

The School of Education and Professional Studies Accreditation Status - June 2021

CCSU's Educator Preparation Programs are accredited by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) through 12/31/22. This accreditation recognizes that our education programs have met national professional standards for the preparation of teachers and other educators. In NCATE's performance-based accreditation system, institutions must provide evidence of competent teacher candidate performance. Teacher candidates must know the subject matter they plan to teach and how to teach effectively so that all students learn.

Future Accreditation

Please note that, as of July 1, 2013, NCATE merged with the Teacher Education Accreditation Council (TEAC) to form the Council for the Accreditation of Educator Preparation (CAEP), a new accrediting body for educator preparation programs in the United States. This merger does not affect the accreditation status of CCSU's programs. Central CT State University is eligible for and will seek accreditation based on CAEP standards in Spring 2022, following our established accreditation cycle.
