Secretarial All Titles category: Two (2) Black females.
- Two (2) diverse hires in the Secretary 2 category: One (1) Black female and One (1) Hispanic female.

*White Female hires in the categories of Clerical, all titles; Administrative Assistant; and Secretary 2 were not identified as diverse candidates as they are over-represented in those categories.

In all, forty-five (45) out of the sixty-eight (68), or sixty-six (66%), were either goal candidates or candidates from historically underrepresented groups including White females in non-clerical positions.

Hires Summary Chart

2016 Hires Summary

Page 1 | 3 Affirmative Action Plan 2016 Executive Summary
Promotional Goals
For this reporting period, the university established twenty-three (23) promotional goals.
During the reporting period, the University promoted forty-seven (47) employees across the EEO categories. In total, twenty-four (24) out of the forty-seven (47) of these promotions, or fifty-one (51%) percent, were either non-goal candidates or candidates from historically underrepresented groups, including White females in clerical positions.

Summary of Promotions
Promotions in the faculty category are self-directed; therefore, goal achievement can be measured against those who apply for promotion.

Promotions to Executive Managerial
The University achieved the One (1) White female goal with the promotion of the Chief Information Officer.

Promotions to Professor
There were fourteen (14) faculty members who applied for promotions to Professor: Six (6) White males; Four (4) White females; One (1) Hispanic male; Two (2) Other males; One (1) Other female.
Eleven (11) applicants were recommended for promotions to Professor based on the evaluations of the DEO, the dean, the P&T, Provost and the President: Five (5) White males; Four (4) White females; One
(1) Hispanic male; and One (1) Other female. Of the Eleven (11) promotions that occurred in this category, the University achieved four (4) White female established promotional goals.
- One (1) White male non-goal candidate and Two (2) Other male goal candidates, were denied promotion because they failed to meet the criterion set forth in Article 4.11.9.1-4.11.9.5 of the Collective Bargaining Agreement.
Thus, out of the six (6) applicants who were goal candidates, the University achieved four (4) goals:
Four (4) White females.

Of the eleven (11) promotions that occurred in the professor category, the university achieved four (4) established goals of thirty percent (30%). Of those promotions, six (6) promotions or fifty-five percent (55%) were either goal or diverse candidates including White females.

Promotions to Associate Professor
There were nine (9) faculty members who applied for promotions to Associate Professor: Four (4) White males; Three (3) White females; One (1) Black male; and One (1) Other female. Of the nine (9) applicants recommended for promotions to Associate Professor based on the evaluations of the DEO, the dean, the P&T, Provost and the President: Two (2) White males; One (1) White female; One (1) Black male; and One (1) Other female. Of the Five (5) promotions that occurred in this category, the University achieved one (1) Black male and one (1) Other female established promotional goals.
- Two (2) White males and Two (2) White females non-goal candidates were denied promotion because they failed to meet the criterion set forth in Article 4.11.9.1-4.11.9.5 of the Collective Bargaining Agreement.
Thus, out of the two (2) applicants who were goal candidates, the University achieved two (2) goals:
One (1) Black male and One (1) Other female.

Of the five promotions that occurred in the associate professor category, the university achieved two (2) established goals of forty percent (40%). Of these promotions, three (3) or sixty percent (60%) were either goal or diverse candidates.

Hiring and Promotional Goals for 2016-2017
It has established hiring and/or promotional goals to remedy the underutilization of protected classes identified in the utilization analysis. Hiring goals are established for jobs usually filled through original appointment and promotional goals are for jobs filled through an internal promotional appointment.
The objective of hiring and promotional goals is to reach parity with the availability base of protected groups in relevant labor market areas.
A "goal" is a hiring or promotion objective, which the University must strive to obtain by demonstrating each goal's effect. Goals are set to remedy the underutilization of minorities and women in the workforce and must be established within a time frame designated as short term (one year or less) or long term (more than a year, but not more than five).
The University has set its goals to be meaningful, measurable and reasonably attainable. It is important to note, however, that state re-employment lists, SEBAC rights and union contracts relating to transfers from other agencies are in effect and the University must consider these candidates, if they qualify, for specific vacancies.

An analysis of all hiring and promotional goals is distributed on a regular basis to the President, the Vice Presidents, Chief Officers, Deans, Directors, Union Presidents and Minority Committee Chairs, managers, and supervisors. In addition, a summary of the hiring and promotional goals for the current reporting period is posted on the Office of Diversity and Equity web page at http://www.ccsu.edu/effectiveness/.

However, in addition to making every goal's effort to meet the established goals, the University will continue to be committed to a qualified, diverse workforce.

Historical Updates
- After consultation with the CHRO reviewer on March 6, 2013, the University has removed all classifying titles of the faculty category and created a separate EEO category (coaching) and a separate analysis was conducted in all numerical sections of the plan.
- When new faculty hires have not completed their terminal degrees, they are hired at the instructor level until they obtain the degree required; therefore, after consultation with the CHRO reviewer on March 6, 2013, the instructor category has been consolidated into the Assistant Professor category.
- In the 2013 AA Plan review, this section was found to be in compliance with the AA Regulations.

After consultation and receipt of technical assistance on June 6, 2014, regarding section 4A.6-4A.80, utilization analysis, the category of Protective Services has been modified solely based on EEO category designation and not numerical analysis. The category of Protective Services has been taken out of the EEO 7 category and separated into its own category.

In the 2016 submission, CHRO, in consultation with CCHRO, consolidated the Administrative Assistant category analysis into the clerical all title category. For the past four submissions there have been fewer than 15 administrative assistant positions. In the 2016 submission, there were less than 20. It is unlikely this rank will reach the 25 titles or more to warrant a separate analysis.

Hiring and Promotion Goals
Based on the Section 4A.6-4A.80, Utilization Analysis, the University has established the following hiring and promotion goals for the period of August 1, 2016 through July 31, 2017.

Program Goals

The University has established program goals pursuant to analyses conducted in Section 46a-68-87, Identification of Problem Areas in order to remove any disparity or adverse impact on the race/sex group members in the respective occupational categories.

The University's programs will be meaningful, measurable and reasonable, and consistent with Section 46a-68-92—Good Faith Efforts.

While the University did not identify any significant employment policy or practice that adversely affects any minority group candidates, including physically disabled or older persons, it did identify areas that need to be further explored in the recruitment of service maintenance and skilled craft. If disparities occur, the University will initiate a goal to remove such impact.

Recruitment and Equitable Search Process

In the Professional Non-faculty category, ODE will consult with hiring managers to determine when an affirmative action search should be utilized to fill a vacancy. This is not an official goal; however, will be a standing practice for all SUOA® hiring positions.

In the Service Maintenance area, when the position does not require State of Connecticut examinations, the University will expand and identify new advertising and recruitment sources. Additionally, the custodian and skilled craft are also areas that need improvement in their diversification of applicants.

The University has considered alternatives in addition to those already outlined above to eliminate any problem areas identified in the Identification of Problem Areas section.

Other Program Goals

The University did not identify any employment policy or practice that adversely affects any minority group candidates, including physically disabled or older persons. The University will, however, continue to take a critical look at its employment processes and if disparities occur, the University will initiate a goal to remove such impact and improve the processes.

As Program Goals for the plan year 2015-2016, in order to foster a campus climate of tolerance and diversity, to ensure equal rights for all the various groups that make up the University community and to educate our students toward appreciation for diversity, the University will:

1. Recruitment & Equitable Search Process Continued

- Re-established: Develop a process to collect demographic applicant data on the internal search process for SUOA® positions in the Professional Non-Faculty Category, as outlined in the SUOA®-APSCHE Collective Bargaining Agreement. The Office of Human Resources will update the search and hiring manual to reflect this new process. ODE has been successful in obtaining the demographic information as well as posting information on these internal searches; the manual has not been updated to reflect this process. During this reporting period, ODE will work with Human Resources and the SUOA® Union to establish protocols to ensure this internal process meets the requirements of the AA regulations.
- ODE will conduct a formal review of the diversity of applicants for positions filled through the SUOA® internal search process to determine if any barriers exist for applicants of color, women, or the disabled.

Completion Date: July 2016

Responsible Person: Chief Diversity Officer and Chief Human Resources Officer

2. Promotion of Equal Opportunity and Harassment-Free Workplace

a. Training

- ODE will conduct two training sessions specifically targeting hiring managers, search committee chairs and search committee members. This training will focus on implicit bias and equitable hiring/recruitment standards.

b. Re-established: To meet Clery Act requirements, identify campus security authorities (CSA), provide training and develop online Clery reporting form. While CSA's have been identified, the training was rolled out in fall 2016. During this period, we intend to ensure all identified parties have completed the online module on Clery reporting requirements. ODE, in collaboration with the Chief Administrative Officer will continually review staff to determine if additional staff need to be added to the University's CSA listing.

- ODE will coordinate a structured training program for the members of the newly established employee advisory committee. The fall 2016 training will focus on the AA regulations and the establishment of hiring and promotional goals and also implicit bias.

Completion Date: July 2016

Responsible Person: Chief Diversity Officer; Associate in Diversity and Equity, Chief Human Resources Officer; Provost; Victim Advocate; Vice President of Student Affairs; Chief Administrative Officer

b. Employee Climate Survey

- ODE in partnership with the Office of Victim Advocacy and Human Resources will lead a staff wide climate survey to address gender based discrimination (including sexual harassment).

Completion Date: July 2016

c. Complaint Database

- ODE has contracted with a cloud-based complaint management database. During the reporting period ODE will complete the implementation. This will assist ODE in ensuring timely compliance with all protected class investigations, as well as, with Title IX reporting procedures. This system will increase ODE’s potential for analyzing complaint data. Lastly, this database will...
- Improve ODE’s case management and timely notations to files as we will be able to track on an ongoing basis every point of contact made for a case record.

Completion Date: July 2016

Responsible Person: Chief Diversity Officer; CCEU Victim Advocate; Associate in Diversity and Equity

Cooperation with Other Agencies

When the cooperation of another agency is essential to the implementation of a program goal, CCEU will maintain a record of each instance of contact with the agency and the outcome of the request.
Executive Committee Meeting
February 15, 2017
Action Items

- R. Rodriguez will begin meeting with multicultural employee groups to identify a representative to sit on a Climate Survey Committee. The goal is for all groups to be represented and for one Climate Survey to be administered.

Present: R. Bachoo, L. Bonesio-Peterson, C. Galligan, C. Magnan, C. McDavid, S. Pease, A. Suski-Lenczewski, Z. Toro

Guests: S. Dodd, A. Mendoza, J. Perez,

Excused: C. Casamento (Attended Via Telephone), R. Rodriguez

StandUpCCSU Campaign (S. Dodd)
S. Dodd provided a brief overview of the StandUpCCSU Campaign. StandUpCCSU is a bystander awareness campaign that encourages the campus community to stand up and take action against violence. S. Dodd introduced A. Mendoza and J. Perez, two student volunteers who are working on the campaign. There is a total of twelve student volunteers. S. Dodd wanted to be sure to recognize that this is a student developed campaign. A. Mendoza, a senior graduating in May with a B.A. in Psychology, completed several drawings used for the posters. One of the drawings was a self-portrait. Each drawing took 6-8 hours to complete. J. Perez, a graduate student majoring in Criminology, is looking forward to working on the Campaign again next year.
Z. Toro asked what can Executive Committee do to support the Campaign. The following suggestions were made:

- Display posters campus-wide.
- Provide funding for more events.
- Make training mandatory.

LGBT Advisory Committee Meeting
October 24, 2016
Student Center – Blue & White Room
12:15-1:30pm

Present: Ryan Baumann (Residence Life), Alberto Cifuentes Jr. (Library), Nick D'Agostino (Diversity and Equity), Scott Hiness (Student Activities and Leadership Development), William Mann (History), Gladys Moreno-Fuentes (Counseling and Wellness), Crystal Nieves (LGBT Center), Ngh Tho (Psychological Science)

Not Present: Jacqueline Cobbina-Beilin (Women’s Center), Lisa Coddington (Counseling and Family Therapy), Joanne DiPietro (Psychological Science), Collin Fuller (Student), Jessica Greenbaum (Sociology), Caitlin Luccio (Student), Jaclyn Martin (Student), Nichol McCarter (Student), Ross Rodriguez (Diversity and Equity), Marco Taverner (Student), Jeffrey Thomas (Geological Sciences), Laura Tordenti (Student Affairs)

Agenda:
1. Welcome and Introductions
2. Identify a Note-taker – Alberto volunteered
3. Ice Breaker – Introductions
4. Review Minutes from May 2016 Meeting – Minutes approved online
5. LGBT Center Updates and Pride Updates
   a. Pride has been very visible since the beginning of the semester, especially with their pronoun campaign.
   b. Pride held a great biexuality awareness program with speaker and activist Robin Ochs. They hope to coordinate some type of biexuality program for R.A.s and a discussion about relationship orientation.
   c. Pending available funds, Crystal will be going with 4-5 students to the annual Creating Change Conference Jan. 18-22 in Philadelphia. Nick suggested speaking with Dr. Tordenti to request additional necessary funds for students attending conference.
   d. Crystal stated that Campus Police has been effective at helping transgender students and more prepared to deal with bathroom issues. Moreover, all of the bathroom signs on campus have been changed to “Single Use Restroom.” Title IX trainings now have a transgender component.
   e. Writer and activist Larry Kramer will be speaking with Bell Man on Wednesday, Nov. 16, 3-4pm, in Top Theatre, Davidson Hall. This will be followed by a screening of “The Normal Heart” from 4:30-7pm. These two events are free and open to the public.
   f. “Feminizing the Masculine Man,” a one-day exhibition, will be showing on Thursday, Nov. 17, at 5pm in the Connecticut Room, Memorial Hall. Free and open to the public.
   g. “Being LGBT in CT” panels have been secured. The event will take place on Tuesday, Feb. 14, 4:30pm, in the Constitution Room, Memorial Hall.
6. New Business: Brainstorming Activity – Goals and Objectives for Fall/Spring
   a. Roommate Issues: This was brought up by Gladys. LGBT students deal with very particular and time-sensitive issues with roommates. How can roommate conflicts be addressed more expeditiously? Ryan stated that any conflict that is reported and R.A.s try to mediate is documented; mediation is conducted with the facilitation of the R.A. and R.D. before considering to remove a student from a room or dorm. The separation of roommates can be expedited if necessary, and student perpetrators will usually go through the Office of Conduct to determine repercussions, including but not limited to housing removal. Scott stressed the importance of documenting any occurrences of harassment, and stated that tracking occurrences and accumulating statistical data is a very important component of addressing these types of issues, especially for the incoming CCSU President.
   b. Gender-Inclusive Housing: This is a project that needs to be completed since there are still some unhappy students. Ngh underscored the importance of using the correct pronouns and the gender-inclusive language in classrooms (i.e. using “transgender” instead of “transgendered”). It was also suggested that a gender-inclusive box be included in all housing forms, including Banner. The housing form already uses a student’s preferred name, but the student cannot choose a roommate beyond the box of that roommate.
   c. Presence at Faculty/Staff Meetings: We should increase our presence and voice at other faculty/staff meetings since our issues occurs often intersect with issues raised in other committees and departments, especially any related to harassment, violence, and housing.
   d. Faculty-Staff Training: Crystal stated that the training expectations for faculty/staff when it comes to LGBTQ issues are not being met. More specifically, many faculty/staff are not using Banner to extract student data correctly or using records that do not protect a student’s privacy. There is a need to get these types of policies (i.e. restrooms, pronouns (vs. misgendering), preferred name) into regular practice with faculty/staff. It was shared that these policies are part of Title IX training, which is mandated, and Safe Zone training, which is voluntary. Moreover, Bill mentioned that these types of issues regarding misgendering, not using the student’s preferred name, and/or extracting the wrong data about a student can occur often with adjunct faculty. Even though they are mandated to go through Title IX training, any adjunct faculty who intentionally engage in any activity that violates these policies should be reported to the Office of Diversity and Equity.
   e. Strategic Planning: Scott recommended that we develop a strategic plan covering a span of 5 to 10 years that specifies and explains the goals and outcomes of the committee for the new CCSU President. Scott volunteered to help draft this strategic plan. Part of the plan include the mission statement, goals and objectives, steps to accomplish the goals and objectives, and methods for assessing the outcomes. The committee will have a mini-retreat in December to draft the plan, and Nick will book the space.
7. Old Business: Prior Review
   a. The review of the mission statement, membership, and purpose will be done during the strategic planning retreat in December.

Next Meeting (12:15-1:30pm)
- Thursday, Nov. 17, 2016 (Student Center – 1849 Room)
- Monday, Feb. 27, 2017 (Student Center – Blue & White Room)
- Monday, Mar. 27, 2017 (Student Center – Blue & White Room)

LGBT Advisory Committee Meeting
November 17, 2016
Student Center – 1849 Room
12:15-1:30pm

President: Alberto Cifuentes, Jr. (Library), Jacqueline Cobbina-Boivin (Women's Center), Nick D'Agostino (Diversity and Equity), Scott Hazan (Student Activities and Leadership Development), Jeffrey Thomas (Geological Sciences)

Not Present: Ryan Baumann (Residence Life), Lisa Coddington (Counseling and Family Therapy), Joanne DiPlacido (Psychological Sciences), Collin Fuller (Student), Jessica Greenhauer (Sociology), Caitlin Luczewicz (Student), William Mani (History), Jazlyn Martin (Student), Nikol McCarter (Student), Gia Lydia Moreno-Fuentes (Counseling and Wellness), Crystal Nieves (LGBT Center), Rosa Rodriguez (Diversity and Equity), Marco Taveras (Student), Ngoc Thai (Psychological Science), Laura Tordenti (Student Affairs)

Agenda:
1. Welcome and Introductions
2. Identify a Note-taker – Alberto volunteered
3. Review Minutes from October 2016 Meeting – Agreed to table approval of minutes until we have a quorum
4. LGBT Center Updates and Pride Updates – Agreed to table since Crystal not present
5. Strategic Planning Committee
   a. Identify Members – Scott Hazan, Alberto Cifuentes, Jr.
   b. Establish Timeframe – Scott suggested a flexible 5-year plan; proposal to be submitted by end of Spring 2017 semester.
   c. The different parts of the proposal include (1) Mission Statement, (2) Vision Statement, (3) Goals/Learning Outcomes, and (4) Assessment of Outcomes
   d. Suggested that we meet with LGBT Center and Pride to get full campus perspective.
   e. Since new CCCU President, Dr. Toro, starts January 3, 2017, it was agreed that we should determine a mission and vision statement before this date to present to her. Scott and Alberto will work on drafting these two statements.
6. Develop Sub-Committee to Review Current By-Laws and Propose Changes to Dr. Tordenti
   a. Identify Members – Alberto Cifuentes, Jr.
   b. Establish Timeframe – Tabled
7. New Business
   a. Appointment of Secretary – Nick D'Agostino nominated Alberto Cifuentes, Jr.; Scott Hazan seconded; and Jacqueline Cobbina-Boivin provided a third vote. After no objections or discussion, Alberto officially approved as Recording Secretary. Nick stated that this addition of a new position on the committee may need to be changed in the by-laws.
   b. Recent Meetings with Student Affairs, Registrar, and IT
      i. Rosa Rodriguez and her office is drafting a “Dear Colleague” Letter on the Preferred Frist Name (PFN). The draft of the letter was presented to the committee, and the committee suggested several changes. Nick stated he would also run the letter by Crystal Nieves for her feedback.

ii. Some of the committee suggestions included emphasizing culture of inclusiveness and respect, adding a statement about additional resources for international students, tying letter directly with university mission, and inserting transgender first when specifying affected groups so transgender students not minimized by or “couched” with other groups.

8. Old Business
   a. Budget Review – Tabled

Upcoming Events:
- "Feminizing the Masculine Man" – Thursday, Nov. 17, 2016, at 5pm in the Connecticut Room, Memorial Hall
- "Being LGBTQ in CT" Panel – Tuesday, Feb. 14, 2017, at 4:30pm in Constitution Room, Memorial Hall
- "Being Muslim in CT" Panel – April 2017 (more details TBA)

Next Meetings (12:15-1:30pm):
- Monday, Feb. 27, 2017 (Student Center – Blue & White Room)
- Monday, Mar. 27, 2017 (Student Center – Blue & White Room)
- Monday, Apr. 24, 2017 (Student Center – Blue & White Room)

      ii. Vision Statement
      iii. Goals/Learning Outcomes
      iv. Timeline/Timeframe
      v. Assessment of Outcomes
   c. Key Areas of Focus:

i. Inclusivity/Campus Climate—Preferred name option, gender-inclusive housing, gender-neutral restrooms
ii. Campus-wide Education—Orientation (student and faculty/staff), curriculum, personal connections with students, safety of LGBT staff
iii. Accessibility/Equitability—Bathrooms, housing, sports/athletics (connect with Dr. Bashoo about adding gender-neutral restrooms to new buildings before they’re built or updated).
iv. Recruitment/Retention—New and transfer students.
v. New Buildings/Facilities—Speak with Dr. Bashoo about developing some form of consistent and mutually agreed upon standards and practices regarding the equitability of housing, restrooms, and other campus spaces for LGBTQ students, faculty, and staff.
vi. Space for Community Building/Accessibility to Resources—Demand for more programming, more resources, and more funds for LGBT Center and LGBTQ community on campus. Also a need for center full-time staff and a discussion of general spatial needs (i.e., possibly moving center to another building).

6. Develop Sub-Committee to Review Current By-Laws and Propose Changes to Dr. Tordenti—Tabled

7. New Business
   a. Possible New Committee Member: Elijah (student). Crystal will invite him to May 11th meeting.

8. Old Business
   a. By-law Review; Tabled

Upcoming Events:
• Besides Lavender Graduation, nothing else to report.

Next Meeting:
• Thursday, May 11th, 12:30-2:30pm, Location TBA
• Focus will be on strategic planning

   b. Sections of Proposal
      i. Mission Statement
      ii. Vision Statement
      iii. Goals/LEarning Outcomes
      iv. Timeline/Timeframe
      v. Assessment of Outcomes
   c. Key Areas of Focus (and Corresponding Goal/Objective):
      i. Inclusivity/Campus Climate – Preferred name option, gender-inclusive housing, gender-neutral restrooms (F, #4)
      ii. Campus-wide Education – Orientation (student and faculty/staff), curriculum, personal connections with students, safety of LGBT staff (F2, #4)
      iii. Accessibility/Equitability (Buildings/Facilities) – Bathrooms, housing, sports/athletics, connect with Chief Administrative Office (CAO) about adding gender-neutral restrooms to new buildings before they are built or updated. Also speak with CAO about developing some form of consistent and mutually agreed upon standards and practices regarding the equity of housing, restrooms, and other campus spaces for LGBTQ students, faculty, and staff. (F4) This traditionally has not been a focus for our committee.
      iv. Recruitment/Retention – New and transfer students. (F1, F2, F3)
      v. Space for Center-Specific Community Building/Accessibility to Resources – Demand for more programming, more resources, and more funds for LGBT Center and LGBTQ community on campus. Also a need for center full-time staff and a discussion of general spatial needs (i.e. possibly moving center to another building). (F1, #2)

   Discussion of Goals/Objectives:
   i. The Board needs data on LGBTQ student enrollment, but no data is available yet through the Common Application.
   ii. The Gender-Neutral Housing Proposal has been approved, but Ryan needs the new language for new housing options before implementation.
   iii. Do we have a queer community that is residence-specific (i.e., learning community)? For any themed-residence community, at least 40 students would need to participate and occupy the residence floor. This could help with recruitment and retention of LGBTQ students.
   iv. Are there any opportunities during the summer student orientation (June-Aug.) for community-building? We could facilitate an optional Fall 2018 workshop.
   v. Nick will speak with CAO Dr. Bachoo about accessibility of building and facilities. Can we create language and standards for new construction of buildings? Should the LGBT Center stay in the Student Center or move to Willard/Delloreto after renovation?
   vi. We agreed that we should partner with outside organizations like GLSEN Connecticut and True Colors, Inc., to help market the university to LGBTQ students and recruit via Gay-Straight Alliance (GSA) Summit. We can help offset the costs of these events. We should also collaborate with community colleges and expand Lavender Graduation.
   vii. How can the LGBT Center become more operationalized? How might it benefit from a full-time staff person? Given the budget challenges, we need input on the Center and our projections for impact of a full-time staff member.

5. Develop Sub-Committee to Review Current By-Laws and Propose Changes to Dr. Tordenti
   a. Identify members (Nick D’Agostino, Alberto CIFuentes Jr.)
   b. Develop annual notice for membership (Tabled – need to finalize)
   c. Formalize membership cycles (Tabled – we have never had a board of 20 members)
   d. Establish timeframe (will be revisited in Fall 2017)

7. Old Business
   a. By-Law Review. Please refer to last two pages for changes made.

Upcoming Events – Nothing to Report

Next Meeting:
- TBD
- Focus will be on addressing how we will strategically approach our goals outlined in revised Mission & Bylaws on last page

DRAFT MINUTES 05.11.17 1
Central Connecticut State University
Office of Diversity and Equity
Affirmative Action Employee Advisory Committee
Meeting Minutes
November 11, 2016

Present: Nidal Al-Masoud, Michael Ansarra, Alberto Cifuentes, Jr., Salvador Clontonio, Nicholas D'Agostino, Joseph Farhat, Sharon Gaddy, Delia Gonzalez-Sanders, Joo Eng Lee-Partridge, Carlos Liard-Mariente, Evelyn Phillips, Rosa Rodriguez

Not Present: Michael Alfano, Mary Cavanaugh, Joanne DiPlacido, Larry Hall, Chris Simick

1. Welcome and Introductions

2. Presentation – Affirmative Action Plans
   Presentation conducted by ODE staff on the elements of an affirmative action plan. Discussions ensued regarding the various sections and the university's ability to not just recruit employees of color, but also to retain employees of color.
   Review of provided binder and associated documents related to the following affirmative action plans (including numerical analysis), CCSU search process and procedures, and the CCSU hiring manual.

3. Update on the 2016 AA Plan
   Rosa Rodriguez provided an update on our current AA Plan and the expectation that we will provide details after submission to the CHRO and a copy of the executive summary.

Next Meeting: Friday, December 9, 2016
Central Connecticut State University
Office of Diversity and Equity
Affirmative Action Employee Advisory Committee
Meeting Minutes
President's Dining Room
March 3, 2017

1. Welcome and Introductions

2. Review of data for last four hiring cycles

Discussion ensued regarding the data. Discussion regarding need for a more diverse workforce based on data presented. In-depth conversation on the impacts of special appointments and FT faculty. Committee also discussed the issue of the time for posting searches later in the academic search cycle which impacts our ability to secure the best candidates.

Discussion regarding the higher pay of Associate Professors. It was noted some of this is due to keeping up with the market—hiring at the Associate level due to the high salary needed to obtain the hires applicants. Per Ross, if we hire Assistant Professors, we will have a broader pool, however, the salary is not there for certain types of positions in some of the Schools, e.g., School of Business. It was noted that CCSU can only do 5 market adjustments, these go toward Schools that have a need for this, such as Engineering and Technology.

It was requested that numbers be provided regarding declined offers for AAUP. Discussion regarding who makes position offers — some cases the Deans, while in other cases the Chairs.

Discussion on developing a strategic plan to bring new faculty into the institution beyond the traditional hiring process, e.g., post-doctorate fellowships.

3. Brief update on hiring hold (Memo from System Office provided)

Some positions will be filled. Positions with soft money (e.g., grant funded) and residential life will be filled. Other positions need to go through the process for re-approval. Dr. Toro has a commitment to filling the faculty positions.

4. Climate Survey gender equity/harassment (Shared and reviewed by several members)

Members provide input into some of the questions which will be valuable to the final draft.

5. Comprehensive Climate Study Representation

1. Welcome and Introductions

2. CCSU Affirmative Action Plan Executive Summary

3. Request for data/information

4. New Business
Rosa indicated that we will be conducting a broader climate study that may go to students and/or faculty and staff. The proposed mechanism will be drafted and finalized with the collaboration of the various identity centers and groups on campus.

Discussed lack of support for faculty of color in various departments. It is important that as we develop the mechanism that we meet with various groups on campus.

Committee members who want to participate on the committee to develop the survey: Michael Anzarr, Joanne DiPlatico, Evelyn Phillips.

6. Meeting with Dr. Toro
- Consistency of offers: Joanne DiPlatico
- Issue of Special Appointments
- Advertisement of positions: Carlos Lard Muriente
- Climate issue—Lack of support in departments
- Discuss vision and mission of the SAC and what is our role within Dr. Toro’s administration
- We will draft questions in advance of this meeting.

7. Other business
- Discussion on student demographics and the desire to serve 15,000 students. Mike Anzarr discussed a program that existed before that focused on the recruitment of students of color. This program lost funding.
- The AA Plan was approved and the review highlighted key programs including but not limited to CONNCAS, CONNCAP, Girls in STEM and training and development.

8. Next meetings
- March 31, 2017 with guest speaker
- April 21, 2017 with Dr. Toro
Dr. Toro indicated that he would be a role for this committee. She inquired about formal mentoring programs within faculty departments. Dr. Toro reported that research suggests that mentoring programs housed within individual departments is the least effective. Conversation on the focus of mentoring to be on PVT, SIC process. Additional conversation on the need for such a program could be to focus on the first year which is a lot to take on for newly appointed faculty. Such a program could assist us with retaining faculty of color.

Dr. Toro recommended that we look to New Mexico State University who used to have a strong mentoring program.

Dr. Toro also added that part of the issue is the perception of students of faculty of color, faculty with accents. The world is a better place if we are able to embrace diversity. Evelyn stated that if faculty are addressing culturally related behaviors or comments (or subject) the comments (on student opinion surveys) can be negative.

Dr. Toro also brought up the need to start working with students who are experiencing a national climate change and helping them process through some of the rhetoric.

Conversation on Climate

Anansi brought up the discussion about implicit bias, equity versus equality and past issues (a historical perspective). Dr. Toro added this as another role for this committee. She reported going from department to department and recognizes that while progress has been made, we are not where we need to be. At times, we are not as welcoming and open as we would like to be and lack tolerance for cultures and racial groups – we have these issues here.

Dr. Toro challenged us to partner with her to change the climate.

- Brief discussion about the faculty senate diversity committee (a campus resource)
- D-designated courses (a way to expose students to different aspects of diversity)
- Recognizing that many of our students haven't left CT, having never been exposed to many people who are culturally/structurally different than themselves.
- Diversity in faculty ranks can increase that exposure.

Committee voted to become a partner with Dr. Toro in this endeavor. We need to decide what the program will look like, what the ideal university/workforce looks like and then decide how we are going to move forward.

E. Upward Mobility

Upward mobility (the advancement of non-professional staff to professional level positions) is a key element of the affirmative action plan. What can we do as an institution to support the educational endeavors of non-teaching faculty and classified staff at CCSU? How can we work to develop and support staff to promote non-professional staff? – Alberto Cifuentes, Jr. and Nicholas D'Agostino

Table – Time ran out

F. EAC Role

As part of the EEAC (Affirmative Action) Plan regulation, agencies with over 100 employees can choose to have an Employee Advisory Committee to assist in the pursuit of goals and objectives of affirmative action and equal opportunity. CCSU has established this new campus-wide committee that is charged with assisting the university in our implementation of the AA

A. Salary Offers

As a committee, we have discussed the level of consistency with full-time tenured track position offers. We’ve discussed who makes an offer, e.g., dean, department chair, and how offers are negotiated, e.g., salary offers. – Joanne DiPerso

Dr. Toro – discussion of offers being made beyond salary, e.g., start up packages, which should come from the dean. Additional discussion by committee members on how the process may differ from department to department.

Dr. Toro reported that consistency protects the institution and suggested to the committee to draft a recommendation on the process and eventually send this reminder to deans. It was also suggested that we consider a similar process for administrative faculty and that we can work with the Provost regarding salary ranges.

B. Special Appointments

We discussed that within SUDAF and AAUP, hires as special appointments have a strong likelihood of being hired into full-time positions. The issue is that there isn’t a formal process to recruit and select special appointments, and often these are filled at the last minute by people known to the department chair. Additionally, they tend to lack racial diversity. What can we do as an institution or committee to address this situation? – Joseph Farhat

Discussion on the need for limited procedures to be developed for special appointments. There is a need to not just pick and choose individuals; however, recognizing the limited timeframes and at times urgency to fill the vacancy. Dean Alfaro asks to review the CV’s of emergency appointments to verify if anyone is being selected; however, when asked about diversification, there was not mechanism in place.

Dr. Toro recommended that we develop simple guidelines for special appointments that allow for a quick selection process and to be clear with people filling emergency vacancies that the positions are not a preamble to a permanent position.

Further discussion for when a search is set up to select a specific candidate. Della Sanders, Social Work Chair said she hired a candidate from a previous search to fill a special appointment. She added that this was a better way of handling these so they went through a search process. She added that this resulted in diversity in gender, e.g., male.

Dr. Toro charged the committee of developing recommendations regarding this process.

C. Advertisement of Positions

How do we ensure we are maximizing our recruitment efforts to recruit diverse and goal candidates? – Carlos Luriente

Dr. Toro reported that there is a process being developed to identify programmatic changes and anticipated retirements. All positions will be hindered by budgetary restraints. This year we were fortunate to move forward with some searches; however, we may not know the outcome of next year’s budget until July. Rosa added that these are made aware of department needs and talent management concerns we can assist in pushing to fill vacancies. Rosa shared the example of an entire department consisting of faculty post retirement age.

Dr. Toro indicated that chairs need to manage their talent and charged the group to develop strategies for talent management.

D. Faculty of Color Retention

As we discuss recruitment of faculty, we have also discussed the retention of faculty of color. There are some departments where people of color do not last long in their employment at plan. What do you see as the role of a committee such as ours? — Joo Eng Lee-Partridge and Rosa Rodriguez Tabbed — Time ran out. However, many tasks were formulated during the meeting with Dr. Toro.

Additional Conversation:

Member of the committee felt energized around the work and tasks before us. Others shared honestly about their experiences of racism and recognized the work is very difficult.

The University Research and Creative Achievement Program at CCSU celebrates the phenomenal work done by our students and their faculty mentors. For the past 19 years this event has highlighted the best parts of our university mission. This event would not be possible without the support of the School of Graduate Studies and the Office of Academic Affairs, which funds not only URCA, but the Awardees’ prizes and the undergraduates’ trip to the National Conference for Undergraduate Research (NCUR), hosted this year by the University of Memphis in April. Dr. Jason Jones, Dr. Barry Westcott, and Dr. Guy Crundwell have all served as Faculty Coordinators of URCA, and each has made his own mark on the program. Thank you, finally, to Dean Glynis Fitzgerald, my faculty colleagues Dr. Eric Leonidas and Dr. Sarah Maurer, Susan Matterazzo in the Office of Academic Affairs, and Rachael Merritt, who have all worked tirelessly on the logistics of this huge event.

Sincerely, Aimee Poxorski, Department of English

Ebenezer D. Bassett

Biographical Sketch

Ebenezer D. Bassett was born on October 16, 1853, the son and partner of renowned Black Quaker of Tivoli, New York. In 1857, he became the first African American student accepted to New York's Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute and the University of Pennsylvania. He graduated with honors in 1859, and later became a professor at Fisk University. In 1860, President Grant appointed him as President of Atlanta University, making him the first African American University President.

ACADEMY FOR EXCELLENCE, EQUITY, AND LEARNING (AEEL)

Presented by the Faculty Senate Diversity Committee

The members of the Faculty Senate Diversity Committee (FSDC), with support by the Center for Teaching and Faculty Development, have developed a year-long intensive program for faculty and staff who wish to improve their teaching, knowledge, and / or their record keeping of diversity and equity. The program is open to all faculty, because we understand that high-quality instruction, cultural competency, and professionalism is a life-long process. This program, however, might be especially useful for new faculty, whom may have had little prior teaching and professional development in teaching and learning through the lenses of diversity.

Come support the Red Flag Campaign!

When: Monday, October 3, 2016 from 1:00pm-2:00pm
Where: Constitution Room (Meadow Hall)

Moderator: Dr. Susan Kosi, Criminal Justice

Panelist:
- Ms. Brenda V., a mother of the community sharing her story of challenge and her flag
- Ms. Lindsay Pugliese, former domestic violence Program Director, Justice Center & Criminal Justice
- Mr. Joseph Wilbanks, Deputy Director within Judicial Branch's Court Support Services Division, Family Relations Coordinator

The Red Flag Campaign

The Red Flag Campaign helps students identify "Red Flags" for dating violence in their friends' relationships and encourages them to intervene. College students are at a particularly high risk of being a victim or being involved in dating physical or sexual violence during their college years. Help others recognize this type of abuse. The answer is their friend.

The Red Flag Campaign features a series of eight posters that illustrate "Red Flags" that might be present in a relationship in which dating violence is occurring. The purpose is to encourage students to speak up when they see red flags for dating violence in their friends' relationships. Friends and family members are the most likely group of people to see a resource and information to help victims of intimate partner violence. For college students surrounded by their peer group, this may be the most important intervention at the time.

Here are many red flags that indicate dating violence is occurring in relationships:
- Unwilling to talk about violence. Saying, "Nothing will happen, I'm just being overreactive."
- Isolation, isolation, isolation. Staying in the house; and being able to control the phone or computer.
- Physical and verbal abuse. Scuffles; and being able to control the phone or computer.
- Looking over your shoulder. Being able to control the phone or computer.
- Frequently asking you for money. Being able to control the phone or computer.
- Making you wait for things you need. Being able to control the phone or computer.
- Keeping you used to your needs. Being able to control the phone or computer.
- Making you feel guilty. Being able to control the phone or computer.
- Making you feel bad. Being able to control the phone or computer.
- Making you feel bad. Being able to control the phone or computer.
- Making you feel bad. Being able to control the phone or computer.

Tatyana Fazlalizadeh
Tuesday, November 15, 2016
6:30pm
Student Center, Semesters

Tatyana Fazlalizadeh is an artist, activist, and freelance illustrator who is behind the "Stop Telling Women to Smile" street art project that addresses gender-based street harassment.

In 2013 Fazlalizadeh gained notoriety when she began to use street art to speak out against the street harassment of women. Her poster campaign, Stop Telling Women to Smile, was based upon interviews conducted with women about their experiences of public sexual harassment.

Each poster features a portrait of a woman, along with a caption responding to her experience. Captions include statements such as "My mouth is not an invitation" and "If you can't talk to me for a minute," the campaign calls for women's agency to fight back against their harassers.

WELCOME TO YWCA NEW BRITAIN'S 17th BIENNIAL WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP LUNCHEON
May 11, 2017

ABOUT WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP

Florence Nightingale once said, “It is not the rocking that deranges the cradle, but the disturbance within it.” This statement rings true for many women who have overcome obstacles to rise to leadership positions in their communities. In recognition of the contributions and achievements of women leaders, the YWCA New Britain is proud to host its 17th Biennial Women in Leadership Luncheon.

Eligibility:
- Women who have demonstrated exceptional leadership qualities and have made significant contributions to their communities.
- Women who have shown courage in the face of adversity.
- Women who have overcome personal challenges to achieve their goals.

Criteria:
- Minimum of 5 years of community service.
- Leadership roles in non-profit organizations, educational institutions, or government agencies.
- Outstanding achievements in fields such as education, healthcare, business, and social services.
- Significant contributions to community development and social welfare.

INTERNATIONAL WOMEN’S DAY STRIKE BROUGHT AWARENESS TO GENDER INEQUALITY

Angela Fortuna
A Senior News Editor

International Women’s Day was about amplifying the message that women deserve all the same rights as men, according to Crusel Connecticut State University freshman Catherine Mizio. A crowd of about a hundred students and faculty rallied to support women’s rights in the Student Center Circle on March 8 as part of International Women’s Day.

The event was organized by CTU Women’s Caucus, Zeta Phi Beta, Sisters of St. Francis, and Alpha Kappa Alpha. It was meant to raise awareness about the importance of women’s rights and to encourage activism.

The event featured a stage where speakers including students and faculty members shared their experiences and perspectives on gender inequality.

The event also featured a performance by the Connecticut State University Women’s Choir, which sang songs about women’s rights and gender equality.

The event concluded with a march around the campus, where participants sang and chanted slogans related to women’s rights.

The event was organized in collaboration with various women’s groups and organizations on campus.

and was attacked by SGA senator Danielle Plazkonka. "They're using emotional heart string pulling tactics, they're saying they feeling alienated, which I understand where you're coming from. I understand you feel Social continue their education. Upon approval, when worn by members of our group, this will show others here that there is a club with people like them," Small said.

Small stated that the request had nothing to do with using emotions to manipulate the SGA. DeW, who voted for the space, says that he has been voting for club requests each time. "The fact that the veterans got a 18-4 vote the first time they requested, and got a majority the second time, speaks to the facts that senators in the majority want Cappiello disagreed with this, and said there seems to be a pattern with the SGA bringing up bylaws when it comes to the SVO.

"I think this is a good motion, they have everything they need to fill the bylaws, in my opinion there is nothing wrong with this. We were put out the food drive we be receiving T-Shirts for free from Small. The SVO is looking into changing new members who were like to have T-Shirts, so that the can no longer go to the SGA for any other requests and are able to sustain themselves.

Being Muslim In Connecticut

Panelists discussed being Muslim in Connecticut this past Monday night.

HUMERA GUL

Central Connecticut State University held the event, "A Conversation with Connecticut Activists, Being Muslim in CT," this past Monday, that incorporated four Muslim panelists and a Muslim moderator.

The event started with Ms. Samia Hussein, a CCSU alumni and President of Muslim Coalition of Connecticut, an organization aimed at bridging the gap between Muslims and other faiths and communities. "25 percent of Muslims in America are African-American Muslims and 60 percent of Muslims in America are born in the United States. There is a campaign rhetoric to show Muslims are mostly from Middle East and they are a threat to the American way," Hussein said, to the students who filled Memorial Hall.

Student Government senator, President of the South Asian Student Association and active Muslim Student Association member, Sajera Hussain then took to the podium.

"Conversations like these are so vital and it's important for everyone to stand together against oppression of any marginalized group," said Hassan.

The moderator, Dr. Saud Anwar, a physician who specializes in lung disease and critical care medicine, serves as a Chair of the Department of Internal Medicine and Rockville General Hospitals.

The panel consisted of Mrs. Mubarak Ibraham, Mrs. Leja Duvic, Mrs. Shazia Chaudhary and Dr. Khamsi Abu-Hasaballah. "Ibraham is a health and fitness expert with 20 years of experience in the personal wellness industry. Duric is a community organizer and the youth coordinator at the Boston American Islamic Cultural Center of Hartford. Chaudhary is the Director of Community and Family Relations of the Alzheimer's Resource Center of Connecticut, and Abu-Hasaballah is assistant Vice President for Research IT Services at UConn Health."

"When people talk about Muslim, they think of this angry young Middle Eastern man and is that who we are?" first asked the moderator.

"You just have to look at the group of panelists to see how diverse Muslims are," said Khanis, who is an Arab American. "Why don't Muslims condemn attacks committed by Muslims?" said Ibraham, recalling a story.

by Muslims. If I don't publicly condemn the attack, people make me feel like I did the attack. The FBI states that 14 percent of Muslims are the highest percentage of perpetrators of domestic terrorism. Does ever Muslim condemn an attack ever?" said Ibraham.

"Sarah is a young Muslim girl at CCSU and she was carrying a heavy backpack to school. Her teacher noticed Sarah was carrying a lot of stuff in her backpack. She was carrying her school stuff, dolls, toys and a blanket. The teacher asked Sarah, 'Why are you carrying all these other items with you?'" Sarah said, because I have been told that my family will have to leave and Trump will kick us out. I have all my stuff and I just want to make sure I have my toys where I have to leave," said Hussein, recalling a story.

SITTING DOWN WITH SENATOR CUSANO

This past year, with the support of her sister, Cusano chose to be the voice for all Greek life by joining the executive board. This past year, she and I joined to help represent Greek life and to help break the stereotype that Greek life is all about partying," Cusano said.

"I began working with the RIA that Cusano found another family and another group of brothers and sisters. She explained her perspective to me. For me, fraternities were found amongst friends.

"I knew that if I agreed, sounds very but without means my own two strength and abilities. I have grown, so much better playing and I definitely went a lot to social along with Phi Sig. Phil Sig taught me not to feel the rush of being very on campus and how it important to get my voice heard and do whatever I can to improve the way other view this campus," Cusano said.

As a university student, she knows how important it is for students to feel welcomed and to be involved.

"Not a lot of clubs have their own homes and that doesn't sit right with me. It's important that people have the knowledge to have a brother role," Cusano said.

"I would love to see brothers and sisters that they all know about the availability to be a leader. I would love to be able to support students to have their potential and help them become leaders.

"I want to make that clear. I have been doing all that I could to make the campus as open as they could be about how they wanted," Cusano said.

MORE THAN JUST A SAFE SPACE

SARAH WILSON

"I believe that as a student and staff volunteer at CUSU and work as a way to encourage women to join the STEM field," Cusano believes the STEM mentor for females is so long, due to its roughly stable female representation.

"Women only make up one quarter (25%) of the STEM field, according to the American Association of University Women, a non-profit organization that aims to advocate programs for women through workshops and other events.

The theme, chosen for it's a STEM workforce and the accompanying theme, also provides unique opportunities that are often underutilized for women in the STEM field."

"I'm currently working on the grief of STEM girls," Cusano said. "I know that,” Cusano said, "I know that when I'm trying to do promote and foster women in the STEM field, but there are not a lot of them going to the STEM field, and I don't believe that I'm comfortable coming to you. I need to change that. I have plans to be able to contribute with others and feel comfortable coming to you for anything that they may need," Cusano said.

Cusano credits her own education as key strength.

"I think that if I were to have to worry about campus and I want others to see the value of my opinions and ideas and feel like their voice is heard and I would be able to take those opinions and ideas and be able to make the decisions that need to be made," Cusano said.

"Cusano will graduate next year at a soapbox major. She hopes to have a career in human resource in the near future. In her free time, she practices karate and plays golf. Cusano also loves the campus for the location of the career fair. The more that the soapbox student hopes to become a leader for all who are interested."

"I want to make sure that I have made sure that I have done all that I could to make campus as open as they could be about how they wanted," Cusano said.

MUSLIM STUDENT ASSOCIATION HOLDS IMMIGRATION PANEL

BY VIRUS DOS SANTOS

A family from Syria, a student from Russia and others came together at Central Connecticut State University Monday night to discuss and share their concerns of the political climate for Muslims in this country. The event included a panel discussion on immigration moderated by the Muslim Student Association.

"We want to bring awareness to who we are, and how it affects us too," said MSA President Luis Artigas.

Though the panel was an opportunity to share their experiences, many felt that the events of 9/11 have made it difficult for them to express their true selves.

"We are afraid to be who we are," said Artigas.

The panelists discussed their experiences with being stared at and how it affects their daily lives.

"It's a constant reminder of who we are," said one panelist.

The panelists also discussed the importance of education and the need for more understanding of the Muslim community.

"We need to educate people about who we are," said another panelist.

The event concluded with a question and answer session, where panelists and audience members had the opportunity to ask questions and share their thoughts on the importance of immigration and diversity.

CCSU Discusses The Immigration Bill

Central Connecticut State University held a panel discussion in Aldrich Hall to inform students about the Immigration Bill making its way through the White House. It was also an opportunity to discuss the issue as a whole.

"We have to be aware of this," said one panelist.

The panelists discussed the importance of education and the need for more understanding of the Immigration Bill.

"Education is key," said another panelist.

An Inside Look at the Recent Women's March

ANGELA FORTUNA
LAUREN LISTOGEN

Mixed emotions filled the air across the United States following Friday's events. Although, there was one common feeling among the millions of people who gathered to protest in the streets of many big cities across the country this past Saturday, Jan. 21.

With more than two million people protesting in the Women's March all across the world, the movement could be one of the biggest in U.S. history.

Of those cities included New York City, Washington D.C., Boston, Los Angeles, Hartford and many more.

"It was amazing to see so many people out there standing up for what they believe in, and it felt good to know that so many other people feel the way I do," said University of Wisconsin-Madison student Gillian Quinn.

Quinn informs that there were between 75,000 and 100,000 people at the march in Madison, Wisconsin.

Although the demonstrators were mainly focused on women's rights, that issue was the only cause that was protected.

The protests were held to make a difference and raise awareness of issues such as reproductive rights, immigration and civil rights under the new United States president, Donald Trump.

"A lot of things that our current president and his colleagues have been doing have been absolutely deplorable and have transcended not only women's rights, but really rights for all," says Central Connecticut State University student Lavette Peerman, who attended the march in Hartford.

Many of the people involved in these protests have never protested before. The issues that were protested are important to many Americans, causing huge numbers of people to come out and defend their views.

"I knew sitting around and just being angry about it wouldn't do anything," said Quinn. "I had to get out there and have my voice heard."

For many, being heard was the largest motive in attending. CCSU freshman Shelby Williams attended the march in Washington D.C. and explained it as "an intense experience." Although this experience was intense, she did all over again if she could," said Williams.

As a member of the Youth for Socialist Action group here on CCSU's campus, Williams felt as if it was her obligation as a community to attend the march.

"As a woman of color, to be in solidarity with other women that are trying to prevent the cut of Planned Parenthood and sustain other civil liberties such as maintaining our right to abortion, I felt I had to be here," said Williams. "The march was peaceful with a lot of people of all ages, everyone from all walks of life, making sure to make it to this march and we all felt angry, but most of all, we wanted change."

Perhaps what made people feel most passionate about their experience at the march was the feeling of connectedness and togetherness they felt with the people who were marching next to them.

"To see so many people (some) together to fight and speak up for the same thing was so empowering," said Freeman. "I met people that I would never have met otherwise."

Quinn remains hopeful for the future and hopes that we, as a country, will continue to make similar huge strides in the years to come.
Welcome President Toro

ALONSO VELASQUEZ

Central Connecticut State University welcomed President Zulma Toro at a reception held in Alumni Hall on Jan. 19. CCSU faculty and students filled the tables set up in Alumni Hall to enjoy finger foods, have the opportunity to mingle with each other and meet the new president for themselves.

The ceremony was open to the public, which resulted in many in the CCSU community taking the opportunity to meet Toro.

Many in attendance spoke of their hopes and expectations for the incoming president.

Student Chris Mercado hopes that he new president will "improve student satisfaction and support Greek life."

CCSU Associate Vice President of Academic Affairs Zdzislaw Krendos explained that, being an engineer himself, he likes that Toro "is an engineer. She is very energetic. I think she will be a very good president."

Freshman Akel Long hopes that she fosters innovation. "She said that her plan involved a new building that CCSU recently purchased. I hope she has an active presence on campus and a positive influence on students."

"I hope most of all that she has an open-door policy and is a transparent and accessible president," said Student Government Association (SGA) Chair of Academic Affairs Wyatt Busworth. "She has spoken of her goals for the student government meeting and committed to listening and communicating with us."

CCSU Latin American Student Organization (LASO) co-director Arilda Rosado said, "I would like the support of Dr. Toro to enhance our diversity, because CCSU is in the backyard of Hartford and New Britain and we have so many talented young students of color. Latino, African American, and other students that we need to reach out to and bring them on campus."

"This gala was part of a taste of events intended to help Toro learn more about the CCSU community. The day prior to the event, she spoke for an hour to the SGA, and at the event, she spoke for an hour to the SGA, and LASO also hosted an event for her."
RACIAL SENSITIVITY ON CAMPUS

Shelby Williams
The Recorder

Central Connecticut State University must make efforts in dispelling racial stereotypes in order to maintain harmony on campus.

Students that derive from different regions of the world and ethnic backgrounds require a mutual understanding in order to feel welcome and safe. It is mandatory to discuss and understand one another's cultural differences in order to establish a sense of respect.

As a woman of color and Jamaican descent, I make it a moral obligation to educate others and myself on racial issues. It is essential to be an advocate for equity and mutual understanding of cultural differences.

If a person wishes to educate themselves on their own heritage or the issues revolving around a particular ethnic community, there are clubs at CCSU. These include the Black Student Union, United Caribbean Club, and African Student Organization. All serve as positive outlets.

The agenda of each club may differ, yet the intent remains the same. The intent of these clubs is to destroy misconceptions and preconceived notions of a particular ethnic group. They work to educate and destroy the stereotypes that further demeasure the rich culture and heritage of ethnic communities.

Whether it is through dancing or educational discussion, each club on campus plays an important role in stitching the CCSU student body fabric.

However, the clubs alone will not be enough to end prejudices on campus. There is still so much more to be done, with the tools at the middle of its creation. It is only through direct interaction and experience can we, the student body, end all forms of racial insensitivity. There needs to be more of a push.

More power needs to come from the students to tear away at casteship and ask those scary questions that may come off as socially inappropriate. In recent years racial injustices, prejudice, and racial profiling were, "Hush-Hush," topics deemed unfit or unethical to discuss on a college campus. This is due to the amount of discomfort non-people of color felt when racial matters were brought up.

It was believed that this high level of discomfort was a result of race being brought up as a topic during discussion and rallies. Yet, it was the lack of understanding and guilt that caused the discomfort. It is the inability to feel or understand the daily struggles people of color go through each day that induces those strong feelings of discomfort.

This practice of not discussing race as an issue and issues serve as counterproductive. It only worsens the problem and adds more tension between members of the student body. Therefore, consistent discussion and education will serve as the proper means of addressing this issue and discomfort from our college campuses.

A future once a year will not magically change the mindset of those that fail to understand the disparities African-Americans face socially and economically in this country. Only through continuous pressure and demand for forums, functions, and events year-round will the student body achieve the goal of racial sensitivity and cultural appreciation.
Central Connecticut State University made history as the school appointed a woman President for the first time in the university's 167-year history. Dr. Zulma R. Toro was appointed the 15th President of CCSU on Oct. 20.

The Board of Regents for Higher Education selected Dr. Toro in a unanimous vote. The meeting took place at Alumni Hall in the CCSU Student Center. The search for Dr. Jack Miller's successor began seven months ago and attracted 69 candidates, according to the school website.

The process went through a series of eliminations with multiple interviews being conducted. Three finalists were named on Sept. 20. All three candidates visited the school during the week of Sept. 28. A questionnaire was sent out for students and faculty to review each finalist. Dr. Toro beat out finalists Dr. Terry L. Allison and Dr. Christopher M. Fiorentino for the position. Her appointment garnered praise from the Board of Regents.

"Dr. Zulma Toro is an outstanding scholar who greatly impressed both the University Advisory Committee and Regents Search Committee with her dedication to academic excellence," Chair of the Regents Search Committee Richard Baldacci told reporters. President of the Connecticut State Colleges and Universities Mark Ojakian shared a similar opinion.

"Dr. Toro's incredible commitment to faculty and student success, as well as her varied experience in public higher education, will help her build on Central Connecticut State University's growth over the past decade," Ojakian told reporters. Dr. Toro's current position is Interim Chancellor, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

She has been at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock since 2013, according to her curriculum vitae. Dr. Toro's prior education includes an undergraduate degree in industrial engineering from the University of Puerto Rico and a Ph.D. from the Georgia Institute of Technology and a master's degree in industrial and operations engineering from the University of Michigan.

This is not the first time Dr. Toro will be holding an administrative position at a Connecticut university. Dr. Toro previously was the Dean of the School of Engineering and Applied Science at the University of New Haven from 2001 to 2005.

Dr. Toro was able to make an appearance at the Board of Regents meeting via a live stream. "I am deeply honored and excited to have the opportunity to serve as Central's next president," she said at the event.

"I look forward to working with the entire Central Connecticut State University community as we continue to build on the university's wonderful legacy," She also sent out a personal email to all CCSU students and faculty. "Since my visit to the campus, I felt a sense of belonging difficult to explain, and today it feels like I am returning home," she wrote. "Thank you for allowing me to join your family.”

Dr. Toro's official duties begin at CCSU on Jan. 3, 2017. She will receive an annual salary of $289,500. Dr. Susan Pease, who has served as Interim President since Dr. Miller's retirement, will continue in that role until Jan. 3.
CONFUSION AMIDST LATEST SEXUAL ASSAULT

Amelia Novak
Arkton Bloom

Central Connecticut State University is backtracking on an alleged sexual assault that happened near campus.

Last Thursday, CCSU students and faculty were notified of a sexual assault that occurred on campus via a string of emails. The university sent out three separate emails, each email contradicting the previous one before it.

"It was a little confusing because I'm still not sure what even happened," said student Fabian Poncea. "I don't even know if they know what happened."

The confusion originally started after a sexual assault was reported to CCSU police. The alleged assault was said to have occurred on the early morning of Oct. 8.

The victim originally said it happened in the Willard and Dillerette parking lot. University police then, met with the Cleary Act and sent out an email informing the campus of the attack, causing a media frenzy and panic within the CCSU community. "It was overwhelming to receive all those emails, but it was a story that was not fully uncovered yet," said student Lindsay Grant. "Hopefully police figure out what happened."

The incident continued to bring more confusion as the night progressed. CCSU Associate Vice President Marketing & Communications Mark McLaughlin sent out two update emails stating not only did the incident not happen on campus, but also the victim was not a CCSU student.

"Since this went out earlier, I've learned that the person reporting the assault is not a CCSU student," McLaughlin wrote. The second one stated, "Further investigation CCSU Police have now determined that the reported sexual assault did not occur on CCSU's campus."

Since the string of emails last Thursday, the school has officially sent no further updates. No description of the alleged attacker was ever released. McLaughlin did provide an update to The Recorder on Oct. 14. "After CCSU Police determined that the reported incident did not take place at CCSU, they closed their investigation and advised the person who reported it to contact the New Britain Police Department," he said.

But with two sexual assaults allegedly happening within the same weeks of each other, many students on campus are questioning if they are truly safe on campus. "I don't feel safe, especially because I have a lot of night classes," said student Chelsea Scribner. "I'm definitely going to get some pepper spray."

CCSU Police declined to comment further on what they are doing to ensure campus safety. In the generic email that was originally sent campus wide, CCSU police said they "Will provide additional patrol coverage to this area, but people are advised to use caution nonetheless."

According to the 2013-2015 Cleary Report emailed out earlier this month, forcible sex offenses have increased within the last year at CCSU. In 2014 one forcible sex act was reported and documented. By 2015 that number tripled to four.

CCSU took some heat earlier this semester when students and faculty were not immediately notified of a sexual assault on campus. The assault, which occurred in Jonas Hall, was determined to be an isolated incident by CCSU Police. The department deemed there was no threat to the rest of campus.
FLAGGING DATING VIOLENCE

Students at Central Connecticut State University may have noticed a series of red flags on campus. These flags are part of a movement known as the Red Flag Campaign, which aims to promote awareness of dating violence, especially among college students.

The national campaign first began 10 years ago in Virginia, according to the campaign website. CCSU joined the national movement in 2014. The campaign's main focus is to increase bystander awareness.

Most often, it is friends and family members who actually seek help for someone they know is in an abusive relationship. The campaign states it is important to be able to identify red flags and to be aware of the proper course of action in these situations.

Victims of abusive relationships often feel powerless, or are very afraid of the perpetrator. Sometimes they may not even realize that the way they are being treated is a problem, because they have been beaten down to feel as though they are helpless. Being a bystander can have a huge impact on how the abuse is perceived.

The Red Flag Campaign cites physical abuse, verbal abuse, stalking, and emotional abuse as examples of dating violence.

The campaign refers to the crucial role bystanders play. The campaign lists six red flags that bystanders should be aware of:

1. Unusual absences or frequent lateness
2. Injuries or explanations for injuries
3. Shattered self-esteem
4. Unusual changes in behavior
5. Unexplained changes in behavior
6. Safety concerns

The website lists important actions bystanders should take.

Three include speaking up when someone is being mistreated, stepping in at the right of the bystander intervention strategy, and keeping a record of activity to talk to the abuser or victim.

These strategies are important to the well-being of friends and family members who are in relationships. If the violence gets complicated, then red flags can escalate and result in someone being casually injured, or even killed.

Between 2001 and 2012, there were 6,499 cases of dating violence in America, according to the National Network to End Domestic Violence. During that time, 11,065 women were killed by their male partners in America.

In 2014, 56% of college students reported experiencing dating violence, according to the Red Flag Campaign website. This number shows how common dating violence is on campuses across the nation. A sexual assault occurred in Jones Hall only two weeks ago at CCSU. The incident is still under investigation.

Despite the recent controversy, CCSU has many resources available to students who have experienced dating violence. Incidents can be reported to CCSU Police or the Office of Diversity and Equity in Daniels Hall, Room 102. Students can also seek counseling at the Student Wellness Services in Muscogee Hall.

ANTI-DISCRIMINATION RALLY SPREADS AWARENESS TO CCSU STUDENTS

Students and faculty can see posters supporting the campaign on the information boards across campus.

Leilie Morgan Steiner, a former abuse victim, stressed the importance of identifying the red flags of dating violence, during a speech at Central Connecticut State University. She spoke about the myths and misconceptions on relationship abuse last Wednesday, in Axton Hall.

"Abuse is not about hitting somebody; it's about using violence and control to dominate them," said Steiner, author of the New York Times bestseller "Crazy Love." Steiner grew up in an abuse-free home in Washington D.C., eventually graduating Harvard with a B.A. in English. She moved to New York City and worked full-time at Seventeen Magazine. One day on the train she met the man she would eventually marry named Conner, a pseudonym used to protect his identity. At first everything was great, as she would call it the "honeymoon phase." It was not until the many warning signs arose that signaled the beginning of an abusive relationship. Throughout this relationship she risked her life, as she was severely beaten and threatened frequently.

She recalls her last straw was the time when Conner, after six months of not hitting her, barricaded and beat her for hours. That night she made a choice to get out of the relationship. "This night it didn't feel like my husband was hitting me. It felt like a complete stranger was in my bedroom and was going to kill me. I was absolutely positive he was going to kill me," said Steiner. "The reason I am here today was because I chose me, I was going to put myself first." Her goal by sharing her story at CCSU is to spread awareness to students that might have an association with relationship abuse, whether directly or someone they may know.

"That is why I am here today, to try to persuade everyone in the audience that, first of all not to put up with abuse. If you are a victim or an abuser there is a lot of help for you," said Steiner. "Students were glad to receive chance to hear by personal testimony as it allowed them to open their eyes on relationship abuse."

"I think at college it's something good that they are talking about, because students are trying to find themselves and want to be accepted. If they are in a bad situation they don't know it can be be harming," said junior J-Ada Serrano. Steiner's visit was sponsored by the Red Flag campaign at CCSU. The campaign's goal is to prevent dating violence in college.

Sarah Dodd, specialist at the Office of Victim Advocacy at CCSU, did a survey at the university's Student Center and found an overwhelming number of students said the Red Flag campaign helped them understand violent relationships.

Equally, accentuated the importance of Steiner's story to the campaign. "The campaign itself is to raise awareness, to talk about the red flags in dating violence," said D'Agostino. "Her whole story is a series of red flags on point to what this campaign is about. The warning signs that arose that she didn't recognize at first, but was able to look back and say that was a red flag." According to campusafetymagazine.com, a website for promoting safety on campus, 57 percent of college students that reported they have been involved in dating violence said the abuse happened in college. Nearly 58 percent of college students said they are unsure on what to do, to help a victim of an abusive relationship.

Rose Rodrigues, Chief Diversity Officer in the Office of Diversity and Equity, emphasized that having Steiner share her story was to bring awareness on the issue to the young minds of CCSU.

"When we are that age, we tend to think it's not going to happen to us, in reality college aged students are a high risk group. A group that it happens to more often than we think," said Rodriguez. They become afraid, they think it's only happening to them so they keep it a secret, and if it's happening to one of our students it's affecting all of the community."

The Office of Victim Advocacy and The Office of Diversity and Equity provide services to assist students at CCSU that may be affected by dating violence. If you or someone you know needs these services, please contact Sarah Dodd at the Office of Victim Advocacy, located in Carol Hall, Room 240, or Rosa Rodrigues at the Office of Diversity and Equity, located in Davidson Hall, Room 102.
CSCSU Students React to Sexual Assault on Campus

Analisa Novak
Editor-in-Chief

Students at Central Connecticut State University were outraged to find out that there was a sexual assault on campus last weekend, and they were not notified.

"For the general well-being of the people here, I think that we should have been notified," said freshman Ari Burger.

The sexual assault, which took place last Saturday in the late hours at James Hall, was confirmed for The Recorder by campus administration. CSCSU police are still investigating the situation and could not comment due to the ongoing investigation. In a statement, the university said that the student who reported the incident was provided with support and information from CSCSU staff, including CSCSU's Victim Advocate.

There is no word if any arrest was made or if the accused assailant still attends CSCSU.

Federal law requires the campus to deliver timely warnings whenever there is a campus crime that can be an "ongoing threat to the campus community." Many CSCSU students expected to receive an email or another type of notification about the assault.

"This is my first time hearing about the sexual assault," said junior Sara Pesci. "If someone sexually assaulted someone else, what's to stop them from doing it again? Why not give a warning? They usually do notify us, so why didn't they now? It happened before, it could happen again."

In a new statement released exclusively to The Recorder, Assistant Vice President of Marketing & Communication Mark McLaughlin wanted to underscore that the police department determined early on in the process that it was an isolated incident and that there was no threat to the rest of the campus.

However, many on campus disagree with McLaughlin's statement. "We should have been notified because we need to know these things and we need to know what type of people are in our schools and I think they are trying hide it because I don't think people would want to be in the school if they knew what kind of things are going on," said senior Ben Fickes.

Every local media outlet was on campus last week reporting on the sexual assault. But even with local media attention, many students continue to feel that they are being left in the dark.

"I should be aware of everything that happens on campus, good or bad, because my safety is involved," said senior Taylor Zimmerman. "That kind of scares me because, what if that happened in my building? I used to live in Burcorn; that is right next to James Hall and that would have been nice to know because that is an all female building."

The Office of Victim Advocacy and Violence Prevention provides services to assist and support individuals affiliated with Central Connecticut State University who have been impacted by sexual assault, relationship violence, and/or stalking. Students who need these services should contact Sarah Dodd at the office of Victim Advocacy and Violence, located in Carroll Hall, Room 248.

"If outside news sources are going to show up to cover it, [the university] might as well address and acknowledge it as well. I didn't know about it," senior Jason Doe said.

Sexual assault is a growing concern on campuses nationwide; students at CSCSU are questioning their safety more than ever and want to be notified of events.
Central Connecticut State University made history as the school appointed a woman President for the first time in the university's 167-year history. Dr. Zulma R. Toro was appointed the 15th President of CCSU on Oct. 20.

The Board of Regents for Higher Education selected Dr. Toro in a unanimous vote. The meeting took place at Alumni Hall in the CCSU Student Center. The search for Dr. Jack Miller's successor began seven months ago and attracted 69 candidates, according to the school website.

The process went through a series of eliminations with multiple interviews being conducted. Three finalists were named on Sept. 20. All three candidates visited the school during the week of Sept. 28. A questionnaire was sent out to students and faculty to review each finalist.

Dr. Toro beat out finalists Dr. Terry L. Allmon and Dr. Christopher M. Pirro, for the position. Her appointment garnered praise from the Board of Regents.

"Dr. Zulma Toro is an outstanding scholar who greatly impressed both the University Advisory Committee and Regents Search Committee with her dedication to academic excellence," Chair of the Regents Search Committee Richard Balducci told reporters. President of the Connecticut State Colleges and Universities Mark Ojakian shared a similar opinion.

"Dr. Toro's incredible commitment to faculty and student success, as well as her varied experience in public higher education, will help her build on Central Connecticut State University's growth over the past decade," Ojakian told reporters. Dr. Toro's current position is Interim Chancellor, Executive Vice Chancellor and Provost at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

She has been at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock since 2015, according to her curriculum vitae. Dr. Toro's prior education includes an undergraduate degree in Industrial Engineering from the University of Puerto Rico. She also received a Ph.D. from the Georgia Institute of Technology and a master's degree in Industrial and Operations Engineering from the University of Michigan.

This is not the first time Dr. Toro will be holding an administrative position at a Connecticut university. Dr. Toro previously was the Dean of the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences at the University of New Haven from 2001 to 2005.

Dr. Toro was able to make an appearance at the Board of Regents meeting via a live stream. "I'm deeply honored and excited to have the opportunity to serve as Central's next president," she said at the event.

"I look forward to working with the entire Central Connecticut State University community as we continue to build on the university's wonderful legacy," she also sent out a personal email to all CCSU students and faculty. "Since my visit to the campus, I felt a sense of belonging difficult to explain, and today it feels like I am returning home," she wrote. "Thank you for allowing me to join your family."

Dr. Toro is set to officially begin at CCSU on Jan. 3, 2017. She will receive an annual salary of $289,500. Dr. Susan Pease, who has served as Interim President since Dr. Miller's retirement, will continue in that role until Jan. 3.

Is there any chance I could come right at the beginning of the class? Another thing came up at 4 PM today? I can arrive a little early to show an old CNN clip from my younger activist days.

The 22nd would work better. I do not have class that particular day. This week is already getting crazed and next week I imagine shouldn’t be as intense.

I can do 4 to 4:20 on that day.

Hi Nick,

Time wise you would have around 20 minutes either at the beginning or end of the class period. Completely up to you if you want to do a formal presentation. This group seems to like visuals. But no pressure. Do you think Nov. 17th or Nov 22nd would work best? You have class the 22nd right?

And thank you again.

Hi Nick,
Thank you again for supporting our events this year and for coming to the Latina Identity Exhibit. It was an interesting day in the department and in classes today. Lots of crying students in need of a lot of counseling, or just needing someone to talk to.

No pressure but if you are free Nov. 17th or Nov. 22nd to briefly speak to the SOC 455 course on your role in the university, what office and equity and diversity does or supports, policies related to protecting students from discrimination or hate crimes, etc., then that would be great. I think you mentioned Thursdays worked best. Again, no pressure. I know you’re busy. Let me know. Thank you.

Introduction

Central Connecticut State University (CCSU) is a regional, comprehensive public university dedicated to learning in the liberal arts and sciences and to education for the professions. The University is located in New Britain, CT and has been an important part of the city's educational and cultural life since CCSU's founding. It is comprised of the following schools - Business, Education & Professional Studies, Graduate Studies, Science, Engineering & Technology, and the Carol Arnason College of Liberal Arts & Social Sciences.

CCSU is the largest of four comprehensive universities within the Connecticut State University System. It serves nearly 15,000 students (10,000 undergraduate and 2,000 graduate students). Female students account for 48 percent of the student population; males 52 percent. CCSU is deeply diverse; more than 25 percent of students are of traditional minority heritage. African American students comprise 17 percent, Latinos nearly 13 percent, and Asians approximately 4 percent of the student body.

Prevention and Response Efforts

Administrators, faculty, staff, community partners and students at CCSU have a long history of working together to prevent and respond to sexual assault, intimate partner violence and stalking. Some highlights of the work accomplished in 2016 includes:

- Incoming undergraduate students were required to complete both an on-line sexual assault prevention curriculum before they first came to campus and a ninety (90) minute evidence-based presentation at Orientation which focused on sexual assault, consent and bystander intervention.

- The Office of Diversity and Equity continued their efforts to provide meaningful training to employees on sexual misconduct prevention and response. In addition to the initial three-hour Title IX training required by all new employees, a 45-minute "reinforcement" training was added as an annual requirement for all employees. This "reinforcement" training provided an opportunity for employees to be updated on new legislation, protocol changes and to further develop their understanding of how to best respond to disclosure and reports of sexual misconduct.

- Two major campaigns, The Red Flag Campaign (relationship violence awareness) and Smell Up CCSU (sexual assault prevention/bystander intervention), were implemented through the collaborative efforts of many CCSU community members. Students and employees were reached through classroom presentations, poster campaigns, major events and social media.

- The CCSU Office of Victim Advocacy (OVA) was awarded a $10,000 grant from the Avon Foundation to develop and implement a peer education program focused on the prevention of sexual assault and relationship violence. Eleven students were trained as peer educators and implemented a variety of innovative programming and a student-developed peer campaign.
The Rush Boyau Women’s Center continued their long history of bringing meaningful and timely speakers and events to campus, including Take Back the Night, The March for Women’s Lives and the Walk of No Shame featuring Taryn Panasiech.

The Department of Athletics, in collaboration with the CCSU Office of Victim Advocacy (OVA), developed a seminar series that was required for all student athletes. One of the key seminars focused on healthy relationships and was positively received by participants.

The Department of Residence Life collaborated with the Rush Boyau Women’s Center and OVA, to continue to provide training and resources to students who live on campus.

The CCSU Sexual Assault and Interpersonal Violence Resource Team (SART) grew, welcoming new team members from New Britain Police Department. These new partnerships will enhance the ability of the team to address the needs of students. The SART team also continued to receive training, most notably a workshop on the criminal justice process from Assistant State's Attorney Elizabeth Kiely.

The Office of Victim Advocacy (OVA), with support from the Office of Diversity and Equity, completed a campus wide climate study on sexual assault. Data was presented to the community through training and several key discussion groups. See the “Campus Climate Survey” section of this document for a full report on findings.

Reportable Data

Students - Incidence of Sexual Violence

A total of forty-two (42) disclosures and reports of sexual assault, intimate partner violence or stalking were made to a non-confidential employee at CCSU.

Disclosures

A total of thirty (30) disclosures of sexual assault, intimate partner violence or stalking were made to a non-confidential employee at CCSU. Of these disclosures, nineteen (19) were sexual assaults, nine (9) involved intimate partner violence and two (2) involved stalking. Disclosures indicated that the victim/survivor did not provide any identifying information regarding the person who harmed them and did not want to engage with a formal process at CCSU. Therefore, there was no formal investigation from the university. However, these individuals were all offered advocacy services and support in making connections with a variety of campus and community resources.

Reports

Twelve (12) individuals reported experiencing sexual assault, intimate partner violence or stalking to a non-confidential employee at CCSU. A report indicates that a CCSU employee was informed of identifying information of an accused person and/or the reporting individual requested that the university take some action. Five (5) of the reports resulted in disciplinary action by the CCSU Office of Student Conduct. Seven (7) reports did not result in disciplinary action for reasons that are outlined below.

Sexual Assault Reports

A total of seven (7) sexual assaults were reported to CCSU in 2016. Two (2) reports resulted in disciplinary action. The disciplinary action in both cases was expulsion. Five (5) of the reports did not result in disciplinary action. No action was taken for the following reasons:

- One (1) of those reports was initialed by a third-party. After initial information gathering by the Office of Diversity and Equity, an investigation was not initiated as the alleged victim reported that an assault did not happen.
- Three (3) of those reports involved an accused person who was not a CCSU employee or student at the time of the report and so, was not under the jurisdiction of the Office of Diversity and Equity or the CCSU Student Conduct.
- One (1) report was investigated by the Office of Student Conduct who determined that the reported behavior did not constitute a violation of the Student Code due to insufficient information.

Intimate Partner Violence - Reports

A total of thirty (30) reports of intimate partner violence were made to CCSU in 2016. Two (2) of the reports resulted in disciplinary action for the accused person. The disciplinary action resulted in the following sanctions: one (1) suspension and one (1) expulsion. One (1) intimate partner violence report did not result in disciplinary action as the accused person was not a member of the CCSU community (student/staff) and thus was not the jurisdiction of the Office of Diversity and Equity or CCSU Student Conduct.

Stalking - Reports

In total, two (2) individuals reported stalking to a CCSU employee. One (1) of the reports resulted in disciplinary action for the accused person. The disciplinary action resulted in expulsion. This accused person was also found responsible for intimate partner violence and is included in statistical data for that section as well. One (1) report of stalking did not result in any disciplinary action because the reporting party could not identify the accused person.

Student Central Appeal

After being found responsible for breaking CCSU policy and sanctioned by the Office of Student Conduct, two (2) individuals appealed the outcome. Both appeals were from students who had been found responsible for sexual assault. The original outcome in both cases was upheld by the Associate Dean of Student Affairs.

Employees - Incidence of Sexual Violence

Throughout the 2016 calendar year, no incidences of sexual assault, intimate partner violence or stalking that involved employees were reported or disclosed to the Office of Diversity and Equity.

Total Anonymous and Confidential Reports and Disclosures

The University Police maintain an online form where individuals can report anonymous crimes, including those of sexual assault, intimate partner violence, stalking. In 2016 there was one (1) anonymous report.
The only employees on the CGSU campus who are able to receive confidential disclosures of sexual assault, intimate partner violence and stalking are licensed counselors in the CGSU Student Wellness Services. That office tracks the number of confidential disclosures throughout the year and provided the following information for 2016:

- Sexual assault: Twenty-five (25) confidential disclosures
- Intimate Partner Violence: Five (5) confidential disclosures
- Stalking: Zero (0) confidential disclosure

It is important to note that these confidential disclosures could potentially also be included in the Total Reported Incidence of Sexual Violence (see Sexual Violence Reportable Statistics and Data, Table III). Some students may disclose to a confidential counselor and also make a report or disclosure to a non-confidential employee at the university.

Program Types:
- [List and Describe Each Program Type]

PREVENTION

Sexual Violence Prevention Program (on-line)
Type of program: Prevention (sexual assault, intimate partner violence, stalking)
Number of sessions offered: On-Line
Audience: Incoming and Transfer CCSU students
Number of participants: 1,233
Description: The CSCU Office of Diversity and Equity and Department of Student Affairs collaborate in requiring incoming students to complete an evidence-based, on-line training. This module provides information about campus policies, definitions, campus and community resources, scenarios to identify signs of abusive behaviors, information on bystander intervention, scenarios to build skills and confidence to intervene and steps to support victims/survivors of sexual violence.

Sexual Assault Prevention and Title IX Training for Resident Assistants
Type of program: Prevention (sexual assault, intimate partner violence, stalking)
Number of sessions: Two (2)
Audience: Resident Assistants
Number of participants: Seventy (70) approximate
Description: All Resident Assistants complete required training on an annual basis. Facilitated by staff from the Office of Victim Advocacy, new Resident Assistants receive training in consent, alcohol and sexual violence, dynamics of relationship violence, rape myths, and stalking behavior. Both new and returning resident assistants then participate in a training on policies, protocols, response and their particular responsibilities as Resident Assistants. The prevention of sexual and interpersonal violence is also highlighted and discussed.

Sex Signals
Type of program: Prevention (sexual assault)
Number of sessions offered: Two (2)
Audience: Incoming CCSU undergraduate students
Number of participants: 1,000 (approximate)
Description: CCU offers a comprehensive orientation for new students each semester. At Orientation 2016 students were required to attend “Sex Signals,” a 60-minute, interactive program facilitated by two trained professionals. The program focuses on beliefs, attitudes and behavior that can lead to sexual violence, the difference between seduction and coercion, consent, how to identify predatory behavior and how to intervene to support members of the CCSU community.

Stand-Up CCSU – Community Organizer Training
Type of program: Prevention (sexual assault)
Number of sessions offered: One (1)
Audience: CCSU students who were accepted into the community organizer program.
Number of participants: Eleven (11)
Description: In the fall of 2015 the CCSU Office of Victim Advocacy was awarded a $10,000 grant from the Avon Foundation for Women to develop a peer education program. The program was initiated in the spring of 2016. Following an application and interview process, eleven students were selected to be a part of the program. These students attended a full day training where they participated in workshops that focused on the primary prevention of sexual violence and a strategic planning session to develop initiatives on the CCSU campus.

Campaign Types:
(List and Describe Each Campaign Type)

CCSU implemented two campus-wide campaigns throughout the 2016 calendar year: Stand Up CCSU (Spring 2016) and The Red Flag Campaign (Fall 2016). Stand Up CCSU is a student-led bystander intervention campaign that focuses on sexual assault, intimate partner violence and stalking. Photos of the campaign and posters developed by CCSU students are attached. The Red Flag campaign is an awareness campaign focused on intimate partner violence. It is administered by a campus-wide committee. More information on both campaigns is below.

Stand Up CCSU – Spring Semester 2016
Summary of Initiatives:

Developed a Peer Education Program
In the fall of 2015, recruitment efforts began for the Stand Up CCSU Community Organizers. After an application and interview process, eleven students were ultimately selected to be a part of the program. These students were provided a full day of training on sexual and interpersonal violence and prevention.

Strategies. They then facilitated classroom presentations, developed a poster campaign and planned four outreach events. They are the heart of the Stand Up CCSU campaign.

Forty-85 (86) Bystander Intervention Classroom Presentations
At the beginning of the spring 2016 semester a sub-committee of community organizers developed a twenty minute presentation for classrooms with assistance from their advisor. They then reached out to faculty across campus. The community organizers co-facilitated presentations in 46 classrooms, directly reaching approximately 1200 students. Their presentation focused on sexual assault myths, bystander intervention and resources on campus. They reached students from a variety of disciplines including math, English, business, manufacturing, criminal justice, sociology, psychology and geology.

Two [2] Film Screenings
The community organizers screened two new documentaries. They hosted a screening of The Hunting Ground, a film that documents how some campuses mishandle Title IX complaints, followed by an open forum with the CCSU Title IX Officer. They also screened The Day You Die In, a film that deconstructs social norms around masculinity, followed by a discussion with CCSU professor, Dr. Jason Skeels. Together, the screenings reached approximately 125 students.

Developed a Poster Campaign
The community organizers began developing the poster campaign during their initial training. After much reflection they developed a campaign that featured each of the community organizers in a poster with their own unique bystander intervention message. They were eager to focus on both how and why students intervene to make campus better and safer. As a group they designed the concept, took the photographs and created an implementation plan.

- One week before the posters went up, the community organizers distributed Post-its with bystander messages all over campus.
- If a CCSU student posted a picture of a found Post-It to Twitter they received a free T-shirt.
- The community organizers then put up 11 X 17 posters.
- The week after the initial posters, they put up even larger posters that just communicated the message.

Collaboration with: Department of Communications
From the beginning of this project, the Department of Communications was a main partner. Two faculty members assigned their production classes a major project of developing a PSA on Stand Up CCSU. The students were provided training and support throughout the semester from the Office of Victim Advocacy. At the end of the semester, a screening of the PSA's was organized. Due to the integration of the campaign in to classes, much excitement was generated amongst students in that department. This led to Stand Up CCSU being highlighted in other academic projects including the student newspaper, a student run TV show, posters and video projects for other classes.

Stand Up Day
The community organizers developed Stand Up Day and played a major role in the project's success. The four hour long event was held outside of the Student Center on campus on one of the first beautiful days of spring. The community organizers had music playing to draw attention to the event. Students could stop by to learn about resources, take part in a bystander intervention themed activity, sign the Stand Up pledge, or have their picture taken with their own Stand Up message to be added to social media.
