5. Online classes don’t have to be “remote”

The lack of hands-on, interactive classroom learning has many students feeling less motivated. But not all virtual learning is equal. Schools leveraging sophisticated H5P technology and extensive faculty development in virtual teaching have found new effective ways to deliver online and hybrid classes. So look for institutions with a proven track record of making online learning more engaging.

CEU offers the quality, experiential learning opportunities you need to keep moving forward with your college studies at a far lower cost. Whether you transfer for one semester or longer, we’ll make your transition as smooth as possible. To learn more, visit our Transfer Information page at http://www.ceu.edu.
