YOUR MOST IMPORTANT INVESTMENT

At Central Connecticut State University, we believe a great education doesn’t have to be costly.

That’s why we provide many benefits of a private university—like our 15:1 ratio of students to faculty—at an affordable, public university tuition. In fact, we have the lowest tuition of any four-year university in Connecticut. And with financial aid, this incredible value gets even better.

Your financial aid package has been tailored especially for you—including any applicable grants, scholarships, and loans—to give you an idea of exactly how much your CCSU education will cost. On the following pages, you’ll learn how to accept your financial aid package and take the next steps on your CCSU journey.

REMEMBER
We care about your financial stability—before, during, and after your time at CCSU. Our Office of Financial Literacy is always just a call or click away.

GRANTS: Funded by federal, state, or private sources. Grants do not have to be repaid.

FEDERAL WORK-STUDY: Provides funds to employ students who qualify for financial aid. Students awarded Work-Study may apply for part-time jobs on campus. Federal work study does not apply to University charges.
