The Dance Education Program offers two majors and a minor:

Dance Education, B.S.
Dance Education with a specialization in Entrepreneurship, B. S.
Dance, Minor

Students learn from our extraordinary and diverse faculty as well as internationally acclaimed artists-in residence, such as Jennifer Muller/The Works. From ballet to hip-hop and jazz to Afro-Caribbean, students will learn technique, dance history, and how to create their own dances. Students will experience the canon of American modern dance, learning to understand and respect the lineage while embracing the future of contemporary forms.

Interim Dance Education Program Coordinator/Director:
Pascal Rekoert, Assistant Professor

Dance Education Faculty:
Lillian Cook
Stephen D. Hankey
Erica Nelson

Message from the Director

It has been a journey and a half.

Besides talking about 2020, the year that made us clearly see what we took for granted so long - handshakes and hugs, smiles, and sitting in a crowded theater watching a live dance performance - I am talking about my first campus visit twenty years ago setting repertory work on CCSU student dancers. As a professional dancer, I effortlessly recognized Professor Catherine Fellows’ drive and commitment to the art of dance. Since then, I have stepped into various dance-related leadership roles, sharing our common goal of broadening and elevating dance education-at-large, and always in complete admiration of her force-of-nature presence both on and off stage.

Catherine Fellows recently retired. Her 44-year career at Central Connecticut State University was a tour-de-force and her rich legacy leaves us with too much greatness to fit on this page. Highlights include a beautiful dance complex dedicated specifically to dance, a wide range of dance programs and courses, and statewide K-12 dance certification. Catherine Fellows has been a catalyst for kinesthetic, academic, and societal change, pushing her students outside their comfort zone and into fields ranging from business entrepreneurs to collegiate leadership.

Today’s performance is a celebration of her tenacity and grace. I hope you will enjoy the show as much as we did making it.
We would like to give a special acknowledgement to Catherine Fellows for sharing her love and passion for dance with each dancer performing today! She has inspired the choreographic vision for the pieces you will see in today’s performance. Her belief in each individual's potential to be a dancer and a lover of the performing arts has allowed each of us to flourish here at CCSU. Catherine Fellows is truly a CCSU dance icon. Today we would like to celebrate her 44-year career as a professor here, which has left us all with memories we will cherish forever. Thank you being our teacher, our friend, and our dance mom! Every step on the stage today is to honor you and we hope we make you proud!

Love,

Dancentral & CCSU Dance Education Department

CHOREOGRAPHER’S BIOGRAPHIES

Lillian Cook (Dance Faculty/Choreographer) A native of New London, Connecticut, Lillian M. Cook is a pedagogue, choreographer, humanitarian, and entrepreneur. Ms. Cook serves as the 6-12 Dance Educator for the New London Visual & Performing Arts Magnet School, Adjunct Professor for Central Connecticut State University, and founder/director of The Lion’s Den Dance Company (501c3). Cook has earned numerous credits and awards for her work as a dancer and choreographer at the competitive level throughout New York, Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Jersey, California, and the Dominican Republic. Professional dance credits include the WNBA Connecticut Sun, NBA Nets, and New Kids on the Block. She occasionally offers master classes at Connecticut College and Northeastern University. Cook holds a BA in Business Administration from Eastern Connecticut State University and is pursuing an M.A. in Information Design. Cook believes her calling is to bridge the gap between talent and skill through equity. Additionally, she advocates for prestige in African and African diaspora dance forms.

Stephen Hankey (Dance Faculty/Choreographer) a native of Trinidad and Tobago, is a dancer, master teacher in traditional Caribbean folk forms, and choreographer. Mr. Hankey also teaches at the Cooperative Arts and Humanities High School. Stephen is the director of The Island Reflections Dance Theatre Company in Hartford, CT, and is the founding member, choreographer, and performer of The National Dance Theatre Company of Trinidad and Tobago. His choreography credits include J’ouvert (1995), Road March (1977), A Brighter Day (1998) and Red House Fire! Fire! (1999) for the Bagasse Company; Bassman with the Signal Hill Theater Workshop Tobago (1997); the “Voodoo Ceremony” for the ABC television film Production Creature, by Peter Benchley with Trilogy Entertainment North Ltd. (1997); and Ti Jean and His Brothers for Trinity College (2000). He has collaborated with Indiana State University, Trinity College, and Yale on special assignments. His long running Cultural Spectacular at the Bushnell Theater can be seen annually and has performed extensively nationally and internationally.
Khristopher Henry (Guest Choreographer) is a native of Boston Massachusetts, and is a dance performance, BFA graduate of the University of Hartford at the Hartt School under artistic director Stephen Pier. Khristopher began his training at the Origination Cultural Arts Center in 2011 under the instruction of Shaumba-Yandje Dibinga. There, he studied Contemporary, Modern with Horton based technique as well as Hip-Hop and African dance. In 2011-2015, Khristopher was a dance major at the Boston Arts Academy where he began his ballet training with instructor Chris Alloways Ramsey; former dancer with the Boston Ballet. During his time at Boston Arts Academy he was able to work with choreographers Nathan Trice on a new work titled Conversions as well as Katherine Young; artistic Director of the Boston Conservatory. In 2013 Khristopher attended Complexions Contemporary Ballet’s Code 3 workshop where he was able to work with Desmond Richardson, Dwight Rhoden and Jae Man Joo. During his time at the Hartt School, Khristopher began to further his ballet training under the instruction of Hilda Morales and the other exquisite Hartt School faculty and modern dance, specifically Limón and Graham technique under the instruction of Nina Watt and Miki Orihara. In addition, he was able to work with choreographers Norbert De La Cruz and Brain Arias and Yoshito Sakuraba. Khristopher is currently a dancer with Boston Dance Theater.

Abby Nelson, (Student Choreographer) dance education major, choreographer, and performer, is a senior at Central Connecticut State University. She is currently completing her last semester as a Dance Education and Physical Education major. Abby has spent the last six years with the dance company. Over the years Abby has choreographed five pieces set on Dancentral dancers. Abby’s choreography presented in this show is her sixth piece! Abby has been a devoted Executive Board member holding the role of Secretary and Vice President. This year Abby submitted her work Lambent to The University of Saint Joseph's 5 x 5 dance festival among other colleges and professional companies! In the future, she plans to start her own dance company as well as work in a magnet arts school. Abby plans to work to get her masters and doctorate related to dance and education.
Erica Nelson (Dance Faculty/Choreographer) Residing in Hartford, CT, Erica Nelson is a classically trained dancer who received her BFA in Dance Performance with University Honors from The Hartt School, University of Hartford. She is pursuing her Master’s in Arts Leadership and Cultural Management from Colorado State University. Erica is currently an adjunct professor of Dance at Central Connecticut State University where she teaches ballet, modern, dance production and repertory. She acts as the faculty advisor and director of the student dance group Dancentral. She also teaches dance and fitness at local studios and works as a stage manager for regional dance companies and for CCSU. Erica is on the Board of Directors for The Connecticut Dance Alliance serving as the Hartford Regional Coordinator. She is the Founder and Artistic Director of The END Ensemble, a project-based contemporary dance company. They have shown work throughout Hartford, Boston, and New York, and at dance festivals throughout New England. You can find them on Facebook and Instagram at @theendensemble and at www.theendensemble.org

Iker Ozbelli (Dance Faculty/Choreographer) was born in Turkey. He is an experienced Ballroom Dance Instructor with 20 years of experience teaching students in one-on-one and group settings.
