

Central Connecticut State University Integrated Planning Council - Charge

Approved by the President (August 29, 2017)

Revised: July 24, 2019

The Integrated Planning Council (IPC) serves as the centralized planning, budgeting, and review committee at Central Connecticut State University. It advises the President on issues that affect the entire University, draw upon significant resources, and require input from across the institution. To that end, it reviews recommendations and proposals brought forward by Executive Committee members, as well as the University Planning and Budget Committee (UPBC) and Faculty Senate. The membership of the council includes Executive Committee members with substantial responsibilities for supporting the University's mission, representatives from the Faculty Senate and the UPBC, AAUP and SUOAF representation, the Curriculum Committee Chair, and the Graduate Student and Student Government Association Presidents.

The IPC promotes greater transparency with respect to strategic decisions. It develops and maintains an integrated strategic planning process that tracks high-profile university activities and initiatives through the process of planning, budgeting, implementation, and review. The IPC does not replace existing planning committees such as the UPBC and Facilities Planning Committee; rather, these committees provide recommendations to the IPC for review and final approval.
